KENNEDY MAKES U.S.PRO-BRITISH, LONDON IS TOLD

Has New Debt Plan, English Papers Say.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 24.—Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador, has been a powerful agent during his short stay in England in bringing American opinion around to support British government policy, dispatches from Washington, D. C., to London newspapers assert. The ambassador now is in the United States.

These dispatches, sent by British correspondents in the American capital, also insist that a plan to settle the war debts is afoot—a plan which would relieve the British from paying any interest on what they borrowed. Ambassador Kennedy is said to be the bearer of this tentative British war debt offer.

Puzzled by Comment on Pact.

Diplomats in London were puzzled by Kennedy's statements about the recent settlement between Ireland and England, characterizing it as a great triumph for the government of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

As a matter of fact, a row has developed over the Irish treaty because a member of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's Irish government made a speech recently declaring the Irish had "rolled" John Bull completely in this pact. Questions about the speech were raised in the house of commons.

The Daily Telegraph's Washington correspondent asserted today that Kennedy's visit to America has demonstrated the close understanding which now exists between Great Britain and the United States. His dispatch said:

"Political and diplomatic circles are impressed by the fact that he [Kennedy] has praised the British government so emphatically without causing criticism or hostile reaction.

Says Others Were Noncommittal.

"Previous American ambassadors to Great Britain, whatever their private views, have felt obliged to be noncommittal in public to avoid any accusation that they had succumbed to the 'blandishments' of their hosts and lost their 'rugged American outlook.'

"Above all it would have been fatal for any American ambassador to praise the British policy on Ireland. Yet Kennedy is able to say in Boston, which contains one of the largest Irish groups in the United States, that Chamberlain achieved notable and generous triumphs.

"It is not doubted that the Anglo-Irish settlement, more than any other feature of British policy, has consolidated a powerful and frequently hostile American political group behind the British government's program."

Kennedy Confers with Hull.

Washington, D. C., June 24.—Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain, who returned to this country early this week on a brief leave of absence, reached the capital today for conferences with officials. He plans to have more extended conversations with President Roosevelt in the next two days than were possible during his visit in Hyde Park.

Indications were that Ambassador Kennedy's discussions were of an informative character concerning latest development in Great Britain and in Europe.

His first call was on Secretary of State Cordell Hull, with whom he spent half an hour. He plans to return tomorrow for a more extended talk. Afterward Hull said they had a general exchange of information, but that no specific questions were discussed in detail.

Calls on Morgenthau.

Asked whether the ambassador had plans for settlement of the war debt, for simultaneous devaluation of currencies by Great Britain and the United States, or a speeding of the negotiation of an Anglo-American reciprocal trade agreement, Hull jokingly referred his questioners to newspaper reports.

During the afternoon Kennedy conferred with Secretary of the Treasury Henry A. Morgenthau. Treasury officials said it was customary for ambassadors to visit the secretary on their visits home. This is particularly the case with ambassadors to Britain or France, which are parties to the tri-partite monetary agreement, they added.

Kennedy was besieged by callers in his hotel suite, but found time to visit his old offices at the maritime commission and see many friends in the capital.

City Demands 3% of Car Line Receipts

ALDERMEN ASK FRANCHISE TO FORCE PAYMENT

Want Return for Use of City Streets.

The city council's local transportation committee yesterday instructed the corporation counsel to prepare a temporary ninety day franchise ordinance under which the Chicago Surface Lines would pay the city 3 per cent of their gross receipts for use of the city streets. This would amount to nearly $1,500,000 yearly, based on gross earnings of approximately 50 million dollars in 1937 and in 1936.

William H. Sexton, counsel for the committee, was also instructed to inform Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson of the pending ordinance at a federal court hearing Tuesday. The street car companies are in receivership in the federal courts, and the city will seek, when the ordinance is passed, to have Judge Wilkerson instruct receivers for the companies to operate the lines under the provisions of the franchise.

No Collections Since 1931.

If the city wins its point it will collect its first compensation from the surface lines since 1931. Under the 1907 traction ordinance the lines were required to pay into the city traction fund 55 per cent of all net earnings in excess of 5 per cent on the agreed value of the properties. Earnings fell below the 5 per cent figure in 1931.

Since the street car security holders' rights to the 5 per cent earnings are cumulative, a deficit of about $11,000,000 has been piled up, which must be paid off from earnings over 5 per cent before the traction fund gets any more money.

Passage of the proposed franchise would have the effect, however, of wiping out provisions of the 1907 ordinance so far as they applied to compensation, and substituting the flat 3 per cent payment. The ordinance legally expired in 1927, but has been kept alive by the so-called day to day extensions, of which the council has passed about fifty in the last eleven years, permitting continued operation of street cars.

Kelly for New Ordinance.

Mayor Kelly attended the committee meeting and urged passage of the new compensation ordinance on the ground that it would do the city no harm and probably will force the traction companies to take action toward a permanent franchise.

"Nothing will happen if you take the old franchise away," Mayor Kelly assured the committee. "The street cars will keep on running. The only difference is that we may get some compensation for the use of our streets.

"Your committee and your experts are the only ones who have done anything constructive toward solution of the traction problem. They drew up a plan in January, 1937. They submitted that plan. The surface lines have refused even to comment on it.

Assails Lack of Action.

"Up to now certain interests in those companies have done nothing in the belief that they had a perpetual franchise. That may have been true up to the passage of the home rule act. It may have been true up to the development of buses, because the only way the city could get rid of the street car companies was to pay approximately $170,000,000 for their properties. Now, however, we can substitute bus operation if they continue in their refusal to deal.

"This action of the committee will indicate to the Chicago Surface Lines that we mean business."

As an officer of the federal court Guy A. Richardson, receiver and operating head of the Chicago Surface lines, declined to comment on the city's new compensation plan until it has been presented to Judge Wilkerson.

Yesterday was a busy day for Henry Hoch, 23 years old, and his wife, Lucille, 20, of 2157 North Claremont avenue, because they had to get ready for the wedding party of two friends who are to be married tonight. To get ready meant that Hoch had to repair his second-hand automobile, and his wife had to buy a new party dress.

Hoch, a printing company employé, was working on his car in the rear garage at 2045 Lyndale street. He was covered with oil and grease, but he didn't mind that. Along about 4:30 p. m. his wife wheeled their only child, Irlaine, 15 months old, up to the garage. Irlaine was sleeping.

Leaves Child with Father.

"If you'll take care of the baby, I'll go out and buy a new dress," said Mrs. Hoch.

"Sure, leave her here," said Hoch. His wife went away. Irlaine, still sleeping, was wheeled to a point outside the open door of the garage, behind the automobile. As it stood, the automobile wasn't drivable. Its gasoline tank had been removed. So had its carburetor and several other vital parts. But the starter was still connected.

Hoch returned to his work. Tinkering with the motor, he accidentally touched the starter wires. Something happened. The starter roared. At the same instant the automobile, its gears having inadvertently been left in reverse, leaped backward down the slope of the garage floor toward the alley, and out of the garage.

Pins Baby Against Wall.

The car struck the carriage in which little Irlaine was sleeping, pushed it across the concrete alley, and pinned it and the baby against the wall.

Irlaine received chest and head injuries. Her horrified father carried her to the office of Dr. M. M. Taylor, 1949 Fullerton avenue, who took her to the North Avenue hospital. Irlaine died there at 7 p. m.

The grief stricken father was taken to the Shakespeare avenue station for a statement. Later he left to go home to break the news to his wife. That was at 9 p. m. But he did not get there. Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning Mrs. Hoch, who had been informed of the tragedy by police, reported her husband was missing. She feared for his safety.

10 BUILDINGS VANISH BEFORE WPA CREWS CAN TEAR THEM DOWN

Wanted—A gang of men who have stolen several buildings in Chicago recently. Any one with information might communicate with Commissioner of Public Works Oscar E. Hewitt. He's interested.

Police were ordered yesterday to be on the lookout for men wrecking buildings without proper authority. Commissioner Allman issued the order after Hewitt complained that several condemned structures have disappeared in the last few weeks before WPA workmen got around to tearing them down for the city. Under an agreement with property owners, the city has been wrecking buildings in return for the salvage of the materials.

Last Friday the WPA got a permit to tear down a frame dwelling at 1434 Hudson avenue. By Monday, when the wreckers reported for work, the building was gone. A three story building at 1237 Huron street faded away in similar fashion. In all there have been about ten.

Horse Thief Sleuths Meet and Organize to Carry On

Garnavillo, Ia., June 24.—[Special.]—The Garnavillo Horse Thief Detectives' association held its seventieth annual meeting and elected a full slate of officers and riders to carry on for another year. The Garnavillo association has a record of no horse thief ever caught, but in seventy years no horse has been stolen in its territory.

Squirrel Bites Oak Park Girl; Rabies Test Started

The state health department yesterday was examining for rabies the head of a squirrel that on Thursday bit Mary Lock, 11 years old, 1110 Holley court, Oak Park. The child picked up the animal after it had been run over by an automobile and it sank its teeth into her finger. Her father, Donald J. Lock, was forced to kill it with a club to free Mary.

Spokane, Wash., June 24.—(AP)—William D. Wylie, a CCC enrollee at the Seven Mile camp near here, was struck by lightning and didn't even know it until companions told him. Shaking a tingling arm, Wylie remarked: "It must have been darned poor lightning," and picked up his ax.

Body of Chum Found; Search for M'Cormick

Albuquerque, N. M., June 24.—(AP)—The body of Richard Whitmer, 20 years old, was found tonight in the Sandia mountains, but mystery still shrouded the fate of his mountain climbing companion, John Medill McCormick.

Young Whitmer's body, with a deep gash in the back of the head, was found at the base of "The Shield," a precipitous cliff. It was brought by stretcher to Juan Tabo CCC camp, at the base of the range, and was identified as night brought a halt to the search for McCormick.

Gov. Clyde Tingley and Adj. Gen. R. C. Charlton, heading the search, explained the terrain in which Whitmer's body was found was so rough and precipitous that a night search would only endanger other lives. The search will be resumed early tomorrow.

Day's Jaunt Planned.

McCormick, 21 years old, is the son of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Simms, former Republican congresswoman from Illinois, and the late United States Senator Medill McCormick. His mother now is the wife of Albert G. Simms, an Albuquerque attorney.

McCormick set out Wednesday on a hiking trip with young Whitmer, son of the late T. E. Whitmer, a wealthy Albuquerque lumberman, and Mrs. Whitmer, who now is in France.

They left in Whitmer's small automobile, planning to drive to a canyon 14 miles east of here, where they would park the car and climb 2,000 feet up the northernmost peak of the Sandia range. Expecting to return the same night, they took no equipment for a longer stay. Earlier tonight their car was found at the foot of Sandia peak.

Plane Circles Canyons.

Mr. and Mrs. Simms expressed belief the youths might have been caught in the heavy rain that swept the mountains late Wednesday and might have made camp in a sheltered canyon. Their apprehension grew, however, when the storm cleared yesterday and the two did not return.

Fearful that the youths might have fallen while climbing the peak, the Simms organized a search. A soil conservation service plane circled the canyons and mountain peaks while posses on horseback and afoot searched on the ground.

PRESIDENT'S AIDS GO GUNNING FOR A HOUSE LEADER

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 24.—[Special.]—Anti-Roosevelt Democrats expressed amusement today when they learned that the President's board of strategy, including such political amateurs as James Roosevelt and Thomas G. [Tommy the Cork] Corcoran, is actively backing William E. Dodd Jr. in his primary campaign against Representative Howard W. Smith [D., Va.], conservative member of the powerful house rules committee. Young Dodd's father is a former professor of history at the University of Chicago and until recently was President Roosevelt's ambassador to Germany.

William E. Dodd Jr.

The disclosure of the undertaking by the President's elimination committee to unseat Representative Smith was the first indication of any attempted purge of recalcitrant house members from the Democratic party, although the administration began making plans last fall to defeat in the primaries this year nine Democratic senators who opposed the scheme to pack the Supreme court.

Iowa Rebuff Recalled.

The exception in Representative Smith's case is said to be the exclusive project of the President's amateur advisers, the same ones who intervened unsuccessfully in the Iowa primary, supporting Representative Otha D. Wearin against Senator Guy M. Gillette, one of the nine senators proscribed because of their opposition to the court packing bill.

The professionals of the Roosevelt administration are taking no part in the attempted purge of Representative Smith because they regard it as a futile blunder destined for the same fate as the Iowa fiasco. Remaining aloof in the Smith case are Postmaster General James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee; House Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas, and the Democratic congressional campaign committee, headed by Representative Lawrence Lewis of Colorado.

Majority Leader Rayburn wrote a personal letter to every Democratic member of the house when congress adjourned last week, praising all of them for their loyalty either to the Roosevelt administration or the house organization, and expressing the hope that they would be returned.

Dodd at White House.

The amateur politicos, however, are planning active support of the youthful Dodd, apparently with the President's sanction. Dodd was a White House caller about two weeks ago and since then several conferences in his behalf have been attended by

DEFENDS FIGHT ON DEMOCRATS WHO BOLTED HIM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 24.—[Special.]—In a nationally broadcast fireside chat that was in reality an undisguised campaign speech, President Roosevelt tonight sought to divide the nation into two camps, liberals and conservatives, and carry the fall elections for the candidates who support his policies.

He declared himself the leader of the liberals and characterized as conservatives all who oppose him. He urged that conservatives be driven from office. The President's declaration made official the purge of the Democratic party which the nation has known to be under way in primary elections for several weeks.

Wants Congress Support.

He held it is his privilege, as leader of the liberals, to interfere in state election campaigns wherever necessary to defeat conservative candidates. He made it plain that he wants the next congress made up of men who will put through the administration measures that were beaten by the 75th congress.

In this connection Mr. Roosevelt said that unless something unforseen develops there will be no extra session of the 75th congress. Although he declared that the congress just adjourned achieved more for the good of the country than any between the end of the world war and the spring of 1933, he recognized the rebellion that has arisen in the Democratic party over administration legislation.

Blames Omissions In Part.

The present depression he blamed in part on the omissions of the 75th congress, though he included capital and labor and—to a small degree—himself in the responsibility.

"Last year," the President said, "mistakes were made by the leaders of private enterprise, by the leaders of labor, and by the leaders of government—all three."

Leaders of private enterprise, he continued, pleaded for curtailment of government spending, intending to take up the slack themselves, but increased their inventories too fast and set their prices too high.

Labor leaders, said the President, went too far not only by frightening people but in engaging in disputes while asking employers to bargain with them.

Explains Heavy Spending.

Government, he concluded, erred in believing capital and labor would not err, and by failing to pass a farm bill and a wages and hours bill last year.

Mr. Roosevelt developed this theme as a device for shifting to private enterprise and labor much of the blame for the government's current heavy spending.

"As a result of the lessons of all these mistakes," he said, "we hope that in the future private enterprise—capital and labor alike—will cooperate more intelligently together, and in greater coöperation with their own government than they have in the past. Such coöperation on the part of both of them will be very welcome to me. . . .

"If this is done it ought to result in conditions which will replace a great part of the government spending which the failure of this coöperation made necessary this year."

Expects Many Clashes.

Returning to his theme of liberalism and conservatism, the President intimated—as did Postmaster General James A. Farley in 1936—that the fall campaign will be an acrimonious one.

There will be many clashes between the two schools of thought, he declared, adding: "This being a free country, with freedom of expression—and freedom of the press—there will be a lot of mean blows struck between now and election day. By 'blows I mean misrepresentation, personal attack, and appeals to prejudice. It would be a lot better, of course, if campaigns everywhere could be waged with arguments instead of blows."

ROOSEVELT SPEECH TEXT

"Our government, happily, is a democracy. As part of the democratic progress your President is again taking an opportunity to report on the progress of national affairs to the real rulers of this country—the voting public.

"The 75th congress, elected in November, 1936, on a platform uncompromisingly liberal, has adjourned. Barring unforeseen events there will be no session until the new congress, to be elected in November, assembles next January.

"On the one hand, the 75th congress has left many things undone.

"For example, it refused to provide more businesslike machinery for running the executive branch of the government. The congress also failed to meet my suggestion that it take the far-reaching steps necessary to put the railroads of the country back on their feet.

"But, on the other hand, the congress, striving to carry out the platform on which most of them were elected, achieved more for the future good of the country than any congress between the end of the world war and the spring of 1933.

"I mention only the more important of these achievements.

"1. It improved still further our agricultural laws to give the farmer a fairer share of the national income, to preserve our soil, to provide an all-weather granary, to help the farm tenant toward independence, to find new uses for farm products, and to begin crop insurance.

Points to Labor Act.

"2. After many requests on my part the congress passed a fair labor standards act. That act—applying to products in interstate commerce—ends child labor, sets a floor below wages and a ceiling over hours of labor.

"Except, perhaps, for the social security act, it is the most farsighted program for the benefit of workers ever adopted. Without question it starts us toward a better standard of living and increases purchasing power to buy the products of farm and factory.

"Do not let any calamity howling executive with an income of $1,000 a day, who has been turning his employés over to the government relief rolls in order to preserve his company's undistributed reserves, tell you—using his stockholders' money to pay the postage for his personal opinions—that a wage of $11 a week is going to have a disastrous effect on all American industry. Fortunately for business as a whole, and therefore for the nation, that type of executive is a rarity with whom most business executives heartily disagree.

Cites Monopoly Quiz.

"3. The congress has provided a fact finding commission to find a path through the jungle of contradictory theories about wise business practices—to find the necessary facts for any intelligent legislation on monopoly, on price fixing, and on the relationship between big business and little business.

"Different from a great part of the world, we in America persist in our belief in individual enterprise and in the profit motive; but we realize we must continually seek improved practices to insure the continuance of reasonable profits, together with scientific progress, individual initiative, opportunities for the little fellow, fair prices, decent wages, and continuing employment.

"4. The congress has coördinated the supervision of commercial aviation and air mail by establishing a new civil aeronautics authority; and it has placed all postmasters under the civil service for the first time in our history.

Housing Act Changed.

"5. The congress set up the United States Housing administration to help finance large scale slum clearance and provide low rent housing for the low income groups in our cities. And by improving the federal housing act the congress made it easier for private capital to build modest homes and low rental dwellings.

"6. The congress has properly reduced taxes on small corporate enterprises, and has made it easier for the Reconstruction Finance corporation to make credit available to all business. I think the bankers of the country can fairly be expected to participate in loans where the government, through the Reconstruction Finance corporation, offers to take a fair portion of the risk.

"7. The congress has provided additional funds for the Works Progress administration, the Public Works administration, the Rural Electrification administration, the Civilian Conservation corps, and other agencies, in order to take care of what we hope is a temporary additional number of unemployed and to encourage production of every kind by private enterprise.

"All these things together I call our program for the national defense of our economic system. It is a program of balanced action—of moving on all fronts at once in intelligent recognition that all our economic problems, of every group, of every section, are essentially one.

"8. Because of increasing armaments in other nations and an international situation which is definitly disturbing to all of us, the congress has authorized important additions to the national armed defense of our shores and our people.

Court Changes, He Says.

"On another important subject the net result of a struggle in the congress has been an important victory for the people of the United States—a lost battle which won a war.

"You will remember that on Feb. 5, 1937, I sent a message to the congress dealing with the real need of federal court reforms of several kinds. In one way or another, during the sessions of this congress, the ends—the real objectives—sought in the message, have been substantially attained.

"The attitude of the Supreme court toward constitutional questions is entirely changed. Its recent decisions are eloquent testimony of a willingness to collaborate with the two other branches of government to make democracy work. The government has been granted the right to protect its interests in litigation between private parties involving the constitutionality of federal statutes, and to appeal directly to the Supreme court in all cases involving the constitutionality of federal statutes; and no single judge is any longer empowered to suspend a federal statute on his sole judgment as to its constitutionality.

Justices of the Supreme court may now retire at the age of 70 after ten years' service; a substantial number of additional judgeships have been created in order to expedite the trial of cases; and greater flexibility has been added to the federal judicial system by allowing judges to be assigned to congested districts.

Sees Sane Liberalism.

"Another indirect accomplishment of this congress has been its response to the devotion of the American people to a course of sane, consistent liberalism. The congress has understood that under modern conditions government has a continuing responsibility to meet continuing problems, and that government cannot take a holiday of a year, a month, or even a day just because a few people are tired or frightened by the inescapable pace of this modern world in which we live.

"Some of my opponents and some of my associates have considered that I have a mistakenly sentimental judgment as to the tenacity of purpose and the general level of intelligence of the American people.

"I am still convinced that the American people, since 1932, continue to insist on two requisites of private enterprise, and the relationship of government to it. The first is complete honesty at the top in looking after the use of other people's money, and in apportioning and paying individual and corporate taxes according to ability to pay. The second is sincere respect for the need of all at the bottom to get work—and through work to get a really fair share of the good things of life, and a chance to save and rise.

Sticks to Reform Program.

"After the election of 1936 I was told, and the congress was told, by an increasing number of politically—and worldly—wise people that I should coast along, enjoy and easy presidency for four years, and not take the Democratic platform too seriously. They told me that people were getting weary of reform through political effort and would no longer oppose that small minority which, in spite of its own disastrous leadership in 1929, is always eager to resume its control over the government of the United States.

"Never in our lifetime has such a concerted campaign of defeatism been thrown at the heads of the President and senators and congressmen as in the case of this seventy-fifth congress. Never before have we had so many copperheads—and you will remember it was the copperheads who, in the days of the war between the states, tried their best to make Lincoln and his congress give up the fight, let the nation remain split in two, and return to peace—peace at any price.

Congratulates Congress.

"This congress has ended on the side of the people. My faith in the American people—and their faith in themselves—have been justified. I congratulate the congress and the leadership thereof and I congratulate the American people on their own staying power.

"One word about our economic situation. It makes no difference to me whether you call it a recession or a depression. In 1932 the total national income of all the people in the country had reached the low point of 38 billion dollars in that year. With each succeeding year it rose. Last year, 1937, it had risen to 70 billion dollars—despite definitly worse business and agricultural prices in the last four months of last year.

"This year, 1938, while it is too early to do more than give an estimate, we hope that the national income will not fall below 60 billion dollars. We remember also that banking and business and farming are not falling apart like the one-hoss shay, as they did in the terrible winter of 1932-'33.

Mistakes Are Reviewed.

"Last year mistakes were made by the leaders of private enterprise, by the leaders of labor, and by the leaders of government—all three.

"Last year the leaders of private enterprise pleaded for a sudden curtailment of public spending, and said they would take up the slack. But they made the mistake of increasing their inventories too fast and setting many of their prices too high for their goods to sell.

"Some labor leaders, goaded by decades of oppression of labor, made the mistake of going too far. They were not wise in using methods which frightened many well wishing people. They asked employers not only to bargain with them but to put up with jurisdictional disputes at the same time.

"Government, too, made mistakes—mistakes of optimism in assuming that industry and labor would themselves make no mistakes—and government made a mistake of timing in not passing a farm bill or a wage and hour bill last year.

Asks for Coöperation.

"As a result of the lessons of all these mistakes we hope that in the future private enterprise—capital and labor alike—will operate more intelligently together, and in greater cooperation with their own government than they have in the past. Such cooperation on the part of both of them will be very welcome to me. Certainly at this stage there should be a united stand on the part of both of them to resist wage cuts which would further reduce purchasing power.

"Today a great steel company announced a reduction in prices with a view to stimulating business recovery, and I was gratified to know that this reduction involved no wage cut. Every encouragement should be given to industry which accepts a large volume-high wage policy.

"If this is done, it ought to result in conditions which will replace a great part of the government spending which the failure of coöperation made necessary this year.

"From March 4, 1933, down, not a single week has passed without a cry from the opposition 'to do something, to say something, to restore confidence.' There is a very articulate group of people in this country, with plenty of ability to procure publicity for their views, who have consistently refused to coöperate with the mass of the people, whether things were going well or going badly, on the ground that they required more concessions to their point of view before they would admit having what they called 'confidence.'

Want Confidence Restored.

"These people demanded 'restoration of confidence' when the banks were closed—and again when the banks were reopened.

"They demanded 'restoration of confidence' when hungry people were thronging the streets—and again when the hungry people were fed and put to work.

"They demanded 'restoration of confidence' when drouth hit the country—and again now when our fields are laden with bounteous yields and excessive crops.

"They demanded 'restoration of confidence' last year when the automobile industry was running three shifts and turning out more cars than the country could buy—and again this year when the industry is trying to get rid of an automobile surplus and has shut down its factories as a result.

Predicts More Coöperation.

"It is my belief that many of these people who have been crying aloud for 'confidence' are beginning today to realize that that hand has been overplayed and that they are now willing to talk coöperation instead. It is my belief that the mass of the American people do have confidence in themselves—have confidence in their ability, with the aid of government, to solve their own problems.

"It is because you are not satisfied, and I am not satisfied, with the progress we have made in finally solving our business and agricultural and social problems that I believe the great majority of you want your own government to keep on trying to solve them. In simple frankness and in simple honesty I need all the help I can get—and I see signs of getting more help in the future from many who have fought against progress with tooth and nail.

"And now following out this line of thought, I want to say a few words about the coming political primaries.

"Fifty years ago party nominations were generally made in conventions—a system typified in the public imagination by a little group in a smoke filled room who made out the party slates.

"The direct primary was invented to make the nominating process a more democratic one—to give the party voters themselves a chance to pick their party candidates.

"What I am going to say to you tonight does not relate to the primaries of any particular political party, but to matters of principles in all parties—Democratic, Republican, Farmer-Labor, Progressive, Socialist, or any other. Let that be clearly understood.

Urges All to Vote.

"It is my hope that everybody affiliated with any party will vote in the primaries, and that every such voter will consider the fundamental principles for which his party is on record. That makes for a healthy choice between the candidates of the opposing parties on election day in November.

"An election cannot give a country a firm sense of direction if it has two or more national parties which merely have different names but are as alike in their principles and aims as peas in the same pod.

"In the coming primaries in all parties there will be many clashes between two schools of thought, generally classified as liberal and conservative. Roughly speaking, the liberal school of thought recognizes that the new conditions throughout the world call for new remedies.

Favors New Remedies.

"Those of us in America who hold to this school of thought insist that these new remedies can be adopted and successfully maintained in this country under our present form of government if we use government as an instrument of coöperation to provide these remedies. We believe that we can solve our problems through continuing effort, through democratic processes instead of Fascism or communism. We are opposed to the kind of moratorium on reform which, in effect, is reaction itself.

"Be it clearly understood, however, that when I use the word 'liberal' I mean the believer in progressive principles of democratic, representative government and not the wild man who, in effect, leans in the direction of communism, for that is just as dangerous as Fascism.

Defines Conservatism.

"The opposing or conservative school of thought, as a general proposition, does not recognize the need for government itself to step in and take action to meet these new problems. It believes that individual initiative and private philanthropy will solve them—that we ought to repeal many of the things we have done and go back, for instance, to the old gold standard, or stop all this business of old age pensions and unemployment insurance, or repeal the securities and exchange act, or let monopolies thrive unchecked—return, in effect, to the kind of government we had in the twenties.

"Assuming the mental capacity of all the candidates, the important question which it seems to me the primary voter must ask is this: 'To which of these general schools of thought does the candidate belong?'

"As President of the United States I am not asking the voters of the country to vote for Democrats next November as opposed to Republicans or members of any other party. Nor am I, as President, taking part in Democratic primaries.

Defends Right to Speak.

"As head of the Democratic party, however, charged with the responsibility of carrying out the definitly liberal declaration of principles set forth in the 1936 Democratic platform, I feel that I have every right to speak in those few instances where there may be a clear issue between candidates for a Democratic nomination involving these principles, or involving a clear misuse of my own name.

"Do not misunderstand me. I certainly would not indicate a preference in a state primary merely because a candidate, otherwise liberal in outlook, had conscientiously differed with me on any single issue. I should be far more concerned about the general attitude of a candidate toward present day problems and his own inward desire to get practical needs attended to in a practical way.

"We all know that progress may be blocked by outspoken reactionaries and also by those who say 'yes' to a progressive objective but who always find some reason to oppose any specific proposal to gain that objective. I call that type of candidate a 'yes, but' fellow.

Defends Freedom of Speech.

"And I am concerned about the attitude of a candidate or his sponsors with respect to the rights of American citizens to assemble peaceably and to express publicly their views and opinions or important social and economic issues. There can be no constitutional democracy in any community which denies to the individual his freedom to speak and worship as he wishes. The American people will not be deceived by any one who attempts to suppress individual liberty under the pretense of patriotism.

"This being a free country, with freedom of expression—especially with freedom of the press—there will be a lot of mean blows struck between now and election day. By 'blows' I mean misrepresentation, personal attack, and appeals to prejudice. It would be a lot better, of course, if campaigns everywhere could be waged with arguments instead of blows.

Would Stick to Argument.

"I hope the liberal candidates will confine themselves to argument and not resort to blows. In nine cases out of ten the speaker or writer who, seeking to influence opinion, descends from calm argument to unfair blows hurts himself more than his opponent.

"The Chinese have a story on this—a story based on three or four thousand years of civilization: Two Chinese coolies were arguing heatedly in the midst of a crowd. A stranger expressed surprise that no blows were being struck. His Chinese friend replied: 'The man who strikes first admits that his ideas have given out.'

"I know that neither in the summer primaries nor in the November elections will the American voters fail to spot the candidate whose ideas have given out."

TRUSTED BOOKKEEPER HELD AS EMBEZZLER; CONFESSES SHORTAGE

Thomas R. Cole, 35 years old, formerly a trusted bookkeeper of the Chicago Law Printing company, 111 North Wacker drive, was under arrest yesterday at the Racine avenue station while investigators completed their examination of his books. Cole has been charged with a $2,000 embezzlement. To Capt. Martin Mullen Jr. he admitted taking $800 in small sums to pay for his wife's medical bills. Mrs. Cole died Monday in a hospital at Peoria. When he met the train which bore her body Cole was arrested.

U. S. NEEDS ECONOMIC REALISTS TO ADJUST BUDGET, LANTZ SAYS

America needs economic realists, not economic royalists, State Senator Simon E. Lantz of Congerville, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, told the annual banquet of the Evanston Young Republican club last night in the Georgian hotel.

"We need realists to balance the budget, eliminate waste in food distribution, and to preserve the sovereignty of the states and the liberties of the people," declared Senator Lantz, who is a downstate leader of agriculture.

Reduction of the cost of government by one-half, he said, would turn 4½ billion dollars into the buying field to absorb the products of agriculture and labor. He said farmers are becoming increasingly worried over the government's reciprocal trade treaties which, it was claimed, are giving foreign countries a great share of the domestic market.

Try to Unseat Member of Rules Committee.

son and Secretary James Roosevelt, "White House Tommy" Corcoran, and other administration strategists. It was learned, also, that Robert N. Anderson, a special assistant attorney general from Virginia, soon will take leave of absence to manage Dodd's campaign.

Anderson was a delegate to the Chicago Democratic convention in 1932 and was an active Roosevelt supporter from the outset, although he voted with the other members of the Virginia delegation on the first ballots for Senatory Harry F. Byrd.

Son James May Aid.

R. Walton Moore, counselor of the state department and a former member of the house from Representative Smith's district, is expected to exert his influence in support of Dodd's campaign. Also, at the time deemed appropriate, son James and perhaps other administration officials are expected to indorse Dodd's candidacy. James told the people of Florida that "we" wanted Senator Claude Pepper returned, and after Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, had indorsed Representative Wearin in his campaign against Senator Gillette, young Roosevelt sent a "my friend Otha" telegram to Iowa.

The administration is said to be particularly anxious to unhorse Representative Smith for two reasons: It would be a blow to the anti-Roosevelt Democratic organization headed by Senator Byrd and it would remove from the rules committee one of the most consistent opponents of the administration in the house. Mr. Smith voted against the reorganization "dictator" bill, the scheme for the political regulation of wages and hours, the 3 billion 723 million dollar relief and pump priming bill, and various other "must" measures.

Opposed Blacklist Bill.

One of his last unpardonable acts was to help bottle up the Walsh-Healey government contracts bill, proposing a blacklist of all corporations deemed to have violated the Wagner labor relations act. In doing this Representative Smith defied his Alexandria neighbor, John L. Lewis, dictator of the C. I. O., who had moved into the speaker's office with a "goon squad" to frighten members of the rules committee into submission.

The anti-Roosevelt Democrats were amused by the efforts to eliminate Representative Smith, because the regard him as one of the most "unbeatable" members of the house. Elected in 1930, he is so strong in his district that he had no primary opposition in 1932, 1934 and 1936. Virginia Democratic leaders predicted that he would receive an overwhelming majority even in Arlington county, where thousands of government pay rollers who work in Washington have their homes.

The administration's attempted purge of intransigeant Democratic senators, meanwhile, is meeting further reverses. Senator Augustine Lonergan [D., Conn.], one of the nine originally marked for political slaughter, will have no primary opposition, it now appears, because of the collapse of the administration's boom for Assistant Attorney General Brien McMahon.

Back Roosevelt Foes.

Democratic county chairmen in three other states, Georgia, South Carolina, and Maryland, have spoken out in overwhelming proportions for the renomination of the three conservative, anti-court packing senators who are at the top of the administration's purge list. The senators are Millard E. Tydings [D., Md.], who is opposed by Representative David J. Lewis; Ellison D. Smith, [D., S. C.], who is opposed by Gov. Olin D. Johnston, and Walter F. George, [D., Ga.], who is opposed by United States District Attorney Lawrence A. Camp.

At his press conference today, President Roosevelt refused to comment on the announcement of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York, that he would seek the senate seat left vacant by the death of Senator Royal S. Copeland. Some observers have predicted that the administration would oppose Gov. Lehman's candidacy because his letter last summer to Senator Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.] denouncing the court packing bill, was called "a stab in the back" by President Roosevelt.

PRESIDENT PUTS HIS PAY ROLLERS IN CIVIL SERVICE

Blanket Decree Protects U. S. Workers' Jobs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 24.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt blanketed all administration employés under civil service today by executive order. All employés of emergency units will be given the security of civil service on Feb. 1, 1939, except in units exempted from the merit system by statute.

A second order assured the employés of their jobs against displeasure of future administrations. The second ruling tightened regulations against political activity and against religious discrimination, and at the same time provided that no employé should suffer because of his political or religious beliefs.

Day of Feverish Activity.

On his arrival at his desk after an absence of eight days, which began on the adjournment of congress June 16, when he left to attend the wedding of his youngest son, John, and Miss Anne Clarke at Nahant, Mass., the President plunged into a round of conferences.

During the day he asserted that the army and navy should have additional funds to counteract espionage; named noncongressional members of the committee which will investigate monopoly in business and industry; told the press that he is confident that an upswing will come in the nation's business as a result of his pump-priming program, and stole away from official business to chat with Shirley Temple, diminutive screen star.

Prepares to Leave Again.

The President also found time to plan for his departure from the capital. He will leave Sunday for Wilmington, Del., where he will spend the night with his son, Franklin, and the latter's wife, the former Ethel du Pont. Monday he will participate in ceremonies at Wilmington commemorating the contribution of the Swedish colonists to this nation.

From Wilmington he will return to Hyde Park. Next Thursday he will make an automobile excursion to the New York 1939 world's fair for two dedicatory speeches. July 3 he will pause at Gettysburg, Pa., for the observances of the anniversary of the great civil war battle and then return to the White House.

On July 7 he will begin the cross-country swing in which he will pay political debts to congressional supporters en route to a fishing cruise off the west coast of South America.

Order Affects 100,000.

The President's civil service order extended the merit system's benefits upward, outward, and downward to embrace 100,000 persons who have been placed on the pay roll through the bureaus created by his administration.

It was the culmination of a steady process under which various units have been taken into the merit system one by one. The order, one of twenty pages, was described by civil service officials as the most sweeping that could be made under present statutory restrictions.

Through the order, it was said, the President will leave the influence of his policy on the government through his followers for many years to come. New appointees will not be affected, however, until the commission establishes rules and regulations for their admission.

Comments on Spy Disclosures.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted that the army and navy should have more funds with which to counteract espionage in commenting upon the New York spy disclosure. At present the government hasn't the funds to cope with what he described as a most serious situation.

He condemned the action of Leon G. Turrou, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, who resigned his post after rounding up the spy ring in order to sell the story of his work for a news syndicate.

Also at his press conference Mr. Roosevelt scouted reports that the dollar is to be devalued further. He was confident and optimistic that recovery will come as a result of the federal spending program.

He said that he still has some 200 bills on his desk awaiting his study and signature. He will act upon these during the next few days, he said.

Late in the afternoon he named the six noncongressional members to the broad investigation of monopoly. Those who will serve on the joint investigating committee are Richard C. Patterson Jr., assistant secretary of commerce; Isadore Lubin of the department of labor; Jerome Frank and Chairman William O. Douglas of the Securities and Exchange commission; Assistant Attorney General Thurman W. Arnold, and Garland Ferguson, representing the federal trade commission.

GIRL, 3, IS SWEPT OUT OF FATHER'S ARMS TO DEATH

Flood Maroons Family in Creek Near Rockford.

A Wheaton child, 3 years old, was swept to her death yesterday in flood-choked Pine creek, thirty miles southwest of Rockford. A cloudburst had marooned the girl, her baby sister, and her parents on top of the family car in the middle of the creek for three hours.

The child, Phyllis Jackson, was torn from the arms of her father, Phil Jackson, a draftsman employed by the WPA in Wheaton, as CCC boys from the camp at Oregon were bringing the family to safety.

Car Stalls in Creek.

The Jacksons were stopping in Pines Stake park when the storm broke. Their car stalled as they were trying to ford the swollen creek. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson took the two children, Phyllis and Patricia, who is 2 years old, and climbed on the car's roof. A park attendant summoned help from the CCC camp.

Youths from the camp reached the place with difficulty and forced a log, to which a chain had been attached, out to the car. The Jacksons climbed on the log, but as they neared the bank the current pulled Phyllis from the arms of her father and swept her downstream.

BOY DROWNS AT BEACH

The youngsters, Calvin, 11 years old; Carl, 9, and Glen, 6, ate their lunches and played in the sand several hours, then the older boys decided to go swimming.

While Glen waited on the speed boat landing pier at the north end of the beach his brothers waded into the water nearby which is barred to swimmers and used by speed boats as a harbor. About 50 feet out they lost their footing and were swept beneath the surface.

Calvin Rescued by Boy.

On the pier Sam Sargis, 13 years old 2646 Orchard avenue, noticed Glen weeping. "My brothers went in the water and didn't come back," the child sobbed. Sam, fully clothed, leaped in and soon he pulled out Calvin, who was revived by artificial respiration by Sam's companions.

Life guards training back on the beach for the coming swimming season were summoned and, forming a hand to hand chain, recovered Carl's body. Efforts by an inhalator squad to revive him were in vain. The boys' home is at 6508 Aberdeen street.

Prof. Holbrook of N. U. and Divorced Wife Rewed

The secret divorce last February of Dr. William C. Holbrook, associate professor of romance languages at Northwestern university, and Mrs. Ardys T. Holbrook was revealed yesterday as the result of their remarriage two days ago. The remarriage took place in the Marriage court in the county building. Dr. Holbrook is 38 years old and his wife is 35. They have two children, Daniel, 13, and Frances, 7. Their Evanston home is at 2005 Lunt avenue. Mrs. Holbrook went to Europe after the divorce. She returned last week and a reconciliation followed.

COUNTY SETTLES FOR $228,911 IN SWEITZER CASE

Bonding Firm Pays Off —Estate to Be Sued.

The county yesterday recovered part of the shortage in the accounts of the late Robert M. Sweitzer when the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company turned over a check for $228,911.35 as a compromise settlement of a judgment of $269,126.55 returned by a jury.

The company bonded Sweitzer during his six terms as county clerk during which an audit disclosed a shortage of $533,817 in his accounts. The county filed suit against the surety but due to the statute of limitations and other technical considerations sought only to recover the shortages during Sweitzer's last three terms.

Abandon Contest of Judgment.

On June 13, a jury before Judge Daniel P. Trude granted the county's demands and yesterday Judge Trude was to have ruled on technical arguments of the company to set aside the judgment.

Assistant State's Attorney Jacob Shamberg and Attorney Egbert Robertson, counsel for the surety, announced, however, they had reached a settlement. The difference between the judgment and the settlement, Shamberg said, was $40,315.20. This amount, he said, represented county funds which Sweitzer had on deposit in the old Graham bank when it closed in 1918 and was barred by the statute of limitations.

Six thousand dollars, representing interest Sweitzer received on county funds, will be paid to County Treasurer Horace Lindheimer while the balance will be turned over to County Clerk Michael J. Flynn for payment of claims against the county.

Shamberg said that claims for the balance of the Sweitzer shortages, amounting to $304,906, will be filed in probate court against his estate. Sweitzer died April 6. He left an estate estimated at $25,000.

Sweitzer served as county clerk from 1910 to 1934 when he was elected county treasurer. He was ousted from that office in 1935 after the shortages were found in his accounts as clerk. He was subsequently indicted on criminal charges of withholding county funds but was acquitted by a jury.

Homeless in Montana Wait Vainly for Floods to Drop

Havre, Mont., June 24.—(AP)—Farmers made homeless by floods in the valley flats of the Milk river in north-central Montana, which have taken nine lives, today awaited vainly for subsidence of the waters. Rain ranging to cloudburst proportions has pounded over every section of Montana in 24 hours, creating flash floods similar to the Custer creek flood that weakened a trestle through which a Milwaukee railroad train plunged early Sunday, killing an estimated total of 46.

RICHARD WHITNEY'S PEDIGREED HORSES BOUGHT AT AUCTION

The best horse on the farm, Shasta Negra, a black mare which won eighteen races and is soon to foal, was sold to R. S. Reynolds Jr. of Richmond, Va., for $420. Other pedigreed animals, jumpers, and hunters brought prices from $120 to $155. Whitney's riding saddle went for $35.

A county fair atmosphere hung over the scene as 500 persons sat in folding chairs under a gayly colored awning and watched the proceedings.

TORNADO STRIKES IN WILL COUNTY; FARMS DAMAGED

A baby tornado swept through a section of Will county, north of Joliet, late yesterday, and uprooted trees, smashed several barns and upset two box cars and did other general property damage.

No one was injured. The twister coursed through farmland area and missed towns. Dozens of persons saw the windstorm and described its physical appearance as funnel-shaped, establishing it as a tornado.

Winds and high rains were general yesterday, and the wind, apart from the Will county disturbance, caused considerable property damage. Heavy fog, pushed inland by a lake breeze, covered suburbs last night and early today. For hours the fog had settled only over the lake front. Driving became hazardous.

MILLION GRANTED BY PWA FOR 3 PARK PROJECTS

Park officials were notified yesterday that the Public Works administration at Washington had allowed them a grant of $1,062,458 for three major park improvements which will cost $2,361,018. The difference will be made up from park funds.

The improvements, Assistant Park Engineer W. I. Bell said, will provide work for about 800 men and will take about a year and a half to complete.

Plan Park Water System.

One of the projects is for construction of a new water system in Lincoln park. Pumps will be installed in the Montrose avenue pumping station and will feed 50,000 feet of water mains. The cost of this work is $1,128,818, of which the PWA allowed a grant of $504,818.

Funds totaling $360,000 were made available for construction of a bathing beach at North avenue. Work includes a pier, submerged bulkhead, beach house, grade separation structures, paving and landscaping. The total cost is $800,000. The park board was also given a grant of $197,640 for construction of a new viaduct over the Illinois Central railroad tracks at Monroe street at a cost of $439,200.

Other grants in the Chicago area are: $56,045 for a community building and bathhouse at Blue Island; $22,815 for pump houses at Deerfield, and $26,181 for a school at Mount Prospect.

Kelly Confident of Grants.

Mayor Kelly returned to Chicago from Washington yesterday and discussed in detail the city's $62,000,000 public improvements program. The mayor said he is confident the city will receive grants of more than 27 million dollars from the PWA. He presented the city's plans Thursday to Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes.

Secretary Ickes, the mayor said, was favorably impressed with the $31,000,000 plan for three loop subways. The city is seeking $14,328,000 in PWA funds for construction of the subways. He predicted that actual work would be started in 90 days.

The mayor explained that the city's share of $17,512,000 could be financed either by a loan from the federal government against which the city could pledge securities now in the traction fund, the sale of the securities in the fund, or the issuance of 20 year subway bonds.

221 MILLION TOTAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 24.—[Special.]—Presidential approval of Public Works administration pump priming projects today reached the 221 million dollar mark.

During the day approval was announced for 609 projects, which brought the total of projects approved during the last three days to 1,755. For the day loans totaled $9,840,000 and grants $72,314,081 for construction which is expected to total $161,486,180.

All the projects which have been approved thus far are sponsored by local communities, which assume 55 per cent of the cost in order to obtain a 45 per cent contribution from the federal government. Allotments for the entire group of 1,755 projects, which are to cost $440,585,029, include loans of $24,258,500 and grants of $197,052,555.

The construction of these projects is expected to create about 3,544,000 man-months of direct and indirect employment. On the sites of the projects alone workers are expected to benefit to the extent of about $130,000,000 in wages. Other sums of money will go for the purchase of materials and transportation and other services.

ADMITS BARTER OF STOLEN CCC FOOD FOR LIQUOR

Widespread bartering of government food supplies for liquor was disclosed yesterday in the confession of a member of the Civilian Conservation corps camp at Glenview and Harms roads, west of Wilmette. For several months, he said, members of the corps at the camp have been stealing food from the commissary and obtaining liquor for it at nearby taverns and roadhouses.

The first of the thefts to be detected was that of a 200 pound sack of sugar taken by Henry Hawkins, a colored youth who works at the camp.

Yesterday when Hawkins was sentenced by Municipal Judge H. H. Porter of Evanston to ninety days in the Bridewell, he implicated William Thomas, colored, another CCC worker, in the thefts. Thomas was arrested and confessed his part in the commissary raids, but refused to involve any others.

The loot usually was handed in through rear doors of roadhouses and bottles of cheap whisky were handed out.

ASSERTS COURT IS SWAYED BY COUNSEL; FINED

After a $1,000 personal injury suit had been continued twelve times by various Municipal court judges, Attorney James P. Byrnes, representing the plaintif, charged yesterday that Ald. Z. H. Kadow [33d], the opposing counsel, was exerting his influence on the courts to obtain the continuances. Judge Frank M. Padden fined Byrnes $25 for contempt.

The plaintifi is Stanley Stafiej, a laborer, of 1623 North Greenview avenue, who was injured several months ago when he fell into an open manhole in front of the property of Konstanty Biedrzycki, at 1922 Hervey street, who is the defendant.

After the fine had been assessed, Byrnes challenged Judge Padden to make it $100. He then paid the $25 and withdrew the case, stating he is losing money through the delays. The case now is set for Monday.

Hay Fever Sufferers Left to Mercy of City by WPA

There will be no WPA weed eradication program for the benefit of hay fever sufferers this year, Charles E. Miner, state WPA administrator, said yesterday on his return from Washington where he conferred with Harry Hopkins, chief of the Works Progress administration. Miner said that the WPA has discontinued all projects deemed the usual maintenance functions of municipalities, and that weed eradication is now considered such.

SENATE CAUCUS HOLDS FATE OF HARMONY PLAN

New Tax Measures Placed in Passage Stage.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 24.—[Special.]—The two concurrent sessions of the Illinois legislature today recessed until Monday after having taken the first harmony action called for yesterday by a house Democratic caucus. Monday the senate Democratic caucus will approve, modify, or upset the program.

Before it concluded the week's meetings, the house of representatives sent the use and producers' taxes to third reading. All bills covered by the agreement, to which Gov. Henry Horner has given his sanction, are in the passage stage and can be sent to the senate Monday night if they survive roll calls.

The general talk at the recess was that the upper chamber may balk at the new taxes and the constitutional convention measures. This led to reports that in this event Horner might veto the $2,800,000 relief appropriation which he placed in the call for the second special session. He is counting on the new taxes to cover the $4,500,000 appropriation for the unemployed, made several weeks ago by the first session.

Denies Making Threat.

Apprised of this report, the governor issued a statement denying that he had made such a threat. He called attention, however, to the unanimous action of the house caucus in supporting the proposed new levies, as well as the other points, including the driver's license and motorists' financial responsibility bills.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago is expected here Monday in advance of the senate caucus. His followers, and those of P. A. Nash, Democratic national committeeman, have been able to control the senate in the past, and the mayor may have some suggestions on the program to make to the caucus leaders.

Before he left for Chicago Senator George M. Maypole [D., Chicago], the president pro tempore, said he was in favor of the entire plan. If the Democrats in both chambers get together behind the program, they will need help from the Republicans because of a need for a two-thirds vote on many of the bills.

Support Is in Doubt.

This support will not be easily obtained for the constitutional convention resolution, among other things, because both minority leaders, Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield and Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg of Chicago, have expressed doubt that many members of their respective blocs will favor it.

It is planned to adjourn both sessions sine die by midnight Thursday, June 30. This means that the house would have to perform a terrific amount of work Monday night, passing the tax bills, the driver's license, the relief, and other appropriations, all of which will consume time in debate and roll calls.

84 AND 70, WHO MET IN JEWISH HOME, GET LICENSE TO MARRY

An elderly couple who met a year ago when they entered the Orthodox Jewish Home for the Aged, 1648 South Albany avenue, obtained a marriage license yesterday. They are Joseph Blau, 84 years old, and Mrs. Adella Kaufman, 70. The marriage will be performed next week and the couple will continue to live in the home. Mrs. Kaufman had been afflicted with blindness for many years and Blau acted as her escort in the institution. Recently an operation restored her sight.

SURFACE LINES AND UNION COME TO AGREEMENT

A friendly compromise was reached last night by officials of the Chicago Surface Lines and the street car men's union in their negotiations for a wage and working contract. The company had been asking a 10 per cent pay cut and the union a 10 per cent boost.

Under the compromise, the contract which expired on May 31 is renewed to next Dec. 31 without changes in wages or working conditions. After that date the agreement will continue on a month to month basis.

The company acceded to the union's demand to maintain the vacation system. Starting July 3, 500 men each week will be given a week's vacation. This means that 544 men who were slated for a lay-off will be assured of employment for several months. The street car men will vote on approval or rejection of the agreement next Wednesday, according to William Taber, financial secretary and treasurer of the union.

5 AND 10 HEIRESS REPORTED NEAR TRUCE WITH MATE

Police Question Countess on Arrest Warant.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 24.—With legal and family influences working for an armistice between Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow and his wife, the former Barbara Hutton, friends of the $40,000,000 American 5 and 10 cent store heiress who have discussed the situation with her are convinced an amicable settlement of their differences is likely, it was reported tonight.

The visit of two Scotland Yard officials to the countess' home today, it was disclosed, was to obtain full information from her on the reasons for her application at the Bow Street police court Wednesday for a warant for the arrest of her Danish husband should he return to England from France. The police officials took careful note of Countess Barbara's statement.

Quarrel Over Money.

In view of the family moves toward pacification, Scotland Yard authorities anticipate they will not be called upon to execute the warant, a reliable source said. At the same time the possibility of some sort of court proceedings before the dispute is adjusted is not ruled out.

Family differences, it was disclosed, concern money matters, among other things. Reports of a plot to kidnap the couple's baby, Lance, 2 years old, are now being soft pedaled. The safety of the countess herself, it is pointed out, was the main reason for the elaborate guarding of her mansion, Winfield House, and the issuance of the warant to prevent the count from setting foot in England.

One source in close touch with the situation said the count had a long conference this evening with his solicitors in Paris after putting in several long distance telephone calls. The count refused to confirm or deny reports that he had called on a well known firm of English solicitors in the French capital to act in his behalf.

Insists Plans Are Vague.

"I give you my word of honor I do not know my position," he told reporters. "I can't give you any idea what is going on. Nothing has been decided. I don't suppose there will be anything for at least a week."

Asked when he was going to England, the count replied:

"I really do not know."

Franklyn Hutton, Countess Barbara's father, was not seen today. He spent most of yesterday conferring with the count in Paris in an effort to patch up the rift. Reports that he had left Paris were not confirmed.

New York, June 24.—[Special.]—Capt. Harry Manning, hero of thrilling sea rescues, who turned to aviation and was navigator for Amelia Earhart on some of her flights, was seriously injured today when his airplane crashed.

He suffered broken legs and a skull injury, and his condition was so critical that doctors held little hope for him.

Manning was alone in his ship and was about 500 feet over Roosevelt field when the plane plunged toward earth.

Capt. Manning, who is 41 years old, attained world prominence in 1929 when, as first officer of the liner America, he commanded the boat crew which rescued the crew of the sinking Italian freighter Florio. This brought him the congressional medal.

A charge of assault and battery against Mrs. Harriet Chernark, 32 years old, 2308 Potomac avenue, was continued yesterday to next Tuesday by Judge Oscar S. Caplan in the Women's court. Mrs. Chernark was arrested Thursday night after a fight with a neighbor.

New County Forest

(Story in adjoining column.)

REPORT BROKER AND EDITH MASON WILL BE MARRIED

Reports were heard last night that Edith Mason, grand opera singer, and William Ragland, a broker, will be married within two weeks. Mr. Ragland referred questions to Miss Mason, but her comment was, "I will be happy to make an announcement at the proper time."

Miss Mason has been married three times and divorced as many times. Her first husband was Giorgio Polacco, famous opera conductor. A daughter, Graziella, now 12 years old, was born of this marriage.

Miss Mason obtained a divorce from Polacco and became the wife of Dr. Maurice A. Bernstein. A divorce ended this marriage. Later she remarried Polacco, but divorce again resulted. Ragland was divorced last month by his wife, Elise, on grounds of desertion.

PLANE FALLS ON CIRCUS GROUNDS; 2 CAMERAMEN DIE

Scranton, Pa., June 24.—[Special.]—Two newspaper photographers were killed when their airplane crashed on the grounds occupied by the strike-bound Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey circus. They were Arthur Young, 30 years old, and Robert Raine, 25, both of the Scranton Tribune.

Meanwhile Ringling Brothers officials virtually conceded the circus, halted in midtour here by a union strike over wages, would cancel the remainder of its tour and return to its winter quarters at Sarasota, Fla. About 100 star performers agreed to accept a 25 per cent wage cut, which John Ringling North, head of the circus, said was necessary to keep the show going. However, several hundred laborers remained adamant.

COURT INCREASES AWARD FOR LAND TAKEN BY COUNTY

End Fight Over Strip for Forest Preserve.

Cook county yesterday acquired the ten acre tract of Charles Balling on the Des Plaines river at Dundee road for $34,000 after Judge Benjamin Epstein agreed with attorneys that a $25,000 award made by a jury was too low. The tract, a beauty spot in the county, is one of a number needed by the county in its plan to have a continuous link of forest preserves bordering the city.

Balling asked $75,000 for the tract and the county filed condemnation proceedings. During the trial Balling testified he had worked since 1914 in improving the land with the result that visitors were attracted there because of its beauty. The jury, however, fixed $25,000 as the purchase price.

Reward Called Inadequate.

In court yesterday Balling appeared with his attorney, Francis Busch, to ask that the verdict be set aside for a new trial. They protested $25,000 is inadequate because of the extensive landscaping and improvements, including a twelve room house.

Busch recalled that the county had previously offered $27,000 and that an appraisal made by five real estate experts for the county had valued the land at $34,000.

Explains English Law.

Condemnation suits, Judge Epstein explained, is based on the old English law theory that a sovereign could seize the property of his subject, but that the compensation should make the owner neither richer nor poorer. He said he believed the $25,000 figure too low.

Attorney Frank Righeimer, representing the county, agreed. Judge Epstein set aside the jury award and approved the settlement figure of $34,000. The property is known for its rose bushes, trees, and rock gardens.

Indiana Ex-Convict and 6 Women Are Seized Here

William Paptzun, 37 years old, an ex-convict from Indiana, and six women were seized by police last night in a flat at 4027 Lake Park avenue. The arrest was made in connection with a suspected white slave ring, police said. Paptzun gave his home address as 2113 Broadway, Indiana Harbor.

ROBBERY CHARGE DISMISSED; HE'S JUST A PLAYBOY

A charge of robbery against James Edward Ryan, 8114 Cottage Grove avenue, was dismissed yesterday by Judge John J. Rooney in Felony court when every one concerned agreed that Ryan was just playing when he held up a cigar store the night of June 15. Charles Greenberg, 5331 Cottage Grove avenue, clerk in the store at 7500 Cottage Grove avenue, said Ryan demanded the money from the cash drawer, which totaled $39, and then, ten minutes later, gave it back. Greenberg said he believed Ryan was intoricated.

KILLED BY CARBON MONOXIDE.

Joseph Szklamjowski, 38 years old, 4937 South Kedvale avenue, a machinist, was accidentally killed by carbon monoxide fumes last night while repairing his automobile, with the motor running, in the garage in the rear of his home.

BABY GIRL DIES FROM BITE OF A BEFRIENDED PUP

Seven weeks ago, on a rainy night, Mrs. Oscar A. Manson gave a stray puppy shelter when he whined at the door of their home, 361 Jay street, Elgin. But the next morning, after being fed, the puppy nipped their only child, Patricia, 1½ years old, as she played on the floor.

Mrs. Manson shooed the dog outside again, dressed the cut on her daughter's arm, and thought no more about the incident until two days ago, when Patricia suddenly became ill.

The doctor at first was puzzled in his diagnosis, until Mrs. Manson told of the puppy bite. He then said the baby had rabies. Yesterday Patricia died in the Sherman hospital at Elgin.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

SHARP EDGE OF COLOR

By CALEB

"THAT COLOR sets my teeth on edge," said one Field buyer to another as they inspected a baby blanket offered by a supplier. The color was to the casual observer an ordinary and not unpleasant pink.

Asked why she disliked the color, the buyer pointed out that it was not a pure pink, but faintly tinged with orchid. Careful examination of the little blanket proved that she was right. Its color was in marked contrast to a true pink which she produced to make her point. Side by side the blankets shrieked discord.

That demonstration of color sense was impressive and led to the discovery that many of our people in the store have a sense of color so acute that it amounts to a definite, physical reaction. They are vividly aware of good color combinations — painfully aware of poor ones. Their unusual keenness of color perception is like the ability of a skilled musician to determine absolute pitch or analyze a harmony.

Our people who have this gift seem not to know whether they were born with it, or whether it has been developed through years of observation and experience. In any event, their work is in a world of color, and it is natural for them to be sharply aware of it. Several of the designers in our interior decoration department are able to match series of colors from memory so closely that no slightest shade of difference is apparent.

It is interesting to watch these fortunate color-conscious people exercise their gift. The obvious color combinations, of course, are simple. These are to experts what the multiplication tables are to a skilled mathematician. The endless variations and combinations in color growing out of an almost endless choice of shades and tints give them a better test.

Color groups that one ordinarily might bunch under a single heading, they will sort into a dozen classifications. And by that simple process they often change what was a wholly uninspiring thing into a striking and memorable event in color.

How fortunate they are—and how fortunate we are to profit from their gifts. The good results of their handiwork surround us and help immeasurably in our service to customers—for colors, alone and in combination, are among our chief concerns.

SUBURB OFFICIAL AND FATHER DIE IN AUTO CRASH

Brother Hurt as Car Hits Truck in Michigan.

Charles W. Koerber and his son, Charles W. Jr., Forest Park commissioner of water and electricity, were killed yesterday and another son, Police Lieutenant William Koerber of Oak Park was seriously injured when their car collided with a truck near Benton Harbor, Mich. They were driving to Traverse City, Mich., on a fishing trip. Commissioner Koerber was 42 years old, and lived at 513 Circle avenue, Forest Park. The elder Koerber, a retired business man, was 68, and lived at 941 Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park. Lieut. Koerber lives at 1114 Miller avenue, Oak Park. He is in the St. Joseph hospital, St. Joseph, Mich. Ambrose Tatar, 301 West 103d place, Chicago, driver of the truck; told police he drove off the road in a futile attempt to avert a collision.

Harold O. Lindstrom, 28 years old, 901 Dakin street, was killed early yesterday when his automobile went out of control and struck a light post at Glenview road and Milwaukee avenue. Mrs. Gladys Malloy, 28, of 4425 North Racine avenue, and Mrs. Reva Whaley, 23, of 4229 Kenmore avenue, sisters, who were riding with Lindstrom, were injured.

William Kocol, 20 years old, 1068 Fry street, was severely injured, and Miss Mary Smolen, 20, of 753 Augusta boulevard, was bruised when their bicycle was struck by a taxicab last night in Ontario street near Michigan avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 390 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 297 were killed in Chicago, where 8,544 were injured in the same period.

More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

SON'S MEMORY SNARES ROBBERS OF BEER DRIVER

The alertness and retentive memory of John Marzec, 20 years old, 1752 Superior street, combined last night to place Albert Koproski, 2538 Cortez street, and John Cray, 2140 Potomac avenue, in cells as alleged bandits.

Marzec works as a helper for his father, Stanley, on a beer truck. Yesterday, as they were making deliveries and collections, young Marzec noticed an automobile following. He memorized the license number.

Not long afterward, while young Marzec was making a collection, two men forced his father to drive off and robbed him of $60 in cash and $220 in checks. Police were notified and Marzec's son told them the number of the car which had followed. It was traced to Koproski. He and Cray were arrested and identified by the elder Marzec as the bandits.

FEARS DIVERSION OF TAX WILL RUIN ROAD PROGRAM

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, in a statement last night warned that the Illinois road building program might be crippled through loss of federal funds if the state legislature approved diversion of gasoline taxes to relief.

"If the federal government applies provisions of the Hayden-Cartwright act and withholds appropriations, highway construction, repair, and maintenance will be seriously crippled," he said.

Mr. Hayes said he has received hundreds of protests against dipping in the gasoline tax funds for purposes other than those for which they were collected.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS 30 DAYS; HIT CHILD ON BICYCLE

Joseph Skrzekut, 2408 South Whipple street, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Judge Stephen Adamowski in the Safety court yesterday for driving while intoxicated. Skrzekut was arrested Wednesday after his automobile struck and injured a little girl riding a bicycle. Police testified that Skrzekut had struck a parked car and a fence while proceeding in Rockwell street near Luther street just before he injured the girl. He also was ordered not to drive his car before next March 31.

Summer Fare, Light and Airy, for the Reader

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

An editorial from THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE of July 15, 1888, makes this comment: "Like summer food and summer drink, the reading to which mankind inclines during the heated term must be light and free from unwholesome stimulation." Here is some such reading matter you may incline to during this "heated term":

Myron Brinig's Latest Novel Sure to Delight.

"May Flavin," by Myron Brinig. [Farrar & Rinehart, $2.50.] Published Wednesday.

The author of "The Sisters" has taken the "Mother Machree" lyric theme, elaborated it into swing, and played it on the literary pipe organ with all the stops open and foot pedals going full tilt in "May Flavin," a novel which is as sure to delight readers as a catnip bed a mouser.

"May Flavin" is the story of the daughter of an Irish cop in Chicago in the late '80s who "rushed the can" but took no back talk from the galoots who hung around the saloon door as she walked out of the family entrance with her can of beer; of the wife of Mike Flavin, who gave her a news stand in the Bowery of New York, a tenement flat and six children, and then left her to fend for herself and them when he thought he had stabbed a man to death in a brawl over a no good gal. May took no back talk from Mike, the children, nor the no good gal.

It is the story of May Flavin, scrubwoman in a skyscraper, who lived to see one child shot dead by gangsters, another the mother of an illegitimate child, another reported missing in the world war only to return at last, and finally her two youngest children the idols of Broadway and Hollywood. Through it all, good and bad, May never took back talk from anybody, never shed a tear, and never complained.

"May Flavin" is the same lavishly sentimental story "free from unwholesome stimulation" that happy summer readers were devouring fifty years ago this "heated term."

A Story Contemporary in Theme and Rhythm.

"Young Man with a Horn," by Dorothy Baker. [Houghton-Mifflin, $2.50.]

This novel, on the other hand, is completely contemporaneous in theme and in its own literary rhythm. It tells of the brief life of a young trumpet player in a swing dance band, but it chronicles what only contemporary novelists have gone into deeply, the urges that make people do what they do. And it does that chronicling in the popular style of today—in a prose bare of nonessentials but not fearful of elaboration if an idea needs embellishment to make it more vivid.

Dorothy Baker.

The urge in the life of the "Young Man with a Horn" was to perform the peculiar kind of musical legerdemain known as "hot music." He didn't want to be a great concert soloist, he just wanted to be the best rhythm player in the world. It was the urge that guided his fingers to picking out hymn tunes in a Gospel mission when he was a little boy. It was the same urge that made him sit in on record making for any one who would let him to the day of his death.

Dorothy Baker has done something exciting in this book. The hero lives in these pages as a fever in the blood. "Young Man with a Horn" is such a fascinating job of literary work that it blinds the reviewer to the fact that as human beings the characters are as unreal as the hero's passion to make music is real. The author says that the musical career of Bix Beiderbecke, greatest hot trumpet player of all time before he died at less than 30, was the inspiration for this novel, but it is no biography.

Delightfully Real Touch in a Familiar Situation.

"Unfamiliar Faces," by Alice Grant Rosman. [Putnam, $2.] Published yesterday.

Perfectly "light and free from unwholesome stimulation" is Alice Grant Rosman's latest novel. It is the story of parents and their children, the misunderstandings of the two generations, with all parties concerned in their own separate and honorable rights, but twisted in disagreements, the knots slowly but very pleasantly getting untied. Romance burgeons with a fine absence of slush. The young people are independent, but so are their elders.

The problems are perfectly real, but the tragedies are light. "Unfamiliar Faces" does not, however, like many light novels of misunderstanding, insult one's intelligence. Every one is real, even if no one is too earnest. It is what, if we had hammocks nowadays slung between the elms in the front yard, would be called the ideal hammock novel.

Looking Over Latest Books

A Revealing Record of a Social Worker.

"We Too Are the People," by Louise V. Armstrong. [Little-Brown, $3.]

Mrs. Armstrong brings a story of poverty and need in an unnamed county of northern Michigan. As a record the book contains much information that will probably astonish those who cannot see similar conditions in their own vicinity. But as a record the book could lose much of Mrs. Armstrong's effort to ring out a message with consequent improvement in its reading qualities.

Social workers have a passion for anonymity for the people whose welfare they are overseeing. Mrs. Armstrong was a social worker who headed the relief giving in her anonymous county for three years. The only time she mentions names is when she apparently feels that the people who are under her jurisdiction are beyond saving.

As a relief administrator, the author was convinced that she was right in what she did and the ways she did it. Poverty and economic distress faced her on every hand. She worked night and day to fight these conditions. But she carried that intense endeavor into the writing of her book. Much of the detail of the author's personal background contained in the first three or four chapters will prove a blockade to many readers. Once beyond that the reader comes upon the real meat of the book, the circumstances and histories of those on relief.

These stories are important as a record of the way some people live in the United States. They carry their own message. Mrs. Armstrong could have saved herself and the reader much by permitting them to do that. W. D. O.

Here Are Four Worthy Volumes for Children.

"Andy and the Lion," by James Daugherty. [Viking, $1.50.]

"The Baby Giant Panda," by Ruth Harkness. [Carrick & Evans, $2.]

"Till Potatoes Grow on Trees," by Emma Brock. [Knopf, $1.75.]

James Daugherty's delightful "Andy and the Lion" combines whimsical drawings and text to make a most excellent volume for any one three years old and over. Andy is a twentieth century Androcles who plucks a thorn from a lion's paw and finds himself a hero in a circus. The humor of Daugherty's drawings will delight any adult and is by no means wasted on a three year old.

Mrs. Ruth Harkness' story of her search for the baby giant panda and her experiences with the late Su-lin should interest any child of six or more and the fine pictures, many of them from THE TRIBUNE, will captivate those much younger. The book is well written and has sufficient action to continue the interest of the small child.

"We Go Exploring" translates a few choice bits of American history into the language of the small child. The difficult task is well done. If it is time for the child to begin his acquaintance with history, Mary Lichliter's introduction should make the relationship most pleasant. Her volume is recommended especially for children of six or more.

The terse, repetitious sentences in "Till Potatoes Grow on Trees" may prove wearying to the adult but they should be most satisfying to the very young child, who should like their authoritative air. The book talks of things within the experience of a three year old in a manner to take and hold his interest. The drawings by the author are good. L. W.

Elisa Alicia Lynch, a handsome Irish beauty, niece of Lord Nelson's vice admiral, reached the crossroad of her exciting life in France just before our civil war. Married, but without a husband, due to a strange quirk of French law, Mme. Lynch threw in her lot with Francisco Lopez, son of the liberal and foresighted Paraguayan ruler, Carlos Lopez.

It was a cast of fate that made her the only woman in history to ride into battle beside a dictator. Mme. Lynch and Francisco Lopez made a strange pair. Half savage, although cultivated, Lopez was a strange mixture of driving Napoleonic power, amazing foresight, daring, demoniac rages, cruelty, lust, patriotism, and love. Madama, as the Paraguayans called her, too, had pride and a powerful ambition, but she was more shrewd, more controled, and made the perfect balance for Lopez, as his mistress, co-ruler, and mother of his four sons.

O'Brien Lists 1938 Pick of Short Stories

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

"The Best Short Stories, 1938," edited by Edward J. O'Brien. [Houghton-Mifflin, $2.50.]

Edward J. O'Brien's annual selections are always provocative of argument from those who believe other stories should have been included, and from those who regard some of the stories he has chosen as not distinctive. This year he took thirty stories from thirteen magazines, two magazines each being represented six times.

Some of the tales are excellent. "The Chrysanthemums," by John Steinbeck, author of "Of Mice and Men," is particularly fine—a tender story of a woman and the stranger to whom she intrusted her beloved blooms. "A Tooth for Paul Revere," by Stephen Vincent Benet, is a whimsicality of the American revolution. "Christ in Concrete," by Pietro di Donato, is powerful realistic writing, while George T. Rayner's "A Real American Fellow" is simple, strong—paradoxically, because of its sense of incompleteness. Some of the other stories in the volume are good; others do not appear worthy of any comment.

Collection of Pieces by Winifred Holtby.

"Pavements at Anderby," by Winifred Holtby. [MacMillan, $2.75.]

On the death of Winifred Holtby, an Englishwoman, author of the novel "South Riding," a mass of her unpublished short stories and sketches were found by her executors. The story which probably is the best in the book—a tale of the eternal search for peace as it was in Roman days, as it is in the present, and as it might be centuries from now. "The Creditors" is a notable brief piece of writing, and a sketch, "There Was a Sound," tells of the glamor and the tawdriness of Monte Carlo.

Sheila Kaye-Smith's Short Story Group.

"Faithful Stranger and Other Stories," by Sheila Kaye-Smith. [Harper's, $2.50.]

As Winifred Holtby concerned herself with Yorkshire in England, Sheila Kaye-Smith has chosen for her province the Sussex countryside. The title story concerns a young man who lost his identity, and among the ten other pieces in the book "Pharisee Boy" and "Strong Medicine" are particularly well done.

Another Collection from English Pens.

"A Cabinet of Gems," edited by Bradford Allen Booth. [University of California Press, $3.50.]

Bradford Booth has collected eighteen short stories by English writers of the last century. Some of these authors are better known for their longer works, but Mr. Booth finds humor and steady craftsmanship in their short stories. "The Lawyer Who Cost His Client Nothing," by Lord Lytton, is one of the most enjoyable selections in the volume.

VOTE TRUE BILLS FOR 5 IN DIXMOOR SPEED TRAP QUIZ

Mayor, Judge and 3 Police Reported Named.

Mayor Charles Special of Dixmoor, his three man police force, and Police Magistrate Charles A. Braun were reported named in true bills by the grand jury yesterday charging conspiracy to extort money from the public. An additional true bill was reported voted against Braun, charging malfeasance.

If they are found guilty of conspiracy, the five men face a possible maximum sentence of one to five years. A maximum fine of $10,000 and removal from office is the penalty for malfeasance.

Follows Speed Trap Quiz.

The grand jury action followed an investigation by Assistant State's Attorney Richard Austin and officials of the Chicago Motor club into charges by motorists that a speed trap existed in Dixmoor, a village of 400 on the Dixie highway, south of Chicago.

The investigation is one of several into speed trap complaints at Dixmoor in the last 23 years. As early as 1915, Special was accused of operating a speed trap.

In the latest inquiry two motorists told Austin that they had paid Magistrate Braun 50 cents each for the privilege of driving their cars without a state license. Rudolph Scherenzel, former village treasurer, revealed that most of the village income was from fines against motorists.

Appear Before Jury.

Yesterday ten autoists and Scherenzel appeared before the jury to tell of alleged irregularities by Special, Braun, and the three policemen, Robert Grecco, Tony Bater, and Charles Paduano.

Scherenzel, it was reported, produced records to show that Dixmoor took in $7,235 in fines from May 1, 1937, to May 1, 1938, and $803 from May 1 to May 26 this year. At the same time, the village's income from all sources for the year beginning May 1, 1937, was $11,400. License fees supplied most of the other income, as Scherenzel is reported to have testified that few residents pay taxes.

Among the motorists reported to have testified were Mrs. D. J. Gould and Mrs. J. G. Arden, both of 4919 Adams street. In May they were driving near the 147th street and Western avenue intersection in Dixmoor [a stop street designated by a small sign]. The driver of the Gould car, which was leading, stopped. The Arden car was forced to stop. The Gould car then started into the intersection and was halted by Policeman Paduano, who arrested both drivers. They were fined $10 each for going through a stop sign.

Fined at Unmarked Spot.

John Van der Wagen, 6237 South Kostner avenue, told the jury, it was said, that he regularly parked at an unrestricted spot in Dixmoor. One day he was arrested and told that on the night before the spot had been designated as restricted, but that signs had not yet been erected. He was fined $10.

Abe Feldman, president of the Feldman Petroleum company, 544 West Roosevelt road, was reported to have testified that one of his drivers was arrested in Dixmoor and the truck held until a $10 fine was paid. Feldman said he promised to send the money and ordered another driver to pick up the truck, which was not released for five hours, although the arrested driver was in custody.

John Navratil, 2801 South St. Louis avenue, is reported to have testified that Policeman Paduano beat him after he had been arrested for a trafic law violation. Paduano then signed an immunity waiver and denied the charge.

SPECIAL INQUIRY TO SIFT INDIANA BALLOT SCANDAL

Indianapolis, Ind., June 24.—[Special.]—A special Marion county grand jury will be impanelled July 5 to investigate "wholesale, shocking irregularities in the primary election last May." That was announced by Judge Frank P. Baker of the Criminal court.

The recount, not yet completed, has disclosed many apparently illegal acts, and has resulted in establishing a lead for Al Feeney, who was opposed by the machine in his race for the Democratic nomination for sherif. Charley Lutz, organization candidate, originally was declared nominated over Feeney, and Reginald Sullivan, former mayor, was declared nominated for mayor over the present sherif, Otto Ray. The insurgent Democratic group which brought the recount action is headed by Ray.

Judge Baker hit at Republican alliances with the Minton-McHale-McNutt machine when he said:

"Formerly we had a Democratic and Republican primary in Indiana. Today we have neither."

NEGRO GETS LIFE FOR MURDER OF GROCERY OWNER

Hezron Delancy, a colored janitor, was found guilty yesterday of the murder of Jerome Lazar, owner of a grocery, on April 21. He was sentenced to a life term in the state penitentiary by Judge Rudolph Desort in the Criminal court. Delancy testified that he killed Lazar in self-defense during a quarrel in the store at 2515 Division street. Witnesses said the quarrel started when Lazar cashed a check for Delancy and it turned out to be worthless. A motion for a new trial was continued to July 7.

PAROLED, SENT TO PRISON; PAROLED AND JAILED AGAIN

In Cell Five Years Between Times.

Dell Follis, ex-convict, who was arrested Thursday after he had robbed a south side tavern, was listed by the police yesterday as one more parolee unable to make the grade. Follis, who was sentenced to serve ten years to life in the Joliet prison for robbery seventeen years ago, has been paroled twice, served a sentence of one to five years for robbery between paroles, and is now on parole on the original conviction.

He was captured after he held up Frank Cernivivo, a bartender, in a tavern at 2359 Wentworth avenue and took $14 from the cash drawer. The bartender and his brother, Bruno Cernivivo, searched the neighborhood after the robbery and seized Follis a block away.

Seized as Parole Nears End.

Follis was arrested in January, 1921, after he robbed a pedestrian on the west side and took more than $100. He was paroled Jan. 7, 1928, and a little more than a month before his parole would end, he was arrested again for robbery.

This was on Nov. 1, 1930, after he and a companion had held up a dozen persons at a party in a west side apartment, where they had been invited as guests. He was seized by a policeman who also had been invited but had arrived late.

The records of the crime commission showed that he had been charged with robbery as a habitual criminal, but that the habitual criminal count in the indictment was dismissed by the trial judge [the late Judge James J. Kelly]. After a bench trial Follis was sentenced to one to five years.

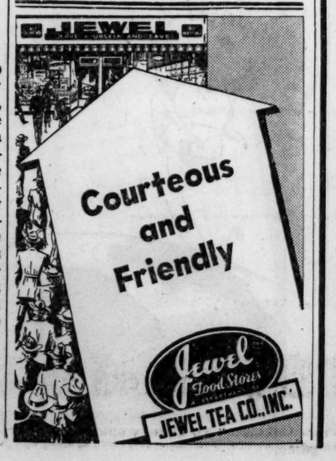
Serves the Full Term.

He served the full five years on the second conviction and was paroled again on the original conviction from which he had not been discharged on Sept. 4, 1936. Under the present rules he would be discharged on the first conviction had he conducted himself in a proper manner for another year under parole supervision.

Questioned by Capt. John Cartan of the Pekin station he asserted, "I just can't seem to get over that parole hurdle." He was held for other robbery victims to view.

FREEDOM ASKED FOR EMBEZZLER OF COUNTY FUNDS

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus seeking the release of Jack Chisholm, former receiving teller in the county treasurer's office, who is serving a 1 to 15 year sentence in Joliet penitentiary for embezzlement, was filed yesterday in the Will county Circuit court. Chisholm was convicted last November after a shortage of $3,200 was found in his accounts. The petition alleges that this money was not included in the indictment. Judge Edwin L. Wilson set a hearing for July 7.



MYSTERY KILLING REOPENED; INDICT FORMER DEPUTY

Accused of Murder Which Youth Confessed.

South Paris, Me., June 24.—(AP)—Reopening inquiry into the strangulation slaying of Dr. and Mrs. James G. Littlefield, elderly South Paris couple, the Oxford county grand jury today indicted former Deputy Sherif Francis M. Carroll on a charge of murdering the physician.

Paul N. Dwyer, 18 years old, is serving a life sentence in Thomaston state prison for the slaying of the doctor, which he confessed after the bodies of Littlefield and his wife were found in Dwyer's car.

Carroll, arraigned immediately after his indictment was handed in, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for July 12. He had been under arrest for several weeks awaiting grand jury action on a morals charge involving his daughter, Barbara, 18 years old, who was a friend of Dwyer.

Sherif Continues Inquiry.

Sherif F. F. Francis and other officials, believing that Dwyer's confession and plea of guilty last December had failed to solve the case, continued to investigate the slaying. Dwyer was arrested last October in South Arlington, N. J., after a policeman awakened him, asleep at the wheel, and found the bodies of Dr. Littlefield and his wife in his car. Dwyer told police he had toured six states with the bodies.

He said he had called Dr. Littlefield to his home and that while examining him the physician made a disparaging remark about his girl friend. The youth said he struck Dr. Littlefield, who was 67 years old, and strangled him with his belt.

After the arraignment of Carroll, however, Ralph M. Ingalls of Portland, special assistant attorney general, said the state now contended Carroll killed the physician.

Letters Termed Motive.

"The state contends that Dwyer possessed letters detrimental to Carroll's future," said Ingalls. "They were letters written by one of his minor children.

"When this information passed into the hands of Dr. Littlefield a motive for murder was established. The meeting of Dr. Littlefield, Carroll, and Dwyer at the Dwyer home resulted in the death of Dr. Littlefield, but the state contends that Carroll, and not Dwyer, killed him."

Investigators indicated that the letters referred to by Ingalls and the morals charge against Carroll, who is 48 years old, were related.

Peter McDonald of Rumford, associate defense counsel in Dwyer's trial, said he would seek a pardon for his client if Carroll is convicted.

COURT TO HEAR PLEAS TODAY ON DUNCAN TERM

Madison, Wis., June 24.—[Special.]—Arguments will be heard by the state Supreme court tomorrow on the petition of Herbert J. Steffes, Milwaukee county district attorney, for a writ of mandamus compelling Circuit Judge Gullick N. Risjord to sentence Thomas M. Duncan, Gov. La Follette's legislative secretary, to a five to ten year term in the state prison.

Judge Risjord found Duncan guilty of first degree manslaughter in the hit and run death of Henry Schuette in Milwaukee on March 9, but sentenced him on a fourth degree manslaughter count. As a result, Duncan is serving a term of one to two years in the Milwaukee house of correction.

In seeking permission to sue Risjord on a writ of mandamus, Steffes argued that the judge circumvented the laws when he found Duncan guilty of one charge and sentenced him on another.

N. Y. LEGISLATOR HELD IN BRIBERY OF 2 TAXI FIRMS

Charged with Accepting $36,000 in Payments.

New York, June 24.—[Special.]—Assemblyman Edward S. Moran Jr., Brooklyn Democrat, was arrested today on an indictment charging him with accepting bribes of $36,000 from the two largest taxicab companies in the city.

The indictment, voted yesterday, was handed to Judge Cornelius J. F. Collins of General Sessions today and Moran surrendered at District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's office.

The assemblyman, who has been in the legislature since 1928, is accused of taking $20,000 from the Parmelee Transportation company, Inc., and $16,000 from the Terminal System, Inc., and promising to use his influence on their behalf in the assembly.

It is alleged Moran was put on the Terminal System pay roll at $500 a month in October, 1935, after he had started an investigation of taxicab operation as chairman of a joint legislative committee which he sponsored. His monthly payments were raised to $1,000 in December, 1935, it is charged, and continued through March, 1937.

The indictment also charges that in the spring of 1936, after the state gasoline tax had been reduced from 4 cents to 3 cents a gallon, Moran received $20,000 from the Parmelee company.

All the payments, it is charged, were in cash and were made by Burge M. Seymour, president of the Terminal System, and Levin Rank, Parmelee president.

Moran, it is charged, in return for the payments, introduced a bill in the legislature on March 2, 1936, providing for state control of taxicab operation. The measure, which was said to favor large taxi companies, was defeated.

KILLER WHO WON 11TH HOUR REPRIEVE MUST DIE IN CHAIR TUESDAY

Indianapolis, Ind., June 24.—(AP)—Omer S. Jackson, Indiana attorney general, today ruled that Robert Shaw, slayer who won a last hour reprieve from the electric chair, was sentenced to death properly and that his electrocution should be carried out after midnight Monday.

"The sentencing of Shaw in the absence of a jury was absolutely legal," Jackson said, citing as authority a 1935 state Supreme court decision holding that a judge could sentence a man to death in the absence of a jury after the defendant had pleaded guilty of first degree murder.

Shaw, who is 27 years old, pleaded guilty, in the absence of a jury, of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Deputy Sherif Harry E. Spice near La Grange, Dec. 3, 1937.

THE EUROPEAN MODEL.

Conscription of labor has been decreed by Marshal Goering for the operation of the Nazi four year economic plan. Workers may be taken from any jobs they have and put where the state wants or needs them. Goering says they will get the pay they received in the jobs from which they are transferred, but they will lose their independence and will have no choice. They'll be conscripted for the state enterprises by which the Nazis think they can create a self-contained and self-sustaining country.

Japan at the same time is using the war mobilization law passed earlier in the year over stiff opposition in parliament to tighten up its control over industry, business and finance. The Chinese incident is moving slowly and the Japanese high command is not now counting on a quick finish. Four hundred million Chinese may be wrong, but they are stubborn, and nature itself takes a hand now and then. The incident is still not a war in China, but it is one in Japan as every Japanese individual discovers when the government wants to use him or his property.

A bill which would permit the American government to do about what Germany and Japan are doing, the one in peace time and the other in war, has been hovering over congress for several years with a strange and powerful mixture of advocates behind it. It has had several sponsors and has taken several different forms. The last has not been heard of it unless the country forces a change in ideas which have been uppermost and commanding in Washington. If such a bill should be passed then all a government would need would be a bit of a war, declared or undeclared, to establish a complete dictatorship supported by excited sentiments and emotions as well as by bad reasoning.

It might astonish a good many citizens if they would study the governmental forms and agencies already adopted here and put to work and thus learn how much has been taken over from lands which Americans believe are under intolerable autocracies. A great deal of the mechanism by which the dictator works in Europe has been set up here disguised so that the people cannot perceive just what they have been let in for. TVA is as communistic as anything in Russia and the government has been trying to extend it all over the country. A great many of the purposes which were to have been accomplished in the other TVA bills may have been served by the flood control bill passed in congress by a detour movement.

In NRA we had what the Italians would have recognized as a fair copy of their corporative state organization. They also would recognize the labor relations board except for the fact that the industrialists have no representation and cannot get a fair deal from it. If the congressional elections this year reveal awakening apprehension in the country the trend along the European line will be stopped. If the congressmen get any encouragement they'll go back to democratic processes. They know that in the new form of government their place is shadowy and inconsequential. They won't convert the American congress into the Italian chamber of deputies or the German reichstag if the people give the independent members the support they deserve.

ORCHIDS DECLINED.

When the publisher of the Chicago Times telephoned on the morning of June 15 to say that his presses were out of commission because of a fire and to ask if THE TRIBUNE would print the Times, the publisher of THE TRIBUNE replied at once, without consideration, "I will if I can."

It was a natural reply, there was nothing out of the ordinary or beautifully magnanimous about it, as some of our subscribers seem to think. It was a normal American answer, and more especially a normal Chicago answer. Willingness to help a comrade in difficulties is natural and expectable in this country and this community.

It is true, of course, that the Times' misfortune offered THE TRIBUNE an opportunity to be extremely disagreeable. If we had withheld our facilities a good many people would have suffered losses, and some of the losses would have been irreparable. The Times' employes would have been thrown out of work for a time, at least, the newspaper retailers would have lost profits and the factories which supply paper and other materials would have lost a customer, with consequent misfortune all along the line.

THE TRIBUNE does not approve of sabotage under the guise of competition. No achievements of that sort are to be found in THE TRIBUNE'S history nor will they ever be found there.

Sabotage is never wholesome. Competition among newspapers is generally wholesome. All newspapers benefit from the kind of rivalry which seeks to secure the news first and write it best; to devise new and interesting features; to find fresh and beautiful pictures and reproduce them faithfully. The better the newspapers become as a result of competition of this sort the more they are read. The entire industry benefits.

There are other forms of competition in the newspaper business which are not good. They include such practices as interfering with the other fellow's sales, abuse of the other fellow's product, misstatements of circulation, and combinations intended to injure another newspaper. These methods, we are glad to say, have been discarded for the most part from the practice of journalism as they were long ago outlawed by the ethics of the profession. There is neither glory nor profit in doing a contemporary a dirty trick whether it be legal or illegal.

THE FUTURE OF RELIEF.

The rival factions in the Democratic party in Illinois seem at last to have come to an agreement upon the financing of relief. The added burden imposed by the Roosevelt depression is to be met in part by a draft upon the state treasury and in part by diverting the city's share of the gasoline tax.

Whether this compromise, as it is called, will stick, remains to be seen. In any event, the members of the legislature and the officials who are concerned with the distribution of the money should take warning from the difficulties which have been encountered in the effort to find new funds. Obviously the bottom is being scraped. The people are already taxed to the limit. Additional levies are likely to create more new unemployment than the money so raised can relieve.

If the victims of the depression are to be spared acute suffering, and the state is to be spared bankruptcy, a drastic change in the management of relief must be instituted without further delay. This truth is gradually coming home, not only in Illinois but in other states as well. Gov. Lehman of New York is plainly aware of it, as his speech the other day before the public welfare officials of his state shows.

Three policies must be adopted. First, the malingerers and the political favorites must be separated from the relief rolls once and for all. It may be possible to find enough money to care for the genuine victims of the depression, but there isn't enough cash and there never will be to take care of the gold bricks as well.

Second, a real effort must be made to find jobs for the men and women on relief. They should be encouraged to hunt employment on their own account and the closest kind of cooperation should be instituted between the relief agencies and the free employment bureaus.

Third, those who formerly were employed in industries and occupations which today have little future should be trained for jobs in other lines. It is particularly important that education of this sort be given to those young enough to learn quickly. Every effort must be made to prevent young people from acquiring the easy habit of dependence upon the state for their support.

Gov. Lehman said he was "not unmindful of the fact that the distribution of public money can destroy individual independence and group relationships." At another point he said: "There are undoubtedly persons now in receipt of public assistance who are not entitled to it." At still another, he said: "Our operations, while governed by human consideration, are definitly related to economic practices."

It is to be hoped that the officials of Illinois will be no less aware of their responsibilities in the handling of relief.

A LADY MEETS THE LAW.

A New York housewife, boarding a Second avenue bus with her husband, found a loaded revolver on the seat. She thought the sensible thing to do with it was to turn it over to a policeman, which she did, and thereupon began an experience with the law unpleasant and confusing to her and perplexing to any number of New York citizens.

The policeman took her to the police station, where the desk lieutenant ordered her arrest for violation of the Sullivan act. She was finger printed and put in a cell over night. The next morning the police magistrate discharged her. The reporters asked Commissioner Valentine what he would suggest should be done by a law abiding citizen who found a gun. He didn't have the answer. Until he has one New Yorkers who do not want to spend a night in a cell will never see a pistol.

Unpleasant as the experience was for the lady who thought she was doing the right thing, it was a neat little exposition of a certain type of official mind. The lady had a gun. The Sullivan law says she shouldn't have one. Therefore, regardless of how she got it and what she meant to do with it, she was a law violator. The absurdity of a wrongdoer approaching a policeman to give up the pistol didn't appear to any one in the police station. She might have taken a shot at some one and had less trouble.

Editorial of the Day

[Rockford Register-Republic.]

The Mormon church throughout the depression has refused government assistance. This sect has a tradition of hard work and sacrifice, a sharing alike in feast or famine, and the little empire which the church has built out in Utah is a splendid tribute to it. Mormons have prospered because every member did his stint without shirk or complaint. When hard times descended the Mormons simply tightened their belts, worked a bit harder, conserved their resources and in fine communal spirit insisted that there would be food and shelter for all without recourse to Uncle Sam's dole.

But now it seems that many of the Mormons have succumbed to the lure of easy money. The numbing effect of WPA activities is demonstrated strikingly in the way it has frustrated plans of Mormon church authorities to handle unemployment problems of their members. There now are approximately 700,000 Mormons on WPA, of whom 300,000 are in Utah. The church undertook to finance agricultural expansion projects and other activities that would give work to every Mormon in need of employment. Members were to be assisted in getting started on security farms of their own. A system of exchange had been arranged so that non-farmers could be employed and given work certificates, good for supplies at community storehouses.

A plan had been worked out whereby every one could be self-supporting. The program had been arranged so that something could be found for every one out of work and supplies would be available, according to need, for every one requiring food, clothing, shelter. But the attempt to take all the church's unemployed off relief rolls has been only a partial success.

Heber J. Grant, president of the church, speaks with genuine sorrow when he reports that the failure was not due to the church's inability to provide for its less fortunate, but rather to the fact that getting something for little or nothing from government funds was too great a temptation to the less frugal.

This situation shows how difficult will be the task of getting the jobless back into industry. Those who prefer a place on WPA to self-supporting jobs, such as the Mormons have provided for their members, are likely to continue to lean on the government. The lesson in this Mormon tragedy is that the money cost of the work dole may prove to be less expensive than the moral effect it will have on its beneficiaries.

HOUNDS AND HEAVEN.

Dr. W. Oliver Brackett, energetic young minister of the First Presbyterian church in Lake Forest, realizes, after two years' residence there, that Lake Foresters like to ride or play golf, tennis, or baseball on summer Sunday mornings. So he has instituted an early and brief service for just such possible churchgoers. The first service occurred last Sunday, beginning at 9 o'clock and lasting exactly as announced—forty minutes. The second will be tomorrow. Alfred T. Carton, president of the board of trustees, arrived in a riding habit and high boots. One of the ushers (Burke Williamson) remarked that the service reminded him of the ceremony of the blessing of the hounds. Others arrived in golf and tennis clothes.

Dr. Brackett is much beloved by his parishioners. He plays tennis and squash racquets. On Thursday evenings he sometimes twirls about the Onwentsia dance floor. Last summer, after he married Katherine McLennan and Keith Brown at an evening wedding at his church, he changed into white tie and tails and danced, as the other guests did, on the platform built on the edge of the bluff overlooking Lake Michigan. He does not, however, drink, or serve any alcoholic beverage.

Lake Forest is a Presbyterian town. Three Presbyterian divines one day in 1855 were seeking a suitable spot north of Chicago to establish a college. They came to what is now Lake Forest and realized that the forests of oak and hickory, the bluffs and ravines, would make an ideal setting. An inn and a schoolhouse were the first buildings, erected in 1858, and in 1861 Lake Forest was incorporated. Soon, too, certain well-to-do Presbyterian families realized that Lake Forest would be ideal for summer homes. D. R. Holt built in 1860. Charles B. Farwell first came in 1861 and put up a house ten years later. John V. Farwell built in 1870. Simon S. Reid (whose daughter, Mrs. Clifford W. Barnes, died a few weeks ago) settled there in 1869. Henry C. Durand came in 1871, shortly after the Chicago fire, followed by his brothers, Calvin and Joseph Durand. Many descendants of all three brothers live in Lake Forest now. Ezra J. Warner came in 1873 and Capt. I. P. Rumsey a bit later.

As Lake Forest grew, as the academy, Ferry hall, and the colleges developed, groceries, butcher shops, and stores sprang up and prospered. The descendants of many of these early tradesmen—James Anderson, Curtis G. Wenban, John C. Fitzgerald, Charles T. Gunn, Samuel Blackler, George W. Huntoon, William Atteridge—still carry on.

The thing that is puzzling us is how he managed to dance in the open, easy way of the southwest in the crowded Empire room. We had trouble struggling around the floor once.

BANGS' DISEASE OR UNDULANT FEVER.

WHETHER we realize it or not we are faced with a fairly widespread disease, originally of European origin. The ailment has been known for centuries along the shores of the Mediterranean, and during the Crimean war physicians were unable to distinguish between typhoid and what we now know as undulant fever—so-called because of the characteristic temperature. Inasmuch as Sir David Bruce carried out his important experimental work with British soldiers on the island of Malta, we have the name of Malta fever, as well as the scientific term, brucellosis. In cattle the malady is referred to as Bangs' disease.

There are three principal species of the causative "bug," all communicable to man. Brucella melitensis is responsible for Malta fever in goats; Brucella abortus for contagious abortion in cattle, and Brucella suis for abortion in swine. Regardless of which variety attacks a human being, the trouble appears to run an identical course. In the United States the goat is not a factor, although occasionally imported animals are found to be infected.

When the disease attacks cattle and swine we recognize many opportunities for spread, via unpasteurized milk and raw meat. We are also confronted with an economic problem more important to cattle raisers and dairymen than tuberculosis. Tests made in various localities by the bureau of animal industry in cooperation with state authorities show, for example, in Missouri that over 16,000 out of 52,000 herds were affected. In other words, out of 640,000 cattle tested, 52,000 were found to react.

Symptoms in human beings do not come on quickly. As a rule, about two weeks after drinking infected, raw [unpasteurized] milk or handling or eating beef or pork from tainted animals, the fever will appear. Because of the gradual onset the victims may not feel very ill. With each ensuing day, however, the temperature rises, finally reaching 103 degrees Fahrenheit or higher. Headache and pains in the back and legs increase in severity, and soon the patient, if he has not already done so, will take to his bed, where he may be obliged to undergo a siege lasting for several weeks—even months. Profuse sweating, sleeplessness, and sometimes swollen joints may add to the discomfort.

After four or five weeks all signs may fade and improvement for a month or so may be followed by a relapse of equal length. While recovery has occurred within a relatively brief period, other instances have been noted in which the "hang on" tendencies were not abated for a year. As a rule the infection finally wears out, leaving in its wake a lengthy convalescence.

Nursing is all important, and every effort must be made to maintain nutrition at a high level. While reports are conflicting, no patient should be deprived of vaccines or serums, even though the latter are still in the experimental stage. If, despite all that can be done, the disorder persists, an attack should be made upon the digestive tract, as the causative organisms may be found in the intestines of both man and animals. The suggestion has been offered that cultures of certain strains of lactic acid bacilli [sour milk] may be fed in conjunction with sugar of milk. To this may be added kaolin [clay] or charcoal. These materials are employed in the hope that a certain amount of lactic acid, if it reaches the colon, will have a discouraging effect upon the growth of the organisms.

General hygiene includes rest, a daily cold bath [if the patient is not too weak], clothing adapted to the season, and a diet which is high in vitamins. If cultures of acidophilus [lactic acid] are used, the procedure should be continued for several months.

Prevention lies largely in avoiding the use of raw [unpasteurized] milk from untested herds. By many it is called a rural distemper, as occurrences are rare in our large cities, where the supply of lacteal fluid is thoroughly treated by heat.

AVOID LATE EXCITEMENT.

S. S. writes:

1. For the past four or five weeks my eyes have been itchy, swollen, and red. This condition may clear up one day and recur the next. What is the cause?

2. I scream and talk in my sleep. Can you explain the reason?

REPLY.

1. On the days that your eyes are inflamed you probably come in contact with something to which you are allergic. Try to find out what it is and avoid it. The possibility of a conjunctivitis should be investigated.

2. Talking in your sleep is due to nervousness. Avoid exciting evenings and eat a light dinner. A mild sedative may be helpful. Take this under the direction of your physician.

CAUSES OF VARICOSE VEINS.

M. K. writes: What causes varicose veins in the thighs? Do I have too much weight on my feet? I am 5 feet tall and weigh 129 pounds.

REPLY.

The causes of varicose veins may be listed as: Long periods of standing, which may interfere with the function of the valves in the veins; any obstruction to the venous return, such as pelvic tumors in women; cirrhosis of the liver; valvular heart disease; abdominal pressure, as at stool; or some trouble with the vein wall. The cause should always be sought. Temporary relief may be obtained by wearing an elastic web bandage about the thigh. You are slightly overweight, but this is probably not a factor.

SELECT, EAT SLOWLY.

Mrs. S. writes: How can I help relieve indigestion?

REPLY.

Omit foods which cause distress. Eat slowly, chew every mouthful thoroughly, and avoid "piecing" [eating between meals]. Take one or two glasses of cold water before breakfast. If these simple suggestions are not helpful consult your physician, as the appendix, the gall bladder, or the stomach may be at fault.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—Detectives here have started work on their own special directory of London society—but it is a black list, not a blue book. In it will be listed all the black sheep suspected of living on the fringe of the law, if not outside it, but who have not yet been caught.

More than one person who is familiarly seen in the bars and night clubs of London's fashionable West End has no visible means of support but manages to live on the best the city affords. Police want to know how it is done.

One phase of the directory will be devoted to persons known to have passed bad checks on occasion and to those who run up bills without paying them. It is along the lines of lists already kept by credit associations.

More important will be the list of those they suspected of infringements of law though not caught.

It will list the men and women about town who frequent expensive bars and restaurants, dance and drink in night spots, dress well and drive cars and yet have not enough legitimate income, so far as the police can discover, to cover their spending.

There are many of them in the West End. Attention was drawn sharply to them last winter when four playboys, all of well known families, all graduates of well known and expensive schools and all familiar figures in the town's night life, slugged a jeweler and nearly killed him attempting to steal a fortune in diamonds.

They were convicted and sentenced, two of them getting the dread cat-o'-nine-tails as well as prison sentences.

Police believe there are scores of blackmailers, drug traffickers, swindlers, and others who escape punishment time after time because their victims are ashamed to complain to the police.

One of their less harmful but annoying activities is to run up bills they do not intend to pay, then persuade merchants or restaurant owners not to prosecute by calling attention to well known friends and relatives they can persuade to attract customers or keep them away depending on the merchant's leniency or severity.

Many a well known young man can afford to appear in expensive places because he knows the right people, and the restaurateurs give him credit, or discounts, in the hope he will help to bring them trade.

Few known criminals can circulate in the west end, because the police watch them too closely. But there are many the police suspect.

The new black book is to be a record of the activities of people they suspect may some day be found out as criminals. When one of the people on the list is found to have been near the scene of a crime, that may give police a useful lead for their investigations.

There are cases of presentable young men vaguely known in many places in the west end without anybody knowing exactly how they live. Sometimes money or jewelry will disappear from a night club table or a handbag left there while they are present.

To avoid scandal and because they are not sure of their ground, the victims seldom report to the police, and if they do they do not dare to make a formal accusation.

In the future police hope that by studying past activities of some of these people they will know when it is wise and safe to bring charges.

CLAIM ON ESTATE.

Chicago, June 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My mother died last March and left a home valued at $1,500, naming my brother administrator. This property is in Michigan and the heirs all live elsewhere, so my brother appointed the undertaker, whom we owe a small sum, as executor. About two weeks after the funeral he sent us all statements of bills that exceed the one we owe.

1. He also sent a bill that does not exist.

2. Can we discharge the executor on grounds of dishonesty? The property is now in probate and we were advised that when estate is closed the executor can get permission from the judge of the Probate court to dispose of property without our permission.

3. Is that the law? If so, in my opinion, [4] a will is of no value to the heirs, because an executor's power is wide open for fraud and no defense for the heirs.

5. In other words, can the executor close a deal on the property without the heirs' signatures?

6. There are a few debts; can any one of the heirs pay these before probating is over, so as to be sure the property will not be sold without our consent by the executor?

7. Can heirs sell furniture in the home to pay part of the debts? I. M.

1. We cannot advise to advantage without knowing the basis for this statement.

2. In general, if you can satisfy the court that he is dishonest, the answer would be yes.

3. In general, the judge would authorize distribution according to the will, regardless of your permission.

4. This conclusion would not follow.

5. Depends on the wording of the will. The word "executor" implies the existence of a will and that the person referred to was named as personal representative in the will.

6. In general, yes, but we would not consider it advisable.

7. If there is a will, the handling of the estate depends largely on its wording.

ESTATE EXPENSE.

Chicago, June 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I would like to know at what time the fees for an estate are made; for instance, the estate was placed in probate April 12, 1937, consisting of one piece of property and stock [mostly utility]; the estate today is worth only one-half of what it was a year ago. Are all charges, [1] lawyer's fee, [2] inheritance tax, and [3] personal property tax, and [4] whatever else is connected with the estate based on today's prices or value at start of probate? M. E. D.

1. If the parties make an agreement, the agreement would control regardless of when it was made. In absence of agreement, the fee would depend on the extent and quality of the services rendered and on other facts that are not before us.

2. This would depend on the value at the time of the death.

3. This would depend on the value on April 1 in the year in question.

4. It is not clear what else you intend to ask about. The attorney handling the proceedings is in a better position to advise you than we are.

A MILK SALESMAN'S GRIND.

Chicago, June 23.—Reading the Voice of the People this morning I was surprised and quite angry, too, at the narrow minded comments of N. H.

My husband is a wagon driver, as the writer calls them, and I am going to tell you just a few things about your milk salesman who is my husband:

He gets up at 4:30 a. m. weekdays and 3:30 Sundays, goes to the dairy for his load, reaches his route, covers over 190 stops, returns when people get up and collects.

Makes three or four returns to collect bills.

Sells, and I really mean sells, butter, eggs, cheese, cream, and a variety of milks at a greater cost than can be bought at cut rate stores [I almost said cutthroat stores]. Returns to the barn, makes out order for the next day, makes up book for the day, and finally, if there is no call for a lecture or instruction, then he is free to go home. Arrives about 5 p. m. too tired to dress up and go out.

Has Wednesday off, but has his home to take care of. He knows that whether it is 25 below zero or 100 in the shade the milk must be delivered.

In rain or sleet, famine or fog or flood, the milkman delivers the goods.

God bless every one of them, and the men who keep their salaries up. They work on their books the last few days of the month [for eighteen hours, my husband's time, by actual count] getting the new book ready, balancing, sending out statements, preparing discount sheets, loss of bottles, tax sheets, etc.

Thinks the company he works for fine and pays the union $6 per month dues; pays income tax, real estate, and personal property tax, pays a tax on his automobile and thanks God for his daily bread. ANNA M. PHANEUF.

THE OTHER VIEW OF IT.

Chicago, June 23.—So a store is unfair to one union because it sells milk delivered by a competitive organization. Isn't that just too bad?

How is the public supposed to fit in this picture? We have to take our reductions, the producer has to take his cut, yet this group of teamsters believe there is no limit to our pocketbook contents and that we can keep paying abnormal prices for a product just so they can retain a salary far out of proportion to their responsibilities and efforts.

The public should support men willing to work for a wage befitting their labor and who make it possible for us mothers to buy milk for our children.

ONE OF THE PUBLIC.

FINDS TENANTS HAPPY.

Chicago, June 22.—I have occasion to call on many families in the Trumbull Park federal housing project and actually see how the people live, how much they appreciate their present homes, and how thoroughly happy and satisfied they are.

It is a pity "The World's Greatest Newspaper" should print an article, apparently written by some cub reporter, who cannot substantiate the alleged abuses on the premises except perhaps only in his imagination or by some isolated and rare instances.

Some of us reading THE TRIBUNE may rightly wonder if the news from abroad and home had as much actual background as the story about the occupants of the three housing projects. In the spirit of fairness the same reporter should be assigned to present ACTUAL state of affairs about the project's inhabitants after a real investigation.

C. R. D.

BETTER BOYS; BETTER NEIGHBORS.

Chicago, June 23.—The annual problem of small boys playing ball in the streets is with us again. No one seems to have a solution for it. If the boys go to a nearby school yard older boys chase them out; if they go to the nearest prairie young hoodlums steal their bats and balls and sometimes beat them, so the only place left for them to play ball is the streets near their homes. But the neighbors complain of the noise, running over the lawns, and jumping across the hedges. Some claim there are sick people in the house or a member of the family works nights, etc., but these neighbors have no solution to the problem.

Most of the complaints come from those who have no small children of their own. They cannot understand the desire of the small boy, whose ball playing seems to be the easiest way to get rid of his pent up energy.

If these complaining neighbors would take an interest in the small boys and not turn the hose on them or call them bums and hoodlums perhaps they would be more careful about running across lawns and refrain from calling the neighbors "old crabs." The boys might be better boys and the neighbors better neighbors. B. D. V.

TO BARRY'S DEFENSE.

Chicago, June 20.—We of the Irish race are proud of Commodore Barry, as well as the rest of America's patriots, including John Paul Jones. Do Barry's critics realize that our school history gives full credit to Barry as among our greatest seaman; that a special stamp honoring him was issued last year by the United States government; that Barry avenue is named after him; that Commodore Barry day is celebrated every year in the east?

What are those people trying to do—change the pages of American history or misrepresent the Irish race in America?

J. J. SHEAHAN.

GET THEM OFF THE DOLE.

Chicago, June 22.—When will our business leaders and politicians realize that there can be no recovery in business until men and women are taken off the dole and can be self-respecting wage earners again?

If the big business executives must make their huge profits and must get their $50,000 salaries, then the small wage earner must divide his hours and his pay with another man or woman, shorten the working day, and the result will be a lower standard of living for the masses. A WORKER.

PLAN TO REMOVE VOLUNTEERS IN SPAIN HITS SNAG

Russia Balks When Asked to Share Expense.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 24.—The $10,000,000 British plan for evacuating foreign fighters from the Spanish civil war hit a financial snag today, further delaying chances of its application. The five big powers represented on the earl of Plymouth's nonintervention subcommittee could not agree on apportioning the costs.

After two and one-half hours of wrangling Lord Plymouth, chairman of the international committee on nonintervention in Spain, decided to adjourn discussion of the monetary aspects of the scheme until Tuesday. Meanwhile the subcommittee delegates were asked to urge their home governments to state how much they would be willing to pay toward clearing foreign volunteers from the war zone.

The estimated cost of removing the foreign fighters to points of embarkation is between $5,000,000 and $6,250,000. This, it was intended, should be borne equally among Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, and Russia.

Russia Refuses to Pay.

The post-embarkation costs were estimated at $3,750,000. It was proposed that some of the states—other than the five big nations—whose nationals were among the evacuated combatants should bear part of this cost.

Samuel Kagan, Russian delegate, acting on orders from Moscow, objected strenuously to Russia paying any share of the pre-embarkation bill beyond the costs of counting the foreign fighters, a job to be done by commissions being sent to Spain.

The subcommittee now is faced with the problem either of inducing the Russians to pay their full one-fifth share of the pre-embarkation costs or getting the other four powers to shoulder the bill.

The subcommittee reached an agreement, in general, on one scheme today. It is the plan to strengthen sea observation in Spain by increasing the nonintervention control posts in eight chief Spanish ports and supervising other coastal towns where war material could be unloaded.

U. S. Refuses to Join Spain Plan.

PARIS, June 24.—(AP)—The foreign office announced tonight that Ambassador William C. Bullitt of the United States had informed Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet that the United States declined to join an international commission to investigate bombings of unfortified cities in Spain.

"Despite the purely humanitarian character of this plan, the government in Washington, D. C., expressed a desire to remain apart from the Spanish conflict," said a spokesman for the foreign office.

The commission, composed of French, British, Swedish, and Norwegian delegates, is expected to arrive at Toulouse, France, soon to begin operations. The commission will visit the scene of any bombing at the invitation of either side in Spain and make a public report. The purpose is to discourage attacks on nonmilitary objectives and civilian centers. Britain is author of the plan.

EX-WIFE LOSES HER SUIT; GROSS FREE TO MARRY

John Edward Gross, a St. Louis and Chicago advertising official, was free to remarry yesterday after Judge John J. Lupe denied the plea of Gross' former wife, Ellen, to set aside their divorce granted a year ago.

Last month, after she read of the engagement of her former husband to Miss Dorothy Benedict of 5490 South Shore drive, a debutante, Mrs. Gross filed a petition to void her divorce on technical grounds. After holding the divorce legal Judge Lupe told her attorney, Benjamin Davis, he would hear arguments July 8 on an increase in alimony.

At the time of their divorce Mrs. Gross was awarded $80 a month for herself and daughter. She charged cruelty. Mrs. Gross lives at 2329 Commonwealth avenue.

Gets Court Delay

MISS MARIE JOHNSON.

The case against a girl and two men charged with presenting an indecent exhibition following their arrest Thursday night in a studio on the sixteenth floor of the building at 162 North State street, was continued yesterday in Judge Oscar Caplan's court to June 29. The delay was to permit Detectives Luttrel White and Ernest Schaeffer, who made the arrests, to develop photographs of Miss Marie Johnson, 26 years old, 1728 North Lotus avenue, who, they said, was posing in the nude for a class of student photographers, including the detectives. Also arrested were Leonard Schurman, 33, of 2146 South Sawyer avenue, studio manager, and Joseph Landfield, 35, of 515 Briar place, instructor. Each was freed on payment of $100 bond.

SPANISH REBELS PIERCE LOYALIST LINE AT 2 POINTS

Bomb Defenses; Push Toward Valencia.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish Frontier], June 24.—(AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco's rebel troops in eastern Spain drove two spearheads today toward Valencia.

Scouting out weak points in the government's fortified lines from Teruel to the Mediterranean, the insurgents resumed their southward advance after their offensive had been halted temporarily yesterday by stiffened government resistance. Insurgent warplanes bombed and machine gunned the loyalist defense lines trying to broaden the gaps.

Rebels Skirt Sarrion.

One rebel force swung around Sarrion, twenty-two miles southeast of Teruel, capturing a number of small towns. These included Crenentadas, north of Sarrion, and Albentosa.

Sarrion is on the main Teruel-Mediterranean highway, forty-four miles northwest of Sagunto, from which a coastal highway leads sixteen miles south to Valencia. Sarrion is the loyalists' westernmost position in the defense against the insurgent drive. Early dispatches said this strategic town was nearly surrounded.

Loyalists Cling to Sierra.

Farther east, within twelve miles of the Mediterranean, another insurgent force pushed forward south of Onda.

Government advices minimized the insurgent successes and reported that loyalist troops under Gen. José Miaja still held the Sierra de Espadan, whose heights dominate the coastal sector.

World Red Cross Requests Ban on Bombing of Civilians

LONDON, June 24.—(AP)—The International Red Cross conference today, by resolution, appealed "in the name of humanity" for world powers to take steps to prevent bombing of civilians. The delegates from fifty-four countries also expressed hope the international committee would draft its sentiments formally for submission to the proper diplomatic conference. Until that is done the conference urged governments to make agreements in time of war providing for hospital towns and areas.

8 NATIONS JOIN ESTONIA'S FETE OF INDEPENDENCE

Song Festival Marks 20 Years of Freedom.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TALLINN, Estonia, June 24.—Eight countries have joined Estonia in celebrating its 20th anniversary of independence. Latvia, Finland, Lithuania, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Poland, and Hungary sent their best choirs and large delegations of citizens yesterday to take part in a midsummer song festival which opened in Tallinn.

Estonia [in black] and its neighbors.

Two hundred Americans of Estonian origin, mostly from Chicago and New York, marched in a parade which was reviewed by President Konstantin Paets and Gen. Johan Laidoner, army commander, in Liberty square.

President Reviews Home Guards.

The largest parade of home guards in Estonia's history also was reviewed by President Paets, who, nearly 33 years ago, was sitting in a death cell in Peter Pavlovsk fortress in St. Petersburg, now Leningrad, Russia. He was awaiting execution for his leadership of the Estonian revolution of 1905.

1,000 Performers Act in Drama.

Following the parade a thousand performers presented a drama depicting the country's fight for freedom, and the traditional St. John's fires were lighted.

Later all joined in midnight picnics which lasted until sunrise at 2 a. m. In midsummer the sun dips below the horizon for only four hours and twilight lasts until morning.

SU-LIN, STUFFED AND SAD, RESTS IN MUSEUM CASE

Su-Lin is holding court again, this time at Field museum. The gamin giant panda of Brookfield zoo, first of her kind to be reared in captivity, has been stuffed and placed on exhibition in the great central hall of the museum.

It is a humbled Su-Lin that now faces visitors. The bouncing, twig-chewing pet of the zoo rests solemnly in a glass cage, her powder puff ears alert, but her eyes downcast. Her pedestal is not the familiar log over which she rolled in wanton moments, but instead a slab of stone. She leans on her left fore foot as if weary, resigned.

But her charm apparently is still there. Her death and the presence of her rival, Mei-Mei, at Brookfield zoo have not dimmed the loyalty of her subjects. They came in the rain yesterday and paid admission, dozens of them, to crowd around her and approve her setting.

SLOT MACHINES BARRED? YES, BUT UNOFFICIALLY, NO

Officially, the village of Arlington Heights doesn't accept a percentage of the profits harvested by slot machines. But unofficially——

That's another story, and it was told yesterday to Assistant State's Attorney Richard Austin by Walter Krause, chairman of the village finance committee.

Last year, Krause said, Arlington Heights officially countenanced the slot machines and accepted a share of the profits. The take last year was $1,300. But public opinion, he admitted, rebelled against the practice, so this year, unofficially, he has accepted a percentage of the profits and turned it over to village business.

The take so far has been $200, and has been used to buy village equipment, including a mower. The state's attorney's office warned Mr. Krause is wasn't ethical or lawful to accept gambling profits and to desist.

HOWARD HUGHES TO HOP SOON ON FLIGHT TO PARIS

Los Angeles, Cal., June 24.—[Special.]—Howard Hughes, millionaire flyer, will take off some time next week for New York on the first leg of a good will flight to Paris and other European capitals, he disclosed tonight.

Hughes was putting the finishing touches on his specially equipped Lockheed 14 speed transport with which he hopes to obtain new data on performance of experimental flying and navigating aids on long range over-water flying.

Within a few days of his arrival on the Atlantic seaboard Hughes, with a crew of four, will head for Paris in what is expected to be the fastest transport crossing of the 3,650 miles of sea and land. He will carry official invitations of the New York World's Fair of 1939 to the airmen of Europe to fly to America next year.

HOPE DR. BLACK WILL RECONSIDER HOSPITAL POST

Members of the county board were still hopeful yesterday that Dr. Benjamin W. Black of Oakland, Cal., would reconsider his refusal to accept the vacant wardenship of the County hospital. For reasons of security Dr. Black said previously he would remain as head of the public hospitals in Alameda county.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, yesterday telegraphed the Alameda board to inquire if it was possible for Dr. Black to be given a year's leave of absence. Last night W. J. Hamilton, chairman of the Alameda board, said in Oakland there would be no leave granted unless Dr. Black requested it. Dr. Black gave no indication that he would do so.

12 BOYS ROW 15 MILES UP LAKE, BUT NOT ACROSS

Twelve Sea Scouts camped last night on the beach north of the coast guard station at Wilmette after rowing fifteen miles along the shore line from the Navy pier. They will resume their trip today to the Great Lakes Naval Training station. The youthful seamen, skippered by Irwin L. Lans, 22 years old, of 5200 Sheridan road, and with Herbert Gorney as first mate, are rowing a 25 foot cutter, which has an outboard motor for use when they get weary. They had planned to row forty miles across the lake to Union Pier, Mich., but had a change of heart when they were told of the hazards in the event of stormy weather.

Two Find Woman's Body in Lake; Note Tells Suicide

Passing the pilings at Deming place on the lake front last night, Frank Pfaffinger, 845 Wolfram street, and John Dorrisey, 1137 Webster street, saw a woman floating in the water. They jumped in and brought her ashore. She was dead. On the pilings they found her hat, purse, and umbrella. A note said she was ending her life because she could no longer live on $5 a week. She was about 65 years old.

N. Y. EXPERT ON SYPHILIS LAUDS CHICAGO SYSTEM

Dr. W. A. Brumfield, syphilis epidemiologist of the New York state department of health, said yesterday in a conference with Chicago leaders of the campaign against syphilis that he would recommend that New York state adopt a central mechanical tabulator system such as is now being installed here to trace the progress of venereal disease case finding and treatment.

"The system impresses me as an important adjunct in our effort to run down sources of infection at a speed greater than the rate of spread," said Dr. Brumfield.

Dr. Bertha Schaefer, chairman of the venereal division of the Council of Social Agencies, who heads the clinicians' committee supervising the tabulation, said that an attempt will be made to expand the field work of private clinics parallel to the key follow up system of the board of health. The tabulator's first report is expected in about two weeks.

100 COMMUNITY CHAIRMEN PLAN SUMMER EVENTS

About 100 community chairmen of Chicago's new century committee met yesterday in the Palmer house to make plans for the summer activities. Speakers included Mayor Kelly, Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes, secretary of the committee, and Edgar L. Schnadig, chairman of the community participation committee.

Hodes urged efforts to bring tourists to Chicago, while Mayor Kelly appealed to all community chairmen to work for the whole city. "What helps one Chicago community," the mayor said, "backwashes all over the city and helps all communities."

It is planned to make the new century committee the basis for a permanent organization to maintain national interest in Chicago.

MARRIAGE BUSINESS PICKING UP; COURT SHOWS PROFIT AGAIN

Business in the Marriage court has returned to the profit side of the ledger. During the first six months of the year 1,486 marriages were performed, Chief Justice Benjamin Epstein of the Circuit court reported yesterday.

The court, on the second floor of the County building, was established in 1917 to put a stop to racketeering practices of marrying justices, who employed runners to bring them business. Each couple is charged $5. Fees collected so far this year amounted to $7,430, of which $5,670 was used to pay the salaries of the marriage judge, a clerk, and a bailif.

In the last half of 1937 the court operated at a deficit for the first time, because Illinois' new marriage laws requiring venereal disease examinations and a three day notice of intention to wed put a crimp in its activities. In previous years the court has been self-supporting, with receipts running as high as $50,000.

GERMANIA CLUB GETS MORE TIME TO RAISE FUNDS

Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward yesterday granted the Germania club, 108 Germania place, permission to continue a membership drive until Dec. 3 in an effort to raise sufficient funds to take the organization out of bankruptcy. Sixty members met with Judge Woodward and said that 460 of a prospective 1,000 recruits had signed up.

Postmaster Ernest J. Kreutgen, Oscar Mayer, packer, and Judge John C. Lewe, who were present, told the judge that the club, one of the city's oldest, is hopeful of saving itself. The organization has net assets of $197,225 and liabilities of $192,446. It has been under federal jurisdiction since June of 1935.

RITES TODAY FOR ANNA HERRICK, WHO DIED AT 104

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Herrick, mother of C. Judson Herrick, professor emeritus of neurology at the University of Chicago, will be held at 11 a. m. today in the Oak Woods cemetery chapel. Mrs. Herrick died Thursday in her home at 6023 University avenue. On Jan. 16 she celebrated her 104th birthday.

Mrs. Anna Herrick.

Mrs. Herrick was born at Clarence, N. Y. When she was 22 years old, her family moved to Minneapolis, Minn., and helped to develop it from a straggling river village. She had lived in Chicago since 1907.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Mary Emma Crosby.

Mrs. Mary Emma Crosby, 93 years old, 721 Emerson street, Evanston, a resident of the suburb since 1894, died in her home yesterday from complications which followed injuries suffered in a fall June 15. Mrs. Crosby was born in Newark, N. J., and came to Chicago in 1882. Her husband, John Smith Crosby, who died nine years ago, was a veteran silversmith. Two daughters, Miss E. Isabel Crosby, who lived with her, and Mrs. Henry W. Pond, 1643 Ridge avenue, Evanston, survive. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. today in First Methodist church chapel, Evanston. Burial will be in Racine, Wis.

William F. Farrell.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. today in his home for William F. Farrell, 1348 Rosedale avenue, retired department manager of the Crane company. He died Wednesday at the age of 81, in the Evanston hospital. Mr. Farrell will be buried in Morrison, Ill., where he lived before coming to Chicago nearly fifty years ago. His widow, Mrs. Viola K. Farrell, former president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, and a son, Harry K. Farrell, survive.

Mrs. Louise Schwartz.

Mrs. Louise Schwartz, 83 years old, 4452 Woodlawn avenue, a resident of the south side for sixty years, died yesterday in St. Luke's hospital of injuries received in a fall in the Blackstone hotel on April 22. Mrs. Schwartz was active in Red Cross and Women's Republican club affairs. Two daughters survive. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon in the chapel at 4227 Cottage Grove avenue. Burial will be in Oak Woods cemetery.

Senora Eudoxia Fernandez.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, June 24.—Senora Eudoxia Castro Fernandez, widow of President Demetrio Iglesias, died today. She was 94 years old. Senora Fernandez was the granddaughter of Manuel Fernandez, president in 1835, and daughter of Dr. Jose Maria Castro, president in 1847. Her husband was elected president in 1898 and 1902. Her son, Rafael Iglesias, was president in 1894-'98.

Yarnall Abbott.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 24.—[Special.]—Yarnall Abbott, painter, writer, and lecturer, who had been president of the Philadelphia Art alliance for the last two years, died at his home here today. He was 67 years old. Mr. Abbott chiefly was known for his work in oils. He was a musician, too, having been an organist and choirmaster at the Church of the Atonement here.

William R. Spratt Jr.

Funeral services were held yesterday in Our Lady of Mount Carmel church for William R. Spratt Jr., 47 years old, who died Monday in Washington, D. C. Mr. Spratt was chief of investment trust investigations for the Securities and Exchange commission. His widow, Gladys, and a daughter, Mrs. Constance Grabow, of Chicago, survive.

ROBBER FOILED AGAIN IN HOLDUP AT DANCE HALL

For the second time in a week an attempt was made last night to rob the ticket office of the Trianon ballroom at 6201 Cottage Grove avenue. A bandit approached the wicket late in the night holding his hand in his coat pocket and demanded that the cashier, Miss Mae Bothe, 23 years old, hand over the night's receipts.

As she prepared to comply, however, he removed his hand from his pocket. When Miss Bothe saw he was holding no gun she ran from the ticket cage and slammed the door. The bandit fled. The robber of a week ago last night fled when two young men approached the cage to buy tickets.

BROKER IN KANKAKEE IS NAMED IN $100,000 SUIT FOR LOVE THEFT

St. Louis, Mo., June 24.—[Special.]—William Lemenager, an insurance broker and well known amateur golfer of Kankakee, Ill., was accused in a $100,000 alienation of affections suit on file here today of persuading the wife of another man to leave her husband.

The suit was filed by Charles Dean Eaton, St. Louis insurance man and former mining engineer. Eaton also filed suit for divorce against Mrs. Judith Eaton. He said Mrs. Eaton left him March 23 and is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Branch Flournoy Spencer, at South Haven, Mich.

Lemenager met Mrs. Eaton Feb. 17, 1937, when he was a groomsman at the wedding of his cousin, Earl Henri Lemenager of Chicago, to Miss Jane Spencer, sister of Mrs. Eaton. The Eatons have two children, Judith, 4 years old, and Janet, 2½.

Dr. A. E. Turner.

Bloomington, Ill., June 24.—[Special.]—Dr. A. E. Turner, 77 years old, former president of Lincoln college for more than twenty-five years, a Presbyterian minister, died late yesterday in Vandalia. He left Lincoln college in 1931, was ordained a minister and had served pastorates at Sullivan and Vandalia. His body will be taken to Lincoln, Ill., for burial.

Mrs. Bella Levitetz.

Funeral services for Mrs. Bella Levitetz, widow of Herman Levitetz, were held yesterday in Anshe Sholom synagogue, with burial in Waldheim cemetery. Mrs. Levitetz, who was 82 years old, died yesterday in her home at 3807 Van Buren street. She was born in Latvia and came to Chicago in 1892. She had lived on the west side since that time and was active in Jewish charities. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. A. Bloomfield and Mrs. J. Sattenstein, and four sons, Louis, Samuel, Nathan, and Charles.

Walter Hodgson Treloar.

Funeral services for Walter Hodgson Treloar, 69 years old, former commissioner of streets and parks in Evanston, will be held at 2 p. m. today in the chapel at 1460 Sherman avenue in the suburb. Mr. Treloar died Thursday in the Morrison hotel, where he was an assistant manager. Surviving are his widow, Marian, three daughters, Mrs. Edith Altmeyer, Mrs. Luella Gould, and Mrs. Julian Matheson, and two sons, Horace and Walter Jr.

George James Short Broomhall.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LIVERPOOL, England, June 24.—George James Short Broomhall, world wheat expert who helped make Liverpool wheat futures the world barometer of wheat values, died last night in Liverpool. He was 82 years old. In 1888 he began to compile crop statistics which won universal respect for their accuracy.

Mrs. Ida Karlson.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Karlson, 79 years old, for many years active in south side church circles, will be held at 2 p. m. today in the Elim Free church, 78th street and Indiana avenue. Mrs. Karlson, a resident of Chicago for 68 years, died Thursday of a heart attack while walking with her husband John. The family home is at 8006 St. Lawrence avenue. Also surviving are two sons and two daughters.

Philip Livingston.

New York, June 24.—[Special.]—Philip Livingston, 76 years old, a retired lawyer, died at his home today. He was a direct descendant of a signer of the Declaration of Independence and a member of the family for which Livingston Manor in Sullivan county, New York, and Livingston street, Brooklyn, are named.

George McClellan Powers.

Morrisville, Vt., June 24.—[Special.]—George McClellan Powers, chief justice of the Vermont Supreme court, died tonight following an illness of several months. He was 76 years old.

JUDGE TO ORDER REHIRING OF 7 HEALTH WORKERS

Judge Donald S. McKinlay said yesterday he would grant a writ compelling the city board of health to reemploy seven civil service inspectors laid off in 1930 and 1931 during the city's economy program.

Attorney Michael F. Ryan contended that the health department has since employed temporary workers in their places. This was denied by the city. Judge McKinlay ruled, however, that the board did not have the right to hire temporary employés while civil service employés are waiting to be called back.

The signing of the formal order was delayed until Monday when attorneys will argue on the question of whether the seven civil service employés are entitled to back pay. Attorney Ryan said the order may affect twenty other civil service employés.

Armour, Forgan Families Have Romantic News

BY JUDITH CASS.

TWO engagement announcements involving two of Chicago's oldest and best known families are being made this morning, making this June day Cupid's red letter day so far in 1938.

From Chestnut Hills, Pa., Mrs. Thomas Charlton Henry is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Julia Rush Biddle Henry, to Philip Danforth Armour IV., son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip D. Armour of Lake Forest.

From Pleasant Valley, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. James Berwick Forgan of Lake Forest have sent word of the bethrothal of their elder daughter, Louise Margaret, to Robert Bradford Upham Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bradford Upham of Chicago.

Miss Henry Known to Chicago Families.

Miss Henry, who was educated at home, already knows some Chicagoans, for her family's summer home is in Camden, Me., where several well known Chicago families have their summer residences, including the Robert A. Gardners, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hutchins, and the Chauncey B. Borlands.

Miss Henry is arriving in Lake Forest on Monday with her youthful fiancé to visit his family. Mr. and Mrs. Armour do not plan to give one large party for their future daughter-in-law, but they will arrange for all of their close friends to meet her informally.

Mr. Armour, who has a younger brother, David, went to St. Mark's school, where his father prepared for Yale. Young "Phil" Armour does not intend to go to college, and recently he has been taking special courses at a school in Princeton, N. J. He has not yet celebrated his 21st birthday, for he was born in May, 1918, when his father was a lieutenant in the aviation corps.

The Armours and Henrys are old friends, so the engaged couple has known each other since they were children. Mr. Henry died several years ago; Mrs. Henry is not giving a party to announce the engagement, for she is in mourning for her mother. Mrs. Armour, who was married to the eldest son of Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine and the late Philip D. Armour Jr. in 1915, was Miss Gwendolyn Condon of New York. No date has been set for the wedding.

Forgan Engagement Told at Bridal Dinner.

The Forgans announced "Babby's" engagement to young Mr. Upham last night at the bridal dinner of their younger daughter, Nancy, and George Bronson Farnam, who are being married today. The dinner was given at The Lodge of Smugglers' Notch, near the Forgans' farm in Pleasant Valley, where the ceremony will be held at 12:30 o'clock today. Miss Louise Forgan was graduated from Famington in 1933 and made her debut the next season.

Mr. Upham was graduated from Rotchkiss in 1933 and from Princeton in 1937. He and his parents are in Vermont for today's wedding, at which young Mr. Upham will be an usher. No definite plans have been made for his marriage to Miss Forgan.

Miss Forgan is to be her sister's maid of honor today and the bridesmaids will be Miss Allison Green of Long Island, who also will play the organ for the ceremony; Miss Marcia Meeker, cousin of the bride; Miss Mary Armitt Brown, cousin of the bridegroom; Miss Alice Pulsifer and Miss Elizabeth Mason of New York, and Miss Dorothy McWilliams of Pasadena.

Frederick Farnam will be his brother's best man and ushering will be Carl Goepel, Charles Belknap, and Robert Spoek of New York, classmates of the bridegroom at Yale; William Warren of New Haven, and Mr. Upham. The service will be read by the Rt. Rev. Vedder Van Dyck, bishop of Vermont, under a large maple tree in a small inclosure, surrounded by a stone wall, which is in front of the farmhouse. The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, is wearing her mother's wedding dress. Mrs. Forgan was Miss Margaret Louise Meeker.

Other Chicagoans Will Be Present.

There are about 150 guests at farms and inns in Pleasant Valley for the ceremony, among them being the bride's grandmother, Mrs. George W. Meeker of Chicago. Other Chicago guests are the Lawrence A. Meekers and the Robert D. Forgans, who are uncles and aunts of the bride; the Charles S. DeLongs, the John Andrews Kings, the John C. Mechems, Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson, the R. Douglas Stuarts, and the Towner Deanes.

Mr. and Mrs. Deane have a summer home in the valley and among their house guests are the DeLongs, Mrs. James M. Cox of Dayton, Miss Anne Cox, Miss Barbara Cox, the Perry M. Shepards of Geneva, N. Y., and Frederick and Deborah Shepard. Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Forgan of Rye, N. Y., another uncle and aunt of the bride; Mrs. George Bronson Farnam of New Haven, the bridegroom's mother; Miss Elizabeth Farnam of New Haven, an aunt; Thomas Farnam of New Haven, an uncle; Mr. and Mrs. George F. Brown and three children of Villa Nova, Pa., and Armitt Brown of Franconia, N. H., an uncle of the bridegroom, are other guests.

Miss Pauline Smith Is Bride in East.

Of interest to Chicagoans was the marriage yesterday in Nantucket, Mass., of Miss Pauline Starbuck Byron Smith, daughter of Bruce D. Smith and Mrs. H. Linsly Johnson of Nantucket and Colorado Springs, to Harrison Crowell Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison B. Freeman of Hartford, Conn. The service was

Bride to Call on Mother at Hospital Bed

After they leave the reception following their wedding at 8 o'clock tonight at Trinity Episcopal church in Highland Park, Miss Jane McWhinney and David Henry Davis will go to the Highland Park hospital to call on her mother, Mrs. Curtis A. McWhinney, who underwent an emergency appendectomy last Saturday and so won't be able to attend the wedding or reception following at Mr. and Mrs. McWhinney's Highland Park home.

Mrs. McWhinney will be with her daughter early in the evening to see her put on her wedding gown and a handsome court train made of Irish applique lace that was Mrs. McWhinney's wedding dress. If she is not too tired Mrs. McWhinney may be able to go to the church, but she will not be able to attend the reception.

Miss McWhinney, who is carrying the same prayer book her mother carried, will be attended by Mrs. Edgar Lindley Hoag Jr. of Philadelphia as matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Helen Frances Daniels and Miss Elizabeth Copeland, cousins of the bride, and Miss Mary Louise Davis, sister of the bridegroom.

Mr. Davis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Zachary Taylor Davis, will have Walter Dillman Monroe Jr. for his best man. Ushering will be Lawrence C. Davis, a brother; Arthur B. Horton, William McCarthy, Robert B. Godfrey, John M. Norcott, Robert W. Barker, and William C. L. Barker.

Only relatives and a few close friends will hear the Rev. Christoph Keller read the service. The reception will be larger. Mr. Davis and his bride will have a month's honeymoon trip in the east. They will live on the north shore.

An old handkerchief of Brussells lace that is an heirloom in the family of Donald Simpson Eddy will be carried by Miss Betty DeVere Wilder at her marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hooker Eddy this afternoon. The wedding is taking place at 4:30 o'clock at St. Mark's church, Evanston, with a reception following in the gardens of the Eddy home, which is just across the street from the church.

The bride, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Edwin Wilder, will have Mrs. Stanhope Adams for her matron of honor. Mrs. Arlindo S. Cate [Nancy Knode], Mrs. Roger Sherman [Leslie Wilson], and Miss Elizabeth Trumbull will be the bridesmaids. Thomas H. Eddy Jr. will be his brother's best man, and ushering will be Cameron Eddy, Bradford L. Tobey, Mr. Sherman, James Morgan Sherman, Barton Cameron, and Alfred Edwards of Elgin.

Mr. Eddy and his bride will live in Evanston.

At 8 o'clock tonight in the chapel of the Fourth Presbyterian church Miss Jane Olson, daughter of Mrs. Harry Olson and the late Judge Olson, will become the bride of Dr. Albert Henry Andrews Jr., son of Dr. Albert H. Andrews and the late Mrs. Andrews of Chicago.

The bride, who will wear her mother's wedding slippers, will be attended by Mrs. Theodore Finch, and Stuart Kenney will be Dr. Andrews' best man. The Rev. Theodore C. Hume of the New England church will officiate.

No previous announcement has been made of the engagement or approaching marriage of Miss Olson to Dr. Andrews. The bride, who attended the Francis Parker school, is a graduate of Northwestern university, where she was a May queen. Following her graduation in 1929 she was assistant dean of women at Northwestern, and then for three years was regional trainer on the national staf of Girl Scouts.

A wedding of interest taking place at the Holy Rosary church in Milwaukee today is that of Miss Mary Angela White, daughter of Mrs. Albert White ,to Louis John Dunphy. A reception will follow at the Wisconsin club. Mari-Beth Bird, daughter of the Donald Birds of Winnetka, will be her cousin's flower girl, and Thomas P. Keogh of Highland Park will be among the Yale classmates ushering for Mr. Dunphy.

Miss June Hejda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Hejda of 1139 Asbury avenue, Winnetka, and Giles Arthur Eldred, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Eldred of 7619 Bosworth avenue, will be married at 8 o'clock tonight in Christ church, Winnetka. A reception will follow at the Winnetka Woman's club.

Mrs. W. C. Gawlas of 3802 Lincoln avenue announces the marriage on June 18 of her daughter, Helene, to Ray Daryl Kinkaid, son of Mrs. Ella Kinkaid of Rochester, Minn. The wedding took place at St. Andrew's church. The bride, a graduate of the Sacred Heart school in Memphis, Tenn., is known as Helene Bender, a dancer. Mr. Kinkaid is a graduate of Northwestern university.

The marriage of Miss Yolanda Cavadore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cavadore, to James Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stewart of Chehalis, Wash., will take place tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have come east for the wedding. Young Mr. Stewart has been engaged in business in Chicago for two years.

Museum Tours.

"Moon, Meteorites and Minerals" will be the subject of the first of next week's guide lecture tours at the Field museum. The tour will be given at 3 o'clock on Monday. On the other days at the same hour the tour subjects will be: Tuesday and Thursday, a general tour; Wednesday, Islands of the Pacific." On Friday there will be two tours, "Minerals and Prehistoric Life" at 11 o'clock and a general tour at 3 o'clock.

Miss Anne Tracy Is Bride

Mrs. William Rossmoore was Miss Anne Alexander Tracy until yesterday when she and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Rossmoore of Baldwin Harbor, N. Y., were married at the home of her mother, Mrs. Raymond L. Redheffer, and Mr. Redheffer, in East Delaware place. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Howard Van Sinderen Tracy, and the service was read by the Rev. Ray Everett Carr of St. Peter's Episcopal church. Mr. and Mrs. Rossmoore have left for a honeymoon in Wisconsin.

Summer Suits Offer Style at Bargain Price

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The best looking finds for the very small sum marked on their price tags are the summer suits, regardless of your likes or dislikes about strictly tailored models. For around $10 ranging up to peak altitude, $25, you can find dozens of beauties designed for every sort of a streamline.

Palm beach models, just as swanky as those your big brother boasts, are cut for feminine silhouettes, tailored, pocketed, and pleated in the pencil slim skirt. Single breasted and double breasted, cutaway or square pockets, with long cleverly fitted sleeves that really fit, and have a waistline that revives all your lagging enthusiasm about keeping within the diet laws. Snow white, natural, pink, blues and coppers, and a few blacks offer an unbeatable assortment.

Weaves should please the most exacting . . . everything from the smooth, dull stuff to the stunning coarse peasant or rustic linens. All are of tropic airiness; not one of them weighs more than a matter of ounces, and they'll look spick and span after the longest and hottest day in town or country. Most of them can be worn without the extra layer of a blouse if you wish. A chiffon ascot, a net frilled vestee, or one of the more spectacular silk scarfs tied to simulate a good blouse front can be used.

The copper colored suits are better than ever. With spanking white costume accents a frilled organdy guimpe or short sleeved blouse, they're high fashion for daytime and office wear. Try matching linen footgear, a copper colored blouse dotted in white, a dark copper linen hat, white gloves and bag. Such an ensemble takes any one through an occasional cool day just as smartly as though the entire outfit were thin wool.

This summer's crop of palm beach and tropic cool summer fabric suits are well worth all the present excitement, and are bargains with incredibly low price marks.

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 24.—As the result of an agreement between Chilean authorities and a German film producer, Dr. Arnold Fank, fifteen technicians and a number of German actors will arrive from Berlin in a few days to start production of a dozen full length pictures here for world distribution as well as descriptive films of national landscapes and life. Half a million gold marks have already been paid as an advance.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The "back to the oil" movement in beauty care has plenty to recommend it. Most skins need oiling for various reasons. And the great trouble with the dry skinned sisterhood, as we see it, is that they aren't consistent about the oiling problem. Instead of lubricating the skin every day all year 'round they let the oiling program slide until winter, when there is much weeping and wailing because of discomfort and disfiguring flakiness.

If you have dry skin, then, remember to keep oiling it even though it doesn't feel dry now. If you wish you can use a thinnish but still rich oil for the purpose. One great favorite that has won thousands of followers in the last two years is a marvelous summer lubricant. It can be used sparingly each night on face and neck. You'll be charmed at what a skin smoother and soother it is.

Quite by accident, some one discovered that this same skin lubricant is a humdinger for the sun worshipers. Those who want that even golden tan use it before exposure. It sort of prepares the skin for the sun's rays. And for all women who find wind and sun trying on the old complexion this is a good oil to use after exposure. It counteracts the damaging effects, replacing the oils that exposure has sapped out.

This oil is marvelous, too, for the rough skin on legs and elbows, which the play suits and bathing suits show up so mercilessly. Used consistently, it will make the coarse skin satin smooth. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Music Notes

The first of a series of free band concerts will be given on the east end of Navy pier beginning at 8:15 tonight. There will be another concert at 3:30 tomorrow. These Saturday night and Sunday afternoon events at the pier are to continue throughout the summer.

The National Music camp, Interlochen, Mich., opens its 1938 season officially tomorrow. The study and practice of music under ideal summer surroundings are the aims of the camp.

Mundelein to Officiate at Investiture Service

Cardinal Mundelein will officiate at the investiture of the Rev. Theodore Czastka, pastor of St. Wenceslaus church, 3400 North Monticello avenue, as a domestic prelate with title of right reverend monsignor, Sunday noon. Father Czastka has been pastor of St. Wenceslaus church since 1923.

German Song Festival Ends in Happy Mood

BY EDWARD BARRY.

A short congratulatory address by Mayor Kelly, the announcement of an invitation from the management of the Ninth Chicagoland music festival to the Chicago male chorus to take part in the Soldiers' field program of Aug. 20, and the music making of a solid acre of singers were features last evening of the gala closing session of the 39th national German-American song festival. The scene was at the International amphitheater at the stockyards.

The acre held 5,000 men, the program books said. If this is true then it is easy to understand why tone swelled so easily up to a towering fortissimo without the chorus even once giving the impression that it was about to split a collective gut.

Besides the huge festival chorus the program offered Anna Kruetgen, soprano; Mark Love, bass, and sixty members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

Besides Walter Steindel, who has taken most of the conducting during the festival and impressed the audience consistently with his charm of manner and with the sparkle and sureness of his musicianship, the directors for this final program were H. A. Rehberg and Rheinhold Walter.

Seven thousand persons in festal mood attended the concert. They applauded loudly at each entrance and exit, gasped in delicious terror as Mr. Rehberg mounted a great mound of boxes in order to command a better view of his 5,000 singers, and laughed unbelievingly when Mark Love announced that he would sing a newly discovered piece called "The Road to Mandalay." Seriously, research on Mr. Love's part would reveal, I believe, other earlier performances of this song.

The feature of the afternoon concert was a children's chorus of 2,500 voices whose members were so enthusiastic about their conductor, Ludwig Lohmiller, that they tendered him a thundering, whistling ovation nearly every time he appeared in the distance. This admiration was due, no doubt, to personal qualities which the children had discovered in Mr. Lohmiller during their rehersals, but it might as justly have been the result of their recognition of his musical endowments.

For in his handling of the giant ensemble Mr. Lohmiller was able to keep words distinct, phrases distinguished, and tempos varied without ever sacrificing the fresh, dewy, and often attractively urchinlike tone which is the choir's chief glory. The children sang a generous number of folk melodies which their forefathers had brought from the homeland long ago and which the descendants of these adventurous yet sentimental souls have continued to cherish through all the generations during which the process of Americanization has been going on.

Annemarie Gerts [adult] sang an air from "The Marriage of Figaro" and Schubert's "The Erl King" in a richly textured voice and in admirable style. Margaret Willem, also an adult, offered an excerpt from "Die Tote Stadt" and Oley Speak's "Morning." She quite took the curse off the latter by means of the infectious enthusiasm of her delivery and the breadth of her vocal powers.

Net proceeds of the five concerts of the festival amounted to about $10,000. This sum will be devoted to charity.

Mary Duke Biddle, 18, and Young Physician in Surprise Wedding

Durham, N. C., June 24.—(AP)—Mary Duke Biddle, 18, daughter of Mrs. Mary Duke Biddle of New York and Anthony Drexel Biddle, ambassador to Poland, was married here today to Dr. Josiah Charles Trent, 23, son of Mrs. Mary Simpson Trent of Okmulgee, Okla.

Mary Duke Biddle.

Dr. Trent was graduated from Duke university in 1934 and this month received his medical degree from the University of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Trent is a senior at Duke.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip abroad.

The bride is a great niece of the late James B. Duke, whose tobacco and power millions built Trinity college into Duke university, one of the most heavily endowed schools in the country.

Parks to Show Rare Blooms in Summer Flower Exhibitions

More than 200 varieties of flowers and plants will go on display next Friday in the annual summer flower exhibits at Garfield park and Lincoln park conservatories. The exhibits will be open from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m. each day through Labor day.

Caladia, a variety of elephant ear, and begonias, both flowering and foliage, will be the features of the shows. In addition there will be a number of lily plants, gloxinia, resembling the morning glory and the brightly plumed Jacobinia. A floral rarity, the pandanus, screw pine from the Philippines, will be on exhibition.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

W. C. Fields in Person.

Hollywood, Cal., June 24.—All checks for performers on the Charlie McCarthy program are signed by C. H. Christ. . . . W. C. Fields always refers to Mr. Christ's checks as "pennies from heaven," and uses them to buy the smoothest sherry the market can provide. . . . After the Louis massacre of Schmeling, Fields held forth long and earnestly on the conclusion to be drawn from Schmeling's explanation that the first blow to the kidney paralyzed him.

Fields' nose, his pride and joy.

"It simply bears out what I've always contended," said Fields. "A kidney needs a good alcoholic lining to stand up under wear and tear. Schmeling was the victim of clean living. I dare say that if Louis or any other professional slasher dealt me such a blow that their hands would crumple from the impact. As a result of long and serious drinking I've developed protective ripples of muscle over my kidneys. I will live to be 112 years old, or perhaps a fortnight longer than that, and I deserve it, because I've gone out of my way to live the wrong way. Some of my best friends are bartenders, but most of them die young. They can dish it out, but they can't take it."

Fields, nee Dukenfield [that's his real tag] is refreshing to interview. Hollywood stars invariably try to steer an interview into channels that are safe and sane, and try to incorporate in the record views and beliefs that will set well with their public. I suggested to Fields that his unorthodox views on living would not be an inspirational document to give to the children of the country.

"The children should not be given inspirational documents," he retorted, "because children largely are brats. As some one more eloquent than me has said: 'It is a pity that youth is wasted on the very young.' Youth should be reserved for old codgers like me. I'd know how to use it. Kids just squander it. They have no judgment of distance, no change of pace. They want to go roller skating or ride a bike. Now, you know that is silly when there are so many worthwhile things to do.

"As a child I was a brat. A man once said to my father in our parlor: 'I've never met such a repulsive child as your son. He probably will become a juggler.' At this my mother started sobbing and as the man turned his back pa hit him a terrible blow. When the man fell from pa's cowardly blow I kicked him in the face. But, although we got him down, truth would not be suppressed. I DID become a juggler."

At 58 Fields sits on his Bel-Air terrace and looks back on a full life and a full professional career that has carried him to nearly every country on the globe. Juggling, which is a version of pantomime, is not restricted by language, so he played all over the world.

"I became a juggler because I wanted a job which didn't require me to get up early in the morning," Fields said. "I've always been opposed to regimentation, and when I learned from a juggler that he didn't have to get up until noon I knew that was something that would make me happy. So I learned how to do it.

"Life was roseate. The first show was a 2:30 matinée, permitting late sleeping. The second show was 8:30 at night. As the years crept on it irked me to rush back for the 8:30 show, because a man should have time in which to eat his dinner and digest it leisurely. That's why I quit the stage and went into movies. I wanted time for dinner. Then, to my chagrin, I learned that I had to get up at 6 a. m." Fields is very bitter about this ultimate betrayal.

He is proud of few things, but he is proud of his nose: "The patriarchs grew long white beards," he points out. "Westminster abbey is noted for its century-old ivy. I can't grow a long white beard or ivy, but the testament of my age is my nose. Take your nose, for instance, Ed. It has no personality to it. Then look at this almost luminous bulk of mine and you will see what I mean. It has almost a spiritual quality to its phosphorescence. A lot of liquor has flowed under the bridge of that nose to bequeath it that singular loveliness."

Fields says that Frank Tinney, Al Jolson, Charlie Chaplin, and Ed Wynn were four of the greatest entertainers he ever saw on a stage. He says that Willis Sweatman, who worked in blackface, was another. "Sweatman would come out on the stage and say 'Good night' when he should have said 'Good evening.' For fifteen minutes Sweatman would continue apologizing and berating himself for erring, and I've never heard any performer who got bigger laughs out of a simple formula. Yet his name rarely is mentioned in listing great performers. Bert Williams possibly was the greatest colored character comedian. Groucho Marx, Charlie Mack, McIntyre and Heath, Jack Benny, Willie Howard—I'd have to mention fifty others to give you a complete list."

Mr. Dukenfield of Philadelphia, like most of the comics, is an omnivorous reader. He says that his greatest comedy has come from taking serious passages in books and reciting them almost word for word. His famous recitation: "Some of My Best Friends Were Indians," came from a history of the Alamo, as did his "I Carved My Way through a Wall of Bare Flesh." These sober lines in serious books arouse his hilarity, and he uses them as comedy lines, first inventing the situation to dress up the lines.

He spends most of his time on the terrace of his home, and his secretary sits at the outdoor phone and does her work on an outdoor desk. Fields spends most of his time answering the phone or calling up friends. He addresses his secretary as "Mickey Mouse."

America Ranks High in World Poster Exhibit

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

A superb exhibition of posters is on view in the Lakeside Press Galleries, 350 East 22d street, to continue to October. It is an international affair and practically every country in Europe and South America is represented with the startling exception of Russia. The United States has a good showing. Switzerland, France, Sweden, England, and Italy present some stunning examples of poster craft.

In as comprehensive an exhibit as this there is, naturally, art of all schools. There is some work rather advanced in design, some quite conservative. The exhibition as a whole, however, is a brilliant demonstration of graphic art technique as related to posters. There are many posters present that are guaranteed to give you a thrill!

An exhibition of water colors of New Orleans by Morris Henry Hobbs has opened in the Paul Theobald gallery, 104 South Michigan avenue, to continue to July 9. These water colors give us another side of Mr. Hobbs' genius. His etchings are in decided contrast. There is a freshness and looseness about the water colors that is attractive. They are colorful and decorative, rather picturesque in point of quality.

Among the nicest ones are "The Little Shop," "Slave Quarters, Dauphine Street," "The White House, Gov. Nicholls Street," "Doorway," and "Kentucky Hill Country."

The summer school of the Art institute will open next Monday. The same date sees the opening of the Saugatuck School of Painting, sponsored by the Art institute, at Saugatuck, Mich.

ENGAGEMENT

Gigli's Singing Chief Interest in Italian Film

"AVE MARIA."

An Itala production.
Presented at the World Playhouse.

THE CAST.

Tino Dossi.....Beniamino Gigli
Claudette.....Kathe von Nagy
Amadeus Winkler.....Paul Henckels
Michel.....Harald Paulsen
Prima donna.....Erna Berger

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"What do you mean—changing pictures on me in the middle of the week—and 'Gaiety Girls' being such a good movie?" I asked the genial manager of the World Playhouse.

He shrugged a baffled shoulder. For some reason, it seemed, the English "musical" hadn't caught on. Why, he didn't know. Neither do I, and I think you fans missed a delightful movie.

"Ave Maria," replacing "Gaiety Girls" in such a hurry, is another of those foreign productions in which a great Italian VOICE has his heart broken and mended. This time the VOICE is Beniamino Gigli, and the heart breaker and mender [I should have reversed that, for she mends before she breaks—organ having been in a sadly cracked condition when she took on] is a café entertainer, Claudette, fascinatingly impersonated by Kathe von Nagy.

Tino Dossi is a tenor who has loved and lost his love. Life holds nothing for him but a career that has become as dust and ashes when there comes into it a sweet country maid who tells him she, too, had been likewise bereaved. . . . You know, but Tino doesn't, that this gentle dove and her gentleman friend, who runs the café aforementioned, are out to take Tino plenty. What nobody guesses is that Tino's kindness and genuine goodness are to make a new woman of Claudette, fill her heart with adoration for the golden voiced man mountain, and cause her to—do what she does do.

Even his best friend wouldn't tell Signor Gigli that he's either a great actor or looker. But HOW he can sing! This trip he sings on the stage, on the water, in a garden, in a hospital, and while dangling a screaming baby in his arms. The infant is immediately pacified—showing himself a child of no mean musical taste.

Kathe von Nagy is a charmer. Harald Paulsen, as the handsome sneering villain, and Paul Henckels, as Dossi's best friend, are splendid. Minor parts are in good hands, as was the direction.

And some of the scenery is gorgeous!

I think you'll like "Ave Maria." [But I thought you'd like "Gaiety Girls"—so, who am I to think!]

Mrs. Ickes Is First Cabinet Wife to Hold Press Conference

Washington, D. C., June 24.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ickes, bride of the secretary of the interior, emulating Mrs. Roosevelt, held a "press conference" for women writers this afternoon at Headwaters farm, the country place purchased by the secretary about a year ago.

This is the first time a cabinet hostess had held such a conference, but it was a compromise between an informal tea and an interviewing party.

The place is a lovely one, far in from the road and beyond Olney, Md., about twenty-five miles from Washington. But it was the youthful bride which attracted the interest. She shows her youth, but she has beautiful poise, charming grace of manner, and great cordiality and is quite "to the manor born." Mrs. Ickes is a beautiful woman. Her hair is red and wavy, not a bright red but a soft, lovely pinkish red and she has the complexion which goes with such, and frank blue eyes. She has dimples and a ready smile.

SYNOPSIS.

On board the S. S. Panama Queen, sailing from Los Angeles via Panama to New York, are Anne Sydney, who has a part in a Broadway play, and her crippled and embittered sister, Mena; Arnold Vernon, rich English motion picture producer, and his coldly beautiful wife, Claire. Isobel Butler has a stateroom next to the Vernon suite and hopes to get in pictures through him. Alex Reed, young surgeon, is returning to work after two years' illness. At the purser's table Anne meets gossipy Mrs. Panting, Isobel Butler, and Alex Reed. Through Mrs. Panting Isobel meets Arnold Vernon. He invites her for a cocktail before dinner.

INSTALMENT VI.

NOT SO CLEVER.

Arnold Vernon raised his glass. "Why so thoughtful, Miss Butler? I don't usually have such a depressing effect on young ladies."

Isobel started and laughed. "I'm not usually like a clam, either. It just happened I had something on my mind. I was a little bit disappointed, too, that Mrs. Vernon didn't make it. I rather wanted to know her. She's lovely, isn't she?"

Intuition struck deep, and a thrill tingled through her. The great Vernon was hurt—he was lonely. He was wide open for warmth, for feminine sympathy if sufficiently cleverly extended. It would not be necessary to beg or hope for favors in the way of introductions or contracts. There was another way.

She went directly to her objective, not as cleverly as she thought—Isobel was not subtle—but the best way she knew how. "And she's lucky, too. The moment I laid eyes on you sitting beside her I thought—'Well there's a good-looking girl who's got what ought to be coming to her—a man with a great mind and a wonderful heart.' Not every good-looking girl gets what she ought to get by a long shot."

Isobel laughed apologetically, keeping her laugh on a low key. "What am I saying? I shouldn't be talking to you like this. Just one cocktail does it. You see I'm not used to drinking."

Arnold Vernon was faintly pleased, but not convinced. "You see a great deal don't you, Miss Butler? On the run so to speak—as you're passing by."

"I don't see so much. I feel. I have intuition. Don't you ever feel things—things you couldn't see if you looked for them—things you can't put a name to?"

He had been feeling such things all day until he had come into the smoke room enveloped in a black cloud of pessimism. Isobel's company was dissipating it in spite of his scepticism. "Yes, I suppose all sensitive people feel things unseen some time or another. Are you on the trip for a vacation, or are you taking the long way round to New York?"

Isobel took a long shot. "I'm going to New York—but England's my destination. I thought I'd like to look into some of this tropical business on the way."

"You put it rather quaintly Miss Butler. Is it your first visit over there?"

"Yes. You see I—" She stopped, one word about her ambition or intentions now and her opportunity would elude her forever. She added— "I have some distant relations there—people I've never seen."

He was looking at her with shrewd humorous eyes. She had the impression that she amused him, but not at all in the way she had intended to. He was not laughing with her, but at her. Not that he would show it. The man was the essence of good breeding and politeness.

Walking down the deck outside the bugler played the musical call to dinner for the second time. Mr. Vernon beckoned the steward for his chit. "How the time flies," commented Isobel ruefully.

He rose. "It always does in good company. But I must hurry away now and join my wife."

He left the elevator at B deck and Isobel descended to the dining salon and made her way to the purser's table.

Mrs. Vernon came in shortly afterwards, preceding her husband, looking as usual straight ahead of her with her habitual disdainful air of superiority. She was gowned in supple cloth of silver which seemed to twinkle with a thousand stars as it caught the light. It was high at the front, caught round the neck with a blazing diamond necklace. There was nothing but naked brown satin skin at the back down to a very low waistline.

Mrs. Panting was still smarting from Mrs. Vernon's frigid politeness, and her views on the manners and immodesty of young women dominated the dinner table conversation.

She took possession of Mena afterwards. "I need some help," she said. "I'm overwhelmed with work over the competitions. You can arrange some lists for me."

"But I don't want——" began the sullen unwilling girl. Mrs. Panting took her by the arm. "You're going to play in the bridge tournament, too. Make up your mind to like it——"

Alex Reed took the opportunity to slip to Anne's side as she emerged from the elevator on the promenade deck. "Noticed how brilliant the stars are tonight, Miss Sydney? Let's go to the boat deck and have our fill of them."

She went up the companion, followed him across the children's playground and past the passengers' barrier to where the two deep wicker chairs were hidden under the lifeboats outside the radio operator's cabin.

Anne settled herself in the deep chair and Alex drew his close to hers. He said: "There's no sight to compare with a starry night over desert or ocean. They go on without end. You get perspective in this clear air—you can see depth under depth of them."

She looked at the prodigious hemisphere of stars which arched over them and sank out of sight behind the black circle of the sea from rim to rim. "It's exciting—too exciting. Makes me feel so insignificant and small——"

She could see his clean-cut face, shadowed but clearly defined, as her eyes grew used to the starlight. He turned to her with a warm smile. "Small you are, but not insignificant. I've been waiting for you to tell me about this wonderful thing you're going to be—this dream you feel has already come true."

"I'm going on the stage. I have a small part waiting for me at the Cosmopolitan theater—my first chance in the east, and right on Broadway."

"That's extraordinary! You mean without any previous experience."

"O no, I've had that. I've worked for three years at the Playhouse in Pasadena. The man who wrote the play I'm going to be in was out in Hollywood and he saw my work."

Alex was thinking—but she's so photographic, photogenique they called it. And Hollywood going color conscious. "Odd they didn't grab you for the movies first."

"I did have some offers. Offers for tests, I mean. But I didn't want that. I said no."

"You mean you passed up that quick easy money?"

"Yes. That isn't what I want. What I feel. I have a friend in pictures. I've seen her at work. Taking and taking and retaking on one scene—evening dress in the morning—the scenes taken without sequence. No—no. It's art I know. But not for me. I want to be there personally—use my power over the audience. I wish I could explain more clearly what I mean. The way I put it sounds so conceited."

"I understand perfectly what you mean. And it isn't conceited. You have this genius burning in you. Consequently it tells you exactly what you ought to do."

"Really Alex—you're the most inspiring person. Where did you learn all these things—or were you just born that way?"

"First instinct Anne—and then experience. It wasn't possible for me to be a surgeon because the family just didn't have the money for it. But I had to be one just the same. I worked my way through college. I wouldn't like to tell you some of the things I went through after that. I bought my birthright rather dearly."

"O, do tell me about it——"

He laughed. "Some day perhaps—when I know you better——" He felt he knew her well enough now, but Alex hated talking about himself.

"But when will that be?" she asked him.

"I'm going to be at least a year at the Julius Severn hospital, so we'll both be in New York."

read at noon in St. Paul's Episcopal church by the Rev. Chauncey Blodgett with a reception following at Mrs. Johnson's home.

First Debutante Party Will Be Held Tonight.

The 100 young people who have been invited to the first debutante party of the season, a dinner-dance Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hale are giving at their Winnetka home tonight for their daughter, Miss Mary Hale, are hoping with their host and hostess that the weather will be good.

If the weather is clear Mr. and Mrs. Hale and the debutante plan to receive out of doors on a terrace, and the dancing will be on a floodlighted platform in the garden. If it rains the party will be moved indoors.

Two of Miss Hale's Dobbs Ferry school friends have come for the party, Miss Rosemary Merrill of Washington, D. C., and Miss Pauline Herrick of Long Island. Later in the season Mr. and Mrs. Hale plan to entertain again for their daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Ernst C. Von Ammon are giving a luncheon tomorrow for Miss Hale.

Lake Geneva Yacht Club Will Hold Race Today.

Members of the Lake Geneva Yacht club will gather at the clubhouse today for a luncheon following a boat race in the morning for the Dr. Otto L. Schmidt Memorial trophy. There has been a race for this trophy every year since the death of Dr. Schmidt, who was "the father" of yachting on Lake Geneva.

There will be dancing at the Knollwood and the Sunset Ridge clubs tonight. Sans Souci is the name the Knollwood has given its party, which will start at 9 o'clock with dancing out of doors. The Sunset Ridge party is a dinner-dance.

A number of Lake Forest friends of the junior Edward A. Cudahys and the Columbus Healys will be deserting the final performances of the Lake Forest horse show to motor to Aurora for the annual farm day at the Cudahys' property on Sugar Grove turnpike.

From 4,000 to 5,000 farmers from all over the United States will be welcomed at the farm today to see and buy Mr. Cudahy's famed Belgian horses. The Healys and the Cudahys will serve an al fresco luncheon to the visitors.

The first matches between the five teams in the North Shore Interclub Tennis club will be held tomorrow, Knollwood playing at the Indian Hill and the Country Club of Evanston playing at the Exmoor Country club. The fifth team, the Skokie Country club, has drawn a bye. The Indian Hill team, winners of the club's silver trophy last year, is made up of Albert Winston, John McConnell, Jeffrey Shore Jr., Francis R. Stanton, Donald and Edward Brown, and Charles Goodrich.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Bohrer will open their home at 120 South Sheridan road, Lake Forest, tomorrow at 5:30 o'clock for a musical and buffet supper for the benefit of the Chicago City Opera Student fund.

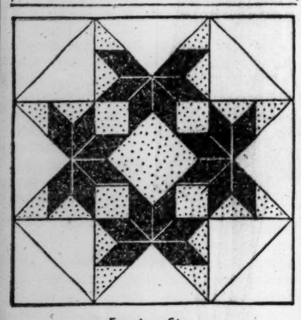
Evening Star Is Celestial Design of Quilt Block



Evening Star.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

The evening star possesses such undeniable beauty that many of the finest examples of superior beauty in various art fields have been given that name. From the opera "Tannhäuser" we have that soul stirring "Evening Star." From the realm of antique quilts we have the outstanding example of pieced work based on a nine patch pattern and endeavoring to reproduce in a small way the magnificence of the nocturnal and celestial masterpiece. Light blue, yellow, and white are the colors selected to interpret the star. Thirty pieced blocks are required for a coverlet measuring 90 by 107 inches. These squares are set together with 3 inch bands of white material between the blocks and a 4 inch border around the quilt.

For a limited period Nancy Cabot offers ten quilt patterns of her own choice at a price of 10 cents for the group (12 cents by mail). Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

A Chicago cook, whom we shall call Mrs. H., is sad about a recipe of ours and the results it brought her when she tried it. The recipe is one for sour cream spice cakes, and Mrs. H. reports that they were more rubbery than cakelike.

We know the answer to her problem. She used artificially soured cream instead of naturally soured cream in her cakes. I am a devotee of "culture" cream for most purposes, but it just doesn't work in cakes. I've tried time and again to produce a good cake with the artificially soured cream, and so far haven't had much success. The texture, as Mrs. H. complains, is coarse and somewhat "rubbery." Culture cream is so splendid for other cooking purposes that it's a shame it won't make good cakes. I'm trying to investigate the matter thoroughly and when I find a solution I'll publish it. It's more convenient and more sanitary to buy dairy made sour cream than to try to sour your own, so I think my little research project is a worthy one. In the meantime I'd advise Mrs. H. and others to make sweet cream spice cakes, or to sour their own cream by either letting it stand in a warm place or by adding a small amount of vinegar or lemon juice.

"How do you prepare creamed chicken and pineapple in patty cakes? You suggested the dish in a menu recently," writes another Chicago cook. I had in mind a combination of cooked, diced chicken with cubed pineapple and plain white sauce, served in the patty shells sold at any good bakery. But chicken and pineapple à la king makes the fowl and fruit mixture a little more partified.

Chicken and Pineapple à la King.

¼ cup flour
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups chicken stock or milk
3 cups cooked, diced chicken
1 pimiento, cut fine
½ cup mushrooms, sautéed in butter
½ cup diced pineapple
¾ cup cream

Make a white sauce of the flour, butter, salt, and stock or milk. If the chicken was salted during cooking do not use as much salt as a teaspoonful. Add chicken, pimiento, mushrooms, and pineapple to sauce, heat thoroughly, and thin with cream just long enough before serving to allow the dish to be thoroughly hot. Serve on toast or in patty shells.

Preview 'Styles and Smiles' Movie Next Wednesday

The motion picture "Styles and Smiles," which was produced by the Nilah Brooks Model Service agency with Chicago models, will be shown at a preview in the Congress hotel next Wednesday and Thursday. The film has for its story the success of an American dress designer who goes to Paris to compete with French modistes. Marion Lynn, 18, who was Miss Chicago of 1936, has the leading rôle.

Suspender Dress a Flatterer

FROCK IN JUNIOR SIZES.

There are at least two ways in which you can style this gay little suspender dress, which so beautifully accents your slender waistline. The sketch at the left shows a printed sheer dress with the girdle and straps of contrasting fabric and color. The illustration at the right suggests the straps, girdle and skirt of one color, the blouse of another shade and fabric. Either styling is attractive.

The neckline may be either square or round. In either case there is plenty of shirring to lend fullness to the bodice. The sleeves may be long or short, and invariably are shirred for fullness at the shoulder and at the cuff. The skirt has swing.

The lacings of the girdle may wind around buttons or be brought through eyelets. If you like, use a touch of embroidery, always a pretty "peasant" touch. There's a pattern for it, No. E-11183, available for 10 cents extra.

Style No. 2744 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 years. Size 15 requires 4 yards of 39 inch material for the dress, and ¾ yard of 39 inch fabric for suspenders and belt.

Dr. Seedoff Celebrates 50 Years as Lutheran Pastor

Rockford, Ill., June 24.—[Special.]—Dr. J. F. Seedoff, 77, celebrated today the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination as a minister in the Augustana Lutheran synod. Until his retirement, he was pastor of First Lutheran church here for thirty-two years. He is a former vice president of the Illinois conference of the synod.

The Silhouette Is Masculine Problem, Too

You think that our fair sex has exclusive rights on waistline worries? Don't be silly.

There is a certain restaurant in New York with a 95 per cent masculine patronage. I barged into it recently for a chat about salads as they are incomparably prepared there. Laid out on an attractive table were some forty odd ingredients that go into the various salad preparations, and a bowl of their green salad is not only something to remember but filling to noon-time measurements.

Here I learned where men go to recover their boyish figgers. And recover them they do, according to information gathered.

It is not unusual for men patrons to bring their wives in at the restaurateur's invitation to learn the salad secrets.

Our point is that the men in search of a streamlined figure go for the salads regularly, consistently and faithfully. In which there may be a moral pointed for some of us sisters who cheat one day a week at least, yes? That noonday salad meal probably is not the entire reducing program.

There's golf probably, and squash, and so on, as it is a prosperous looking group of luncheon patrons one sees. But the idea occurred to me that a lot of women who are using their husbands' appetite as alibis for their own overeating, are just bad little girl cheaters.

Evangelical Church Takes Step Toward Union of Lutherans

St. Louis, Mo., June 24.—(AP)—The first step toward intersynodical union of two Lutheran churches was completed today at the closing session of the centennial convention of the Evangelical Lutheran synod of Missouri, Ohio, and other states.

The synod delegates, representing more than 5,000 congregations and mission stations in the United States, Canada, and South America, approved the proposal "for church fellowship" between their organization and the American Lutheran church, split by doctrinal differences more than fifty years ago.

The final session of the ten day meeting opened with a special service in which Dr. J. W. Behnken of Oak Park, Ill., was installed as synod president. The four vice presidents were reëlected.

If you're going to the country for your vacation, or if you're just going to take it on the back porch, you'd better invest in a spray that keeps flies and mosquitoes away.

The spray I have in mind can be used indoors, too, for it will not injure wall coverings, rugs, or upholstery materials if it is used properly. It kills not only the two pests already mentioned, but ants, silverfish, and other crawling creatures. And its odor is not unpleasant.

Its price is most reasonable.

It always is a nice, comfortable feeling to have partner raise our suit bid. At least we know we have not run into the bridge player's perennial headache, a misfit. But it does not follow that we can go on bidding with impunity. Those ol' debbils, honor tricks, must be carefully considered.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	Pass	2 clubs	Pass
3 clubs	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

Though I am a hardened reporter, I still must flinch when I think of what happened to South's ebullient no trump contract.

West opened his fourth best spade. East won with the ace and returned the suit. On the fourth and fifth rounds that West merrily rattled off East discarded low hearts which, of course, was an indirect request for a diamond shift. West laid down the diamond ace and followed with the nine spot, and thereupon East cashed in six luscious diamonds. South, at the end, sheepishly raked in two tricks, for a 700 point penalty. North's remarks, although pointed, were hackneyed and need not be repeated. South defended himself by mumbling that he would have run if he had been doubled [which brought an appreciative titter from the defenders]. South further maintained that he had figured six sure club tricks, and had hoped that these would be enough if North had stoppers in the other suits.

I do not like to be the squasher of "hopes," but the fact remains that South's hope was a bit thick. North had bid quite properly; in fact, exactly according to the book. [The opening bidder must raise his partner's minor suit take-out when holding three and one-half or more honor tricks and the K-J-x, or better, of responder's suit.] Obviously North's hand conformed exactly to these specifications. According to the Gold Book [page 244] the responser [in this case South] then must pass if unable to make a major suit or no trump bid, except with a very strong hand [three or more honor tricks], in which case he can rebid his suit. Of course that word "unable" may have been ambiguous. My own opinion would be that South was unable to bid three no trump without a face card in spades, hearts, or diamonds, but apparently South himself thought otherwise!

Callers Rude to Secretary Office Pests

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"What is your honest opinion of women who call men during business hours and report secretaries who inquire as to the nature of the call?

"What I mean to convey is this: I have been in an office for eight years and am acquainted with all the details of the office, naturally. I suppose that two-thirds of the telephone calls that come in are disposed of by me, as that is part of my duty. In my daily routine I am required to ask: 'What is it in reference to?'

"Invariably the women callers, supposedly well-bred and cultured women, who, I might add, never had to work for a living, resent being asked their names and fly off the handle. They also complain to my employer that they have to go through so much red tape.

"My employer, on the other hand, has never rebuked me for the way I handle any calls. I assume, therefore, that he wants this method continued. What I really want to know is your opinion of the type of woman who, calling to make a date, complains of me to my chief.

"I feel sure that most secretaries are confronted with the same problem and I think an article by you on this topic might come to the attention of this type of woman and make her realize how cheap and petty she can be.

"I might add that my employer usually is annoyed and instructs me many times not to put the calls through. In most cases, when he gets on the line, he is abrupt and ends with: 'Sorry, I can't make it, but I will ring you up soon.'

"JUST ANOTHER SECRETARY."

You have done a pretty job in the way of an article yourself, Miss Secretary. You have given a picture of how welcome such calls are. Your estimate of the woman who resents having to give her name and the nature of her business, or explains that it is a very personal matter, is fair.

She is rude and inconsiderate to the secretary whom any smart woman today must know is instructed by her employer how to handle calls. And breaking in, hoping for a personal chat during busy business hours, is seen as not furthering the lady's cause appreciably.

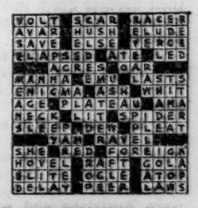
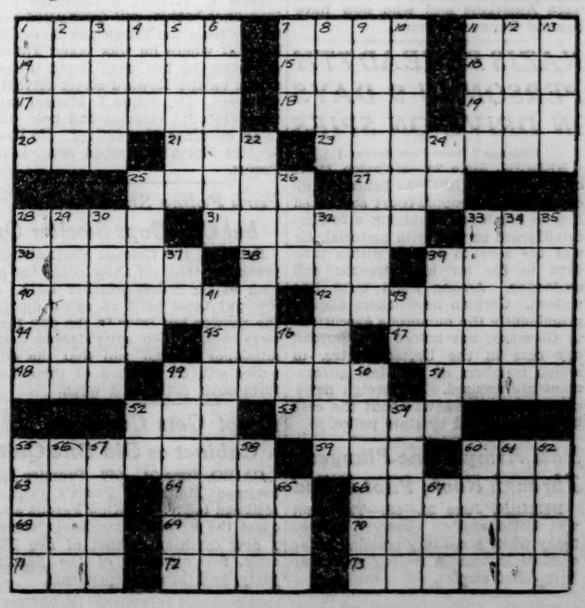
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





JAP LAW TO RULE PARTS OF CHINA HELD BY ARMIES

Extraterritorial Rights of Foreigners Barred.

SHANGHAI, June 24.—(AP)—A Japanese embassy spokesman tonight said that "third power nationals residing in Japanese occupied territory [in China] do not enjoy special status because of extraterritoriality."

The spokesmen pointed out that aliens had no special privileges in Japan and said they could expect none in the parts of China held by Japan's armies.

American and other foreign authorities pointed out that extraterritorial rights are entirely a matter of treaty arrangement between foreign powers and China and that the powers consider them still fully operative. Any foreigner arrested in Japanese occupied areas in China still is expected to be turned over immediately to the authorities of his own country, they said.

Question Arises Over Slapping.

[Foreigners in Japan are subject to Japanese law and are tried in Japanese courts if they run afoul of the law. In China, by virtue of treaties between China and most of the major powers—Germany and soviet Russia are exceptions—they have the right to be tried in their own consular courts. Their extraterritorial rights, however, do not make them free from arrest by Chinese or local authorities.]

The spokesman was discussing with newspaper correspondents the charge made by J. C. Thompson of New Brunswick, N. J., connected with Nanking university, that while riding in a jinrikisha in Nanking he had been stopped by a Japanese sentry, who slapped him. John M. Allison, consul in charge of the United States embassy in Nanking, has made representations to Japanese authorities there.

The spokesman's version was that the sentry merely searched Johnson "in a quiet, routine manner" and that this was within his rights, since Nanking was under military occupation, "with no distinction between Chinese and foreigners" as far as military police functions were concerned.

Upholds Searching of Aliens.

The Japanese spokesman's remarks were interpreted as a restatement of claims made by many Japanese authorities that foreigners cannot be favored in the application of general military precautions such as the questioning or search of individuals by the Japanese military.

"Some third party nationals now residing in Japanese occupied territory in China appear to labor under the misconception that they are above Japanese law because they enjoy extraterritorial status insofar as China is concerned," the spokesman said. "That is wrong. In the same way that aliens do not enjoy special privileges in Japan they are not entitled to special treatment in Japanese-occupied territory in China."

Dispatches from Tsingtao said United States Consul Louis H. Gourley had reported to the state department that a Japanese sentry had slapped the wife of a United States naval officer named Massie, attached to the United States gunboat Tulsa. Mrs. Massie was returning to Tsingtao, escorted by two sailors, after visiting her husband on board the Tulsa. She was challenged at the pier in Japanese by the sentry. When she failed to reply in Japanese, the report said, the sentry struck her across the face.

JUGO-SLAV GYM TEAMS CHEERED ON PRAGUE VISIT

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 24.—The residents of this city gave a great reception today to the first 1,000 members of Jugo-Slav sokols arriving to take part in Sunday's celebrations by the Slavic gymnastic societies. Hours before the arrival thousands had lined the streets, carrying small Jugo-Slav flags. The fact that the German press had declared jubilantly that Jugo-Slav would refuse to allow her sokols to attend this year's celebrations gave the reception a particular note of grateful enthusiasm.

As they saw the enthusiasm of their brother Slavs in the streets the members of the Jugo-Slav sokols shouted:

"We will surrender to no one! We will stand with you side by side." The Czechs broke into frenzied cheers.

It was learned that at the last moment Nazi authorities in Vienna decided to permit the sokol members there to travel to Prague. These are persons of Czech nationality who were Austrians and who now have become German citizens.

NAZIS BEHEAD 7TH PERSON IN 9 DAYS IN DRIVE ON SPIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 24.—Heinrich Menz of Biberach on Riff was beheaded today after the People's court sentenced him to death for supplying a foreign intelligence service with material. He was the seventh person within nine days to die for high treason and espionage. Among them were two women. German newspapers display prominently the numerous executions in Germany, but ignore the German spy case in the United States, in which members of the Nazi government are accused. All foreign newspapers carrying news about the case have been seized by state police.

Queer "Mad Dog"

Policeman Michael Demith holding reptile which nipped his finger when he captured it while responding to report of a rabid dog.

Sergt. Michael Gibbons of the Summerdale station sent his wagon crew on a rush order to 1907 Ainslie street last night to catch what he thought a frantic telephone caller had termed a mad dog.

But Policeman Michael Demith and his assistants found instead Henry Laudeuslaun, a janitor, and a one foot alligator-like reptile he said he came upon in the basement of a building at 4536 North Leavitt street.

The policemen ensconced their catch in a wooden pen at the station, where it glared at them hungrily. And hungry the reptile was. All it had had, as far as the policemen knew, was a tiny snip from the lean muscular finger of Policeman Demith.

GERMANY, ITALY PLEDGE NEUTRAL RIGHTS TO SWISS

ROME, June 24. — (AP) — Another peace sector was sketched on the map of western Europe today when Italy and Germany formally assured Switzerland they would respect her neutrality as long as she followed her traditional aloofness from international squabbles.

Fascists asserted it would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of the move by these two major European powers at a time when the situation in eastern Europe was unsettled.

The assurances were given in an exchange of letters between Berne and Rome and Berne and Berlin. Switzerland asked the league of nations in April to free her from obligations to take part in sanctions [penalties] such as the economic and financial measures levied against Italy in the Italo-Ethiopian war.

The league council on May 14 gave Switzerland this freedom, and the nation informed Germany and Italy. The foreign ministers of the two latter countries, in reply, congratulated Switzerland and gave the assurances of respect for her neutrality.

WARNS GERMANY OF U.S. 'PRESSURE' ON SO. AMERICA

BERLIN, June 24.—(AP)—A sharp warning to Germany against "the cloven hoof of United States pressure" in South America was sounded tonight in the influential Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.

In an editorial captioned "The Gospel of Good Neighborliness," the newspaper asserted the United States "now needs and seeks South American friendships because of the alleged menace of totalitarian states."

Such fears the paper described as ill founded and unwaranted, but it counseled Germany to pay closer attention than heretofore to developments in Argentina, Brazil, and Chile. It was alleged that Germans there were victims of "exaggerated nationalism" wherein the editorial professed to see "the cloven hoof of United States pressure."

"Uncle Sam, as a typical exponent of the capitalistic system, did assist the young South American states, it is true, with cash, but rarely with men and labor as Germany has done in the past," the editorial said.

MEXICO ATTACKS JEWS FOR CRISIS IN TEXTILE MILLS

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

MEXICO CITY, June 24.—A new anti-Semitic campaign began today in Mexico as the official press and organized labor sought to blame small Jewish operators for a crisis in the national textile industry which threatens the jobs of 20,000 Mexican workers.

The C. T. M., Federation of Mexican Workers, petitioned Silvano Barba Gonzalez, secretary of interior, to enforce article 33 of the Mexican constitution against the owners of small and allegedly "clandestine" textile factories. This article enables the president to expel any alien without giving a reason for so doing.

Broker Leaves Hospital After 'L' Platform Collapse

John A. Vincent, a mortgage and insurance broker, was discharged yesterday from the Physicians Memorial hospital where he was taken Thursday after he had been found unconscious on the Howard street elevated platform. Dr. Julius I. Mandel said that Vincent's collapse had been due to an overdose of sedatives. He lives at 1190 North Edgewood road, Lake Forest.

Park Police Shed Coats but City Cops Swelter On

Police of the Chicago Park district yesterday took off their coats for as long as the warm weather lasts. A few put them back on again during the shower but later in the day they were back in their shirt sleeves. Commissioner Allman said that the city police will be relieved of their uniform coats early next week.

JAPS LAND 5,000 MEN ON YANGTZE IN HANKOW DRIVE

Warships and Airplanes Bombard Chinese.

HANKOW, China, June 24.—(AP)—Japanese forces driving up the Yangtze river toward this provisional Chinese capital landed more than 5,000 men on the river's south shore thirty-five miles north of Anking today under cover of a heavy coördinated warship and airplane barrage.

With the ships blasting at Chinese defenses and the planes alternately bombing and strafing, the invading infantrymen were put ashore at a point 180 miles by river from Hankow.

Claim Chinese Broke Dikes.

Three hundred miles to the north, on the Honan province front along the Lunghai railway, the Chinese consolidated gains made in following up the retreat of the Japanese who were forced back by the great Yellow river floods. The Chinese have recaptured Chungmow, twenty-five miles east of Chengchow, and Hushih, thirty miles south of Chungmow.

Dispatches from missionaries in Chengchow, junction of the east-west Lunghai and north-south Peking-Hankow railways, said Chinese military strategists had paid off farmers and townsfolk along the Yellow river at the rate of ten Chinese dollars [$1.77] an adult and four Chinese dollars [71 cents] for each child and ordered them to evacuate before deliberately flooding the region to drive back the invaders. There has been a dispute between the Chinese and Japanese over which side broke the river dikes.

Many Refuse to Leave.

The missionaries said many of the Chinese, along with some further away from the river whose lands also were flooded, refused to leave and still were lingering about the devastated regions trying to salvage what remained of their possessions.

Encouraged by their military successes as a result of the flood east of Chengchow, the Chinese were reported to be planning to smash the Yellow river's dikes west of the city.

Anticipating the flooding of more districts south of Chengchow, rendering useless the Peking-Hankow railway for some miles, the Chinese have constructed a loop line from a point south of Chengchow to the Lunghai line near Loyang. Loyang thus is joined to Hankow and the south by the loop, instead of through the junction at Chengchow, as normally.

AUSTRIAN NAZIS COMPLAIN OVER GERMAN ACTIONS

Claim They Are Deprived of Their Reward.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 24.—Twenty members of the former Nazi Austrian legion in Berlin are seeking a conference with Reichsfuehrer Hitler to complain to him about developments in their native land, which they helped to make a German province. They have been tramping from ministry to ministry but to date have failed to obtain an appointment with the Fuehrer.

The Austrian legion was composed of men who fled from Austria when former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg was in power and they were threatened with arrest for their Nazi activities. They lived in exile in Germany, continuing to agitate for the Nazi cause in Austria.

Charge Germans Get All Jobs.

They returned to their native land after its annexation by Germany, but now many of them are deeply disappointed because of the constant friction between the Austrians and the Germans. The latter, it is charged, want to foist German methods on the Austrians regardless of native traditions.

The Austrian Nazis also complain that all the important jobs in Austria are being given to German Nazis. They charge that the men who worked the hardest to prepare the ground for the German conquest are deprived of their reward.

Resent Police Supervision.

The Austrians also resent the large number of Schutz Staffel men [picked guards] and secret police officers sent to Austria to supervise the population and act against those who criticize the measures of the Nazi leaders.

Berlin Nazis are convinced that the Austrian malcontents will not succeed in seeing Hitler because he makes it a rule to let his subleaders fight out their diffierences and intervenes only as a last resort.

BIG TEN FACES PACIFIC COAST IN TRACK TODAY

Champions Will Run in Dyche Stadium.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Pacific Coast conference and the Western Intercollegiate conference will meet this afternoon in Dyche stadium in one of the outstanding dual meets in the history of track and field competition. Inaugurated last year when the Pacific coast stars defeated the Big Ten squad, 92 to 44, the games already have taken their place as a worthy finale to the collegiate season.

It may be too much to expect the Big Ten stars to whip the boys from the far west, but without doubt they are able to put up a fight which in at least five events may result in new world records.

Eight National Champions.

On review this afternoon will be eight of the fourteen athletes who won championships in the National collegiate games last week at Minneapolis. The world's greatest collegiate track squad, University of Southern California, which won the Pacific coast title, the Eastern intercollegiate title in the meet at New York, and the National collegiate championship, will bulwark the Pacific conference squad. Stanford is next to the Trojans, but opposed to these universities and their associates will be the University of Michigan, Western conference champion, and the stars from all other universities in the Big Ten.

The preliminary jumps in the pole vault will start at 2:30 this afternoon. Fifteen minutes later the first track event, the sprint relay in which four men each will run 110 yards, will decide the first of the sixteen championships. There will be fourteen individual championships and the two hour program will conclude with the mile relay.

Track in Good Shape.

Despite yesterday's rain the track is expected to be in excellent condition. Frank Hill, track coach at Northwestern university, which is host to the two conferences, said that the rain really was needed.

The feature event of the meet, if any one of these should properly be rated above all others, is the one mile contest in which Chuck Fenske, of Wisconsin, again will match his speed and endurance against Louis Zamperini. The Trojan sophomore never has been beaten and he whipped Fenske by three yards in winning the National Collegiate championship in the record time of 4:08.3. These rivals ran almost shoulder to shoulder until the stretch where Zamperini pulled away. Fenske narrowly missed a Western conference record this year but followed that with a record in the Central Collegiates.

Mel Trutt and Jimmy Smith, of Indiana, will back Fenske in the mile, which is one of the events in which the Big Ten expects to score heavily.

Big Ten Favorite in Two Mile.

The two mile run also will be dominated by the Western conference. Walter Mehl, Big Ten champion, who won the National Collegiate title for Wisconsin by whipping Greg Rice of Notre Dame in 9:11.1, a new meet record, will have no worthy competition from the coast. Ralph Schwarzkopf, of Micnigan, who was barely beaten by Mehl in the Big Ten games at Ohio State, and who competed in the Princeton invitational meet last Saturday, may defeat Mehl. At any rate the Big Ten should score first and second and Tommy Deckard of Indiana, is probably the No. 3 man of all those entered.

The Pacific coast will be strongest in the sprints and the quarter mile. The invading stars also are better in the pole vault and the javelin throw and may sweep this latter event since Bush Lamb of Iowa will not compete.

Coast Best in Pole Vault.

Loring Day of Southern California, the nation' collegiate champion, with a mark of 14 feet 2 inches, must fight it out with George Varoff of Oregon. Varoff two years ago held the world record. Milton Padway of Wisconsin, whose best mark is 13

PROFESSIONAL boxing in Illinois got a break when Gov. Horner appointed Sheldon Clark to the state commission to fill the vacancy that has existed since the death of George Getz. . . . The sport has been kept reasonably clean in Illinois because of the caliber of men on the commission. . . . Mr. Clark's membership on the board will guarantee a continuation of that record. . . . CHANCE RAY AND MUCHO GUSTO TO RENEW RIVALRY

Handicap Field

THE field for the renewal of the $5,000 Francis S. Peabody Memorial handicap to be run this afternoon at Lincoln Fields, arranged in the order of post positions, follows:

Horse and jocky—	Wt.	Prob. odds.
PRINCE TORCH [No boy]	102	20-1
GALSUN [I. Anderson]	110	8-1
†CHANCE RAY [P. Ryan]	111	4-1
‡MUCHO GUSTO [W.Garner]	120	5-2
CARDARRONE [No boy]	105	15-1
STANDS ALONE [Roberts]	104	4-1
MARS SHIELD [Robertson]	112	10-1
‡BOW AND ARROW [Fowler]	107	5-2
ARAB'S ARROW [No boy]	113	6-1
HOLLYWOOD ACE [No boy]	96	20-1
†OUR COUNT [P. Ryan]	108	4-1
SAFE AND SOUND [Hanford]	110	20-1

BY FRENCH LANE.

Racing on Chicago's south side comes to a temporary halt this afternoon following the renewal of the $5,000 Francis S. Peabody Memorial handicap at the Lincoln Fields course. After the running of this race south siders will have to travel north to the Arlington Park course for their afternoon racing dish for more than a month. Then in August back to the south side will travel the horses for their annual stand at Washington Park.

Twelve high ranking route runners have been named for the Peabody Memorial at a mile and an eighth. This race has always been won by a good horse. The winner last year was the champion race mare Marica from the French Lick Springs stable.

Mucho Gusto Is Favorite.

Old Gus—that's Mucho Gusto—will again parade to the post as the favorite in the Peabody event, though he was beaten by Chance Ray at a mile and a sixteenth in the Lincoln handicap a week ago. Chance Ray goes against him again and will have Our Count as a running companion. Mucho Gusto will have Bow and Arrow as a running companion.

Ordinarily Chance Ray would be the favorite, but something is always coming along to make Old Gus the choice. It rained at Lincoln Fields yesterday just as it did all around the town. Everybody knows that Old Gus is a bearcat in the mud. So that's the reason he was made the 5 to 2 favorite in last night's betting with the Davison entry of Chance Ray and Our Count the second choice at 4 to 1. Third in line was Arabs Arrow at 6 to 1.

Galsun Is 8 to 1.

Warren Wright's Galsun, third in last week's Lincoln handicap after closing much ground in the stretch, was quoted at 8 to 1 in the Peabody. Stands Alone mustered considerable support, but it seemed that the price against him might be 10 to 1. His workouts lately have dazzled the clockers. The Lincoln Fields meeting of twenty-four days, the shortest ever conducted at the track, will go down as a success from a sporting standpoint, but not so successful financially. Betting was off 15 per cent. Attendance has been about equal that of last year.

Either rainy weather or off track conditions prevailed for more than half of the twenty-four days the track has operated. It naturally affected the betting and it is surprising the attendance did not also show a decrease.

Dixieland Wins Handily.

Another event on the getaway day card that attracted attention last night was the dash at 5 furlongs for 2 year olds. Some of the more fashionably bred youngsters in the tussle are Milky Way farm's Banner Man and Giles County, John Marsch's Lightspur and Boatscrew, a son of Man o' War.

Schmeling Takes It Easy

Jacobs to Sign Baer Today, Release Plans

New York, June 24.—(AP)—As Max Schmeling showed distinct improvement from his back injury, Promoter Mike Jacobs today went ahead with plans to match Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis against Max Baer in September, probably in New York.

Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager, has a date with Promoter Jacobs tomorrow at which time he expects to sign a three year contract giving Jacobs exclusive control of Baer's ring activities. New York was favored for the fight although a delegation from San Francisco spent an hour with Jacobs in an effort to get the championship battle for the San Francisco exposition some time in 1939.

Jacobs to Tell Plans.

At the same time a bid came by cable from London and guaranteed Louis $200,000 in American currency or the privilege of 40 per cent of the gate for a late September meeting with Tommy Farr, British empire champion, whom the Brown Bomber outpointed last year. The offer came from Armand Vincent, former Montreal promoter now in London.

Armand would stage the fight in Wembley stadium, which has a seating capacity of 100,000. He promised to cut Jacobs in on the promotion end.

Jacobs, a bit mysterious about everything, said he would issue an announcement tomorrow dealing with the heavyweight division. All along, Mike has said he intended pitting Baer against the Schmeling-Louis winner if he could gain control of Baer's services for an extended period. Both the champion and his managers said he would be glad to meet Baer or any other contender chosen by Jacobs at any date set by Jacobs.

Schmeling Receives Visitors.

Schmeling spent a comfortable day in the Polyclinic hospital. An official statement, made by Dr. Robert Emery Brennam, chief surgeon at the hospital, said that in addition to the fracture of the left lateral transverse of the third lumbar vertabra, Max was suffering from a slightly swelled left kidney.

Schmeling, for the first time, was allowed to receive visitors. Promoter Jacobs spent an hour with the stricken fighter and, during the day, Dr. Hans Dieckhoff, German ambassador to the United States, also paid his respects.

Max Machon, Schmeling's trainer, said the Teuton still is anxious to get a return match with Louis. Machon said physicians at the hospital told him no man in the world could stand up under the blow to the kidney area as suffered by Schmeling.

An Autograph Nets $50,000 for Ole Diz!

S. A. Murphy, who is an oil operator of Wichita, Kas., told the story last night of an autograph worth $50,000. It was given by Dizzy Dean, the eager, but incapacitated pitcher for the Chicago Cubs, to a little boy four years ago.

Back in 1934, said Mr. Murphy, when the St. Louis Cardinals were in Wichita for an exhibition game, he took his young son to their hotel to see a couple of heroes, the aforementioned Dean and Mr. Pepper Martin, then bright lights of the Gas House Gang.

Mr. Murphy and the boy, Joseph found Dizzy and Pepper in gracious temper. They patted the youngster on the head, introduced him around, and gave him a ball and a bat with their names written on them. The child was elated beyond adult understanding. It made his dad pretty happy, too. Dean and Pepper forgot it.

But the next year the two athletes were informed by letter from Mr. Murphy that he was giving them each twenty acres of oil land. Diz, who is accustomed to strange and in-

New London, Conn., June 24.—(AP)—Harvard's powerful varsity crew, stroked by James [Spike] Chace of New York City, climaxed an unbeaten campaign this evening on the crowded Thames river by administering a one length beating to Yale in the four mile race featuring America's oldest intercollegiate sports event.

An estimated throng of 50,000 spectators, looking on from the shores, the observation train, and more than 1,200 assorted craft that lined the full length of the course, saw Harvard's varsity win its third straight over Yale in the 76th rowing of the event.

Leads All the Way.

Successfully withstanding sustained and severe pressure from a rival crew that likewise came up to the final test undefeated, the Crimson led from start to finish in the four mile upstream pull to give Harvard its first sweep of the regatta since 1916.

The Harvard freshman eight won by three lengths from Yale and the Crimson junior varsity surprised with a one length victory over its rival in races rowed this morning downstream over the middle two miles of the historic Thames course.

Well Behind Record.

The big, powerful Harvard varsity didn't touch its own upstream record of 20:02, set last year. The Crimson was a good five lengths off this time, despite ideal rowing conditions, crossing the finish line at Bartlett's cove in 20:20, compared with Yale's 20:23 4-5.

The Crimson had all the speed and power it needed, however, to stand off the challenges of a Yale crew that refused to admit defeat until the course finally ran out. The Elis rowed themselves completely out in a gallant sequence of bids to overhaul their rivals, but they simply did not have the necessary drive. The Harvard stroke, always smooth and with no visible check, ranged from 32 to the minute to a closing 38.

CALIFORNIA FAVORED

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 24.—(AP)—California has taken the play away from Washington and Navy in a week's rowing here and established itself as the crew to beat in Monday's varsity race.

California, Washington, Cornell, Navy, Syracuse, Columbia, and Wisconsin were on the river today for short workouts. But all eyes were on the smooth shell from Berkeley, which veteran river men call one of the best balanced eights ever to carry California's colors.

The Golden Bears have won four varsity races of the Intercollegiate Rowing association's regatta, but never has one of Ky Ebright's squads overcome so many handicaps to finish its training a favorite to win the richest prize in American rowing.

ENGLAND WILL CHALLENGE U. S. FOR POLO CUP

New York, June 24.—[Special.]—England will challenge the United States for the historic international polo challenge cup next summer and the matches will be played in June at the Meadow Brook club, Westbury, N. Y., instead of in September.

That was the announcement made today by officials of the United States Polo association. The exact dates of play are subject to further negotiation.

The early summer date has been decided upon, it was stated at the offices of the United States Polo association here, in an effort to insure best weather conditions possible for the matches and an equal period of preparation for both teams.

Before the world war the Anglo-American matches were played during June when held in this country. It was during June Great Britain last defeated the United States in 1914. After the war the matches were switched to September when played in this country.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 24.—The Cubs met up with Mel Ott again today and it was the same old story. The little Giant with the big bat exploded his eighteenth homer with a mate on base in the eighth inning, thus hoisting the league champions to victory over the Cubs, 5 to 3, in a battle waged between raindrops. The trimming moved the Chicagoans to two and one-half games behind Bill Terry's title holding leaders.

Ott's finishing touch was applied only a few minutes after the Cubs, who had struggled in vain through four innings for the tying run, captured what they were seeking. It was a homer by Carl Reynolds, dropped into the game along with some others because Manager Grimm went to extremes to get the tying rally before rain could end the struggle. Reynolds established the tie in the eighth, but Tex Carleton promptly crashed under the force of Ott's home run bat.

Carleton Pitches Well.

Carleton happened into the wet struggle only because Bill Lee, who has been a sensation since he started to compile a winning streak with his 1 to 0 victory here over the Giants May 19, wasn't strong enough to last an inning. The big fellow remained long enough to pitch to seven batters, five of whom hit safely. Three of them crossed the plate. Carleton stopped this parade of champions and then proceeded to throw sensational ball. The Giants hit him for a single in the second and another in the third. And there wasn't another hit off Tex until Ott uncorked his homer in the wake of an error by Billy Herman.

The Cubs, although rolling up a respectable total of hits, really weren't boisterous on attack. They scored a run off Clydell Castleman in the first inning because of an error. In the third they captured nothing short of four hits and a pass, but they weren't solid thumps so only one scored.

Herman singled over third with one out in the third. Cavarretta hoisted

POMPOON MEETS STAGEHAND AND THE CHIEF TODAY

Must Give Weight to Speedy Rivals.

New York, June 24.—(AP)—Pompoon, J. H. Louchheim's 4 year old which seems to thrive on tough competition, gets another taste of it tomorrow in the $20,000 Brooklyn handicap at Aqueduct.

The son of Pompey has been asked to pick up top weight of 126 pounds and match strides over a mile and an eighth with nine high ranking rivals, including Maxwell Howard's lightly weighted 3 year olds, The Chief and Stagehand.

Pompoon must give 21 pounds to The Chief, which was good enough a week ago to win the Dwyer stakes over the same distance in near record time. Stagehand gets in with 110, a package that makes him a dangerous threat if he should run back to the form that carried him to victory in the Santa Anita Derby and Handicap last winter.

MAIN MAN FAVORITE.

Detroit, Mich., June 24.—(AP)—J. B. Respress' Main Man will face a big weight handicap in the mile and three-sixteenths of the $10,000 Frontier handicap here tomorrow. The consistent four year old picks up 129 pounds, gives 11 to Mrs. Payne Whitney's Memory Book and from 13 to 29 pounds to seven others. Nevertheless, Main Man is expected to go postward the favorite with plenty of backing for Memory Book and Mrs. E. H. Bartlett's Zevson, which gets in with 114 pounds.

VETERAN BOXERS TRY FOR PLACES ON C. Y. O. TEAM

When the C. Y. O. boxers leave next Thursday afternoon for training camp at Lockport, Ill., where they will prepare themselves for the bouts with the amateur champions of Ireland in Soldiers' field on July 13, six lads in the group will be attempting to appear on the annual summer show for the third time.

The C. Y. O. has staged three Milk fund shows and six of the boys going to camp have shown their wares in two of them. Those trying to make the team for the third time are: Frankie Kainrath, Chester Rutecki, Tony Motisi, Savior Canadeo, Al Scarlata and Harry Sparrow.

Of this group of boys, Rutecki and Sparrow fought on the initial show in 1935, when the local boxers met the New York C. Y. O. champions. Neither Rutecki or Sparrow appeared on the 1936 show. Rutecki undoubtedly would have, but he was in Germany at the time as a member of the United States Olympic team.

On the 1936 program were Motisi, Kainrath, Canadeo and Scarlata. Last year when the C. Y. O. boys met the titleholders of South America, Kainrath, Rutecki, Canadeo and Motisi won their matches, while Scarlata and Sparrow lost hard fought battles.

COMMISSIONERS HEAR G. C. FOSTER ON WEIGHT RULE

Boston, Mass., June 24.—(AP)—George C. Foster, secretary of the Illinois racing commission, today called for "a few more jockies at 112 pounds instead of infants who are half starved to death trying to reduce and powerless to hold their horses because of their weakened condition."

He spoke in defense of a 103 pound minimum weight rule being considered by the National Association of State Racing Commissioners at its three day convention here. Previously Commissioner Irving A. Hinkley of New Hampshire had called for a showdown on the rule.

"Trainers and owners with the welfare of both the jocky and the horse at heart cannot honestly and decently object to the weight rule," said Foster, who said the rule was working satisfactorily in Illinois.

Klimcyak and Ferrand Triumph in Amateur Bouts

Floyd Klimcyak, Gary welterweight, last night won a five round decision over Willie Woods, Chicago, in the windup of the weekly amateur boxing program in the Madison-Cicero outdoor arena. In the semi-windup Pete Ferrand, Chicago lightweight, was awarded a five round decision over Bob Leiva, Gary. Other results:

Cincinnati Scores Three in First Inning.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 24.—(AP)—The second place Cincinnati Reds kept pace with the leading New York Giants and pulled away from the third place Cubs by defeating the Phillies, 6 to 4, today. The Reds checked a rally after the Phils scored a run in the ninth.

Although outhit, 13 to 12, the Reds never were headed after Ernie Lombardi cleaned the bases with a long single in the first inning. The big catcher had a field day at bat with two other hits.

Ray Davis, who started on the mound for the Reds, was relieved by Cascarella with two on and one out in the ninth. Al Hollingsworth pitched well for the Phils, but his mates left thirteen men stranded on the bases when a hit might have turned the tide. Score:

DODGERS, 5; CARDINALS, 2.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 24.—(AP)—Freddy Fitzsimmons' batting and pitching gave the Dodgers a 5 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the opening game of their series today.

Fitz drove in two runs with a double in the fourth and sent one across with a fly in the second. He allowed only nine hits, but had to be relieved in the ninth when Pepper Martin and Don Gutteridge opened with consecutive doubles. Luke Hamlin finished the game. Score:

GREENBERG AND TIGERS DEFEAT YANKEES, 12 TO 8

Detroit, Mich., June 24.—(AP)—Hank Greenberg found a couple of "cousins" on the New York Yankees' pitching staf today, hit his nineteeth and twentieth homers of the year and paced the Tigers to a 12 to 8 victory over the world champions. His first drive came with two on base off Spud Chandler in the third, and his second off Steve Sundra with one on in the eighth.

Jake Wade, who relieved Harry Eisenstat in the sixth, allowed just two hits and one run over the last four innings to take credit for the victory.

Homers by Lou Gehrig, Joe Gordon, and Joe Di Maggio gave the Yankees an early lead. Score:

INDIANS BEAT RED SOX.

Cleveland, O., June 24.—(AP)—The Indians downed Boston, 7 to 6, today and pulled four and a half games ahead of both Boston and the New York Yankees. The tribe came from behind and won the first of a three game series when Hal Trosky's seventh inning double brought home Lary, Campbell, and Averill.

Jim Bagby Jr., who made his first start in the park where his father hurled thirty victories for Cleveland in 1920, was replaced by Archie McKain in the third. Johnny Humphries, Cleveland Rookie, held Boston to only six hits, but they came when they counted most.

Power Yachts Will Head for Michigan City

Motor cruisers from five of Chicago's yacht harbors will leave the lake front today, all converging on the Michigan City, Ind., yacht harbor. Twenty-two yachts and one U. S. Coast Guard patrol boat, the Rush, will participate in the cruise. It is the second annual cruise sponsored by the power squadron of the Chicago Yacht club.

The 46 foot double cabin cruiser Madray II. will lead the fleet as flagship. Raymond Greist, commander of the club's power squadron and rear commodore of the Lake Michigan Yachting association's power squadron, will be in command. The Rush, 125 foot cutter in charge of Chief Boatswain T. G. Woolard, U. S. C. G., will patrol the 35 mile course across Lake Michigan.

Come Back Tomorrow.

All yachts in the cruise are to finish in Michigan City by 7 o'clock this evening. Tomorrow afternoon the craft will leave for the return trip, at various times.

Yachts entered up to yesterday afternoon with C. S. Beckman, of the Chicago Yacht club, included the following:

Madray II., Lady Luck, Dee Dee Ess, Ventura, Sea Legs, Eric V., Donamac, Collette, Mingin, Florence, Peggy V., Mildred, Velores, Anon, Lobo, Shebeen, Berjac, El Carla, Marlefay, Honey Bee, the auxiliary cutter Aloha, and the motor sailer Mako.

The Jackson Park Yacht club's annual Calumet Buoy race will be sailed today, starting at 3 p. m. A triangular course of about twelve miles will be taken by the club's Universal and cruising divisions of sail yachts.

Race Off Belmont.

Club course races will be held off Belmont harbor today, starting at 2:15 p. m. The Chicago Yacht club's R and Tumlaren classes will compete in the first race of their B series, the Star sloops will start their third contest in the A series, and the Eagle class racers will hold their fourth A race.

Pair of Mighty Nines---Sox, A's---Delayed a Day

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The sports loving public yesterday was deprived of the opportunity to view the opener of the series between the White Sox and the Philadelpnia Athletics. But if the fans can just wait till this afternoon, and the weather man is more generous than he was yesterday, they will get to see Mr. Dykes' seventh-placers vie with Mr. Mack's sixth-placers.

It will be ladies' day. The lady guests several times have been thwarted by rain on the normal ladies' day, Friday, so President Comiskey decided with yesterday's rainout that they should be his guests today.

This afternoon is not the only chance the fans will have to see the Sox and A's compete. Tomorrow the teams may be seen in two contests and they will have to pay but one admission for all the fine baseball the two battling teams are sure to offer.

The impending series between the A's and the Sox cannot accurately be described as a series for sixth place. If the Sox sweep the three game set they'll still be in seventh place, a game and a half behind the A's. If they drop the three games there is a mathematical possibility that they will flop into the cellar.

Jack Knott and Luther Thomas are the probable pitchers for today, as they were yesterday.

Louis Arrives; Sails on July 6 for Europe

Joe Louis arrived from New York yesterday to visit friends and relatives on the south side. He will leave this morning for Detroit to visit his mother, Mrs. Lily Brooks. The champion was accompanied from New York by his wife and Co-Manager Julian Black.

Joe said he was sorry the bout in which he retained his title put Max Schmeling in the hospital, but was cheered when told the injury was not serious and Max would sail for his home in Germany within two weeks.

"Joe will come back from Detroit next week and take things easy until time to sail for a European vacation July 6," Manager Black said. "He will make his next title defense against Max Baer in Soldiers' field next September." He won't do any fighting before that match."

Meanwhile Mike Jacobs, who holds the promotional rights to Louis, is conferring with a committee headed by George Payne, chairman of the California boxing commission, and Gene Tunney, retired undefeated heavyweight title holder, about holding a Baer-Louis contest in San Francisco next spring.

Chicago Midget Driver Seriously Hurt in Crash

New York, June 24.—[Special.]—Paul Russo of Chicago, tossed from his midget racer tonight after a crash with Frank Beeder, St. Louis driver, was taken to the Westchester Square hospital, where it was said he had a possible skull fracture.

IOWA GOLF TOURNEY.

Ottumwa, Ia., June 24.—[Special.]—The second annual southeastern Iowa golf tournament will be held on the municipal golf course here July 8, 9, and 10.

credible doings, said it was swell and forgot it again, it was said. Last January the deeds went out and with them a lease to a major oil producer.

In May, while Diz was in the throes of arm trouble, another letter was sent by Mr. Murphy. It said that drilling had started on the block of which the forty acres are a part, and that the two players' land would be worth about $50,000 apiece if oil were found.

"Tate well came in today. More power to you."

Murphy said Dean and Martin own the forty acre lease a half mile from his well and four miles from previously established production.

Diz was so excited by the message that he forgot to issue the daily bulletin on the strength of his arm or to renew the daily threat to go back to work in spite of orders from Chicago to take it easy.

Mrs. Patricia Dean, at the Surf hotel, was excited, too, but hadn't called in any yacht salesmen until she got more details.

GIANTS DEFEAT CUBS, 5 TO 3, ON OTT'S HOME RUN

a fly into short right center and it dropped for a double, Herman stopping at third. Castleman handed another pass to Hartnett, filling the bases, and because of the gift was dismissed from the party by Terry, the champions' boss.

Cliff Melton stepped into the mound vacancy and Galan looped a single over short. Herman scored on the hit and Cavarretta, ignoring Grimm's signal to stop at third, tore along toward the plate. He was killed off on Bartell's throw to Danning. Demaree then grounded to Leslie, but Melton forgot to cover first base, so it went for a hit. The inning ended when Ripple got a firm grasp on a fly hit by Collins.

Two Threats, No Run.

The Cubs were within hailing distance of the tying run in the fourth but they missed their goal. Jurges led off with a fly ball two bagger into the right field corner. Carleton fouled off a couple of attempts to sacrifice so took a swing and fanned. Hack doesn't care much about southpaw pitching so Lazzeri batted for him, but the ex-Yankee couldn't produce. He was thrown out on a slow bounder to Kampouris, Jurges going to third. Herman did the same thing and the inning ended.

The Cubs faded in a similar attempt in the fifth. Cavarretta led off by beating out a bunt toward Ott. Hartnett furnished the usual sacrifice and all that Galan supplied was a pop to Bartell. Demaree walked and Reynolds batted for Collins. He flied to Ripple. Something went wrong with the Cubs again in the sixth. Jurges walked and was forced on Carleton's bunt which was intended as a sacrifice. Lazzeri fanned and on the third strike Carleton attempted to steal but was called out.

Reynolds Ties It Up.

One was out in the eighth when Reynolds came through with the smash that finally put the Cubs into a tie for a few minutes. The ex-American leaguer knocked his knotting homer against the front of the upper deck in left field. Before the inning ended the Cubs had sent Melton on his way but there were no more runs. The Reynolds homer was followed by Jurges' single to right. Carleton flied out and Lazzeri singled to right. At this stage Coffman replaced Melton and Herman fouled to Danning for the third out.

The Giants started their profitable eighth with Danning's liner which Herman speared. Ripple grounded to Herman but instead of becoming the second out this developed into an error. Herman threw wild to Cavarretta. A moment later Ott arched No. 18 into the upper right field deck for two runs and the decision. Leiber then flied deep to Demaree, Leslie singled and Bartell was hit. Kampouris flied to Galan. Only three Cubs stepped to the plate in the ninth.

BOTH CHAMPION, MEDALIST LOSE IN ILLINOIS GOLF

Evanston Player Beats Larry Moller.

Three Chicago area golfers, three from Rockford, and two from Peoria yesterday won their way into this morning's quarter-finals in the eighth Illinois amateur golf tournament at the Elgin Country club.

George E. Victor of Evanston and the Glen View Country club eliminated Larry Moller of Quincy, champion in 1934 and 1937, by a 1 up margin in a second round match yesterday afternoon.

Floberg Beats Medalist.

Arthur Floberg of Rockford, a Beloit college student, beat the medalist, Jim Frisina of Taylorville, in the first round yesterday morning, 2 and 1, and then in the afternoon he won from John Banks, La Grange, 2 and 1.

David Barclay, 17 year old Rockford caddie, posted a 66, five under par, to set a tournament record as he beat John Walker of Elgin, 7 and 5, in the first round, but in the afternoon he lost to Gus Moreland of Peoria, 2 and 1.

Third Round Pairings.

Besides Victor, Floberg, and Moreland, other survivors for this morning's play were Alex Wolak of Chicago, Jack Hoerner of the North Shore club, Chicago; Alex Welsh of Rockford, Arthur Andrews Jr. of Peoria, and John Holmstrom Jr. of Rockford.

Pairings for the third round match send Victor against Wolak, Hoerner against Welsh, Floberg against Moreland, and Andrews against Holmstrom. The semi-finals will be played this afternoon, with the 36 hole championship match tomorrow.

First round results:

UPPER BRACKET.

John Banks, La Grange, defeated Lee Bohle, Chicago, 2 and 1.

UPPER BRACKET.

Victor beat Moller, 1 up.

Wolak beat Barber, 4 and 2.

Hoerner beat Billings, 4 and 3.

Welsh beat Topping, 3 and 2.

LOWER BRACKET.

Floberg beat Banks, 2 and 1.

Moreland beat Barclay, 2 and 1.

Andrews beat Albee, 1 up.

The high jump may bring a world's record, with the Big Ten champion, Dave Albritton of Ohio State, meeting Delos Thurber of Southern California. Albritton tied for the national collegiate championship with Gil Cruter of Colorado at 6 feet 8¾ inches. The world's record is 6 feet 9¾ inches and is held jointly by Albritton and Cornelius Johnson.

Watson Likely High Point Man.

Bill Watson, star of Michigan's championship team, should win the shot put. Although the Wolverine finished only third in the national collegiates he defeated all the coast men. Since Watson also should finish second in the discus throw—Pete Zagar of Stanford is the national collegiate champion with 159 feet 9½ inches—and since Watson will score in the broad jump he should be high point man. Bill Lacefield of U. C. L. A. is Watson's opponent in the broad jump.

Lacefield's mark in the N. C. A. A. was 25 feet 1⅛ inches, with Watson less than two inches behind.

The high hurdles will match Elmer Gedeon of Michigan, Big Ten champion, and James Humphrey of Southern California. While both were beaten in the national collegiates by Fred Wolcott of Rice institute and Dick Kearns of Colorado they are approximately equal in ability. The time will not be remarkable, but that will not detract from the race.

Earl Vickery, the Trojans' low hurdler, will meet Bob Lemen of Purdue, Big Ten champion in this event. Vickery perhaps has a slight advantage over Lemen.

Fast Mile Relay Anticipated.

The mile relay, final event this afternoon, may go to the coast principally because the coast stars finished first, second, and third in the National Collegiate 440 yard dash. It seems logical to assume that these men, Ray Malott of Stanford, Erwin Miller and H. Bachman of Southern California, will appear on the Pacific coast relay quartet. However, Harley Howells of Ohio State and Malcolm Hicks of Indiana were fourth and fifth in the same race and there is the possibility of a Western conference victory.

Malott's championship time in the National Collegiate quarter mile is 46.8 seconds, one fifth of a second faster than the time of Johnny Woodruff of Pittsburgh when he won the Eastern Intercollegiate championship.

Casters Will Compete at Jackson Park

The Jackson Park Bait and Fly Casting club, organized by the Chicago park district to instruct fishermen in casting, will hold another series of events tomorrow in the pool adjacent to the Museum of Science and Industry, in Jackson park at the east end of 57th street. The schedule of events is as follows:

10 a. m.—Fishermen's Dry Fly.

1:30 p. m.—Fishermen's bass bug event [unknown distance].

2:30 p. m.—Fishermen's ⅝ ounce accuracy bait, using regular fishing equipment and line testing 12 pounds or more.

3:30 p. m.—⅝ ounce accuracy, using tournament equipment.

The events are scheduled so that men who have never used tournament equipment and low test lines can compete against other fishermen using regular fishing equipment, thereby preparing themselves for fishing trips. Experienced casters will be at the pool to instruct novices.

Guard Trophy in Horse Show Taken by Ellis

In a Lake Forest version of a London fog, the Canadian governor's Horse Guards challenge trophy was awarded to Maj. M. H. Ellis last night in the Lake Forest horse show at Onwentsia.

Heavy footing, after a day of rain, combined with poor visibility, made hard going for both horses and riders.

Mrs. William B. McIlvaine repeated her 1934 performance to capture for the second time and permanently the Mill Creek Hunt club challenge trophy. Melbourne Swell and Monarch Swell, Dicksfield farm entries, twice took first prizes in the harness pony class.

The show will be climaxed with the horse show ball, given for the exhibitors, at the Onwentsia club tonight. Morning and afternoon exhibitions today will close the show. Yesterday's summaries:

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL'S HORSE GUARDS CHALLENGE TROPHY—Won by Lillian Russell, Maj. Murray Ellis, Fort Leavenworth, Kas.; Menta, Lieut. Col. C. A. Clark Shaughnessy Jr., son of the University of Chicago football coach and member of the University of California track team, will compete in the javelin throw. George Schieve, Chicago Catholic High school dash champion, will run in the 100 and 200 yard dashes.

YALE CONQUERS HARVARD, 7 TO 6, AND WINS SERIES

New London, Conn., June 24.—[Special.]—Yale defeated Harvard, 7 to 6, today to win the annual baseball series. Chief credit for the victory went to Dudley Humphrey of Cleveland, who replaced Monroe Jubitz as pitcher in the fourth inning to check a Harvard rally which had wiped out a Yale lead of three runs and tied the score.

QUARTER-FINAL TENNIS MATCHES ARE ON TODAY

National Clay Courts Play Delayed by Rain.

Rain caused a postponement of yesterday's matches in the national clay court tennis tournament at the River Forest Tennis club. However, the competition has been brought up to the quarter-finals in singles, and, with one exception, also the doubles, so that the finals in both divisions are expected to go on Sunday afternoon.

After witnessing upsets such as the elimination of Frankie Parker by George Pero of Miami, Fla., in the second round, the fans are loath to speculate on the eventual winner.

Riggs Is Favorite.

However, Bobby Riggs, No. 2 in national rankings and No. 1 in the seed, is playing in good form and is the favorite. A victory would give him the title for the third consecutive time, which would mean possession of the trophy, won permanently only by Bill Tilden and Bryant Grant, since the meet started in 1910.

Riggs Faces Surface.

Riggs drew Harold Surface of Kansas City, seeded fifth, and Grant meets Junior Coen, also of Kansas City, the only unseeded player to reach the quarter-finals, this afternoon.

The other two singles bring together Don McNeill, Oklahoma City, No. 6, and Gardner Mulloy, Miami, Fla., No. 12, and Joe Hunt, Los Angeles, No. 4, and Elwood Cooke, Portland, Ore., No. 7.

The executive board of the Western Tennis association met last night in the Drake hotel. Holcombe Ward, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, will arrive this morning to attend a meeting of the executive board of that organization and to watch the national clay court matches. This will be the first quarterly meeting of the U. S. L. T. A. board ever held outside of New York.

Play Reaches Critical Point at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England, June 24.—(AP)—Wimbledon is ready to get down to the serious business of deciding the tennis champions of the world. Helen Wills Moody, playing today with studied slowness, tomorrow meets Mrs. Bobbie Heine-Miller of South Africa in the first real crisis of the week. And even Don Budge must face Donald Shayes, No. 1 singles player of the youthful 1938 British Davis cup team.

Though Mrs. Moody first had to scramble to beat herself before she could beat Mrs. P. F. Glover of England, 6-4, 7-5, the United States in general had a pretty good day. Out of eleven matches in which Americans took part, they won ten.

Besides Mrs. Moody, the only other Americans to play singles were Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Cal., and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Brookline, Mass. Both won easily, Miss Bundy from Joan Saunders of England, 6-4, 6-2, and Mrs. Fabyan from Miss G. M. Southwell, 6-1, 6-0, and now they must meet each other in the fourth round.

Anderson Is the Victim.

The United States loss came when Owen Anderson, 18 year old student at the University of California at Los Angeles, through a slip in the program, had to race from one doubles match to another. After pairing with Rita Jarvis of England to beat Kho Sin Kie of China and Kay Stammers of England, he went to the adjoining court and, with Lawrence Nelson of Los Angeles, lost to J. B. Sturgeon and G. L. Tuckett, 6-3, 9-7, 7-9, 6-0.

In the Americans' other matches Budge and Gene Mako reached the third round of men's doubles; Budge and Alice Marble and Franz Kukuljevic of Jugo-Slavia and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of New York scored in mixed doubles; Miss Bundy and Helen Jacobs won their first women's doubles match, with Miss Jacobs showing no ill effects of her collapse two days ago, and Mrs. Andrus and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France reached the third round of women's doubles.

Mako Meets Austin.

Mrs. Glover, the former Nancy Lyle who played on the British Wightman cup team, gave Mrs. Moody all she could stand for a while. At the start Helen simply couldn't keep the ball in the court and often she was caught flat footed on the baseline by Mrs. Glover's drop shots.

In addition to Mrs. Moody's match tomorrow and Budge's encounter with Shayes, two other important singles tests will send Mako against H. W. [Bunny] Austin, seeded second, and Miss Jacobs against Miss Freda James of England.

Marshall Defeats Kaplan; Stahl, Savage Wrestle Draw

Everett Marshall of Colorado was awarded a decision over Abe Kaplan in 24:22 last night in Marigold Gardens when the Jewish wrestler, tossed from the ring, was unable to return in the allotted twenty seconds. Richard Stahl, German heavyweight, held Steve Savage to a thirty minute draw in the semi-final; Jerrv [Kingfish] Gordon tossed Jim Larson in 12:29; Rudy Hoffman won a twenty minute decision over George [Silent] Mack, and Pierre Lamarre threw Jack Ross in 14 minutes.

New York, June 24.—Wall street continued to keep its head in the clouds today, but with an occasional glance to the ground. Stock market prices made substantial gains for the fifth consecutive session, but the forward motion lost momentum when late selling whittled the day's best gains.

At the close active issues showed net advances of fractions to 2 points, compared to gains reaching to 4 points or so early in the session. A few larger gains appeared in some of the more volatile stocks.

Trading again was at the fast pace of the previous session, some 2,290,000 shares moving. The first hour was the most active of the day, volume amounting to 820,000 shares, the heaviest initial hour since last October.

Ticker Lags at Start.

Keen demand at the outset of trading, when blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares changed hands, forced the ticker three and four minutes behind, as leading issues climbed 1 to 3 points with a minimum of effort.

This advance was too rapid, according to observers, and professionals came in with offerings to keep the market within bounds. After that there were intermittent periods of buying and selling, with the former finding the upper hand to point the way higher.

Practically all divisions except the power and light shares participated in the upswing, with the number of issues traded swelling to 943, the largest since the move began. Of these, 555 closed higher, 197 lower, and 191 unchanged from preceding finals.

Railroad Stocks Strong.

Pronounced strength in the carrier group again was a feature of trading at one time. After netting fractions on opening deals, volume buying made its appearance and gains ran to more than 2 points. These gains were pared somewhat later, but the division closed on a strong note.

New York Central, which was traded in large blocks to become the most active issue of the day, gained a minor fraction. Other leaders were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, and Great Northern. Union Pacific registered a gain of 2¼ points.

Steel, motor, copper, and farm implement shares featured the advance in the industrials. United States Steel common, Bethlehem and Youngstown each gained more than one point in the steel group, and Chrysler and General Motors were outstanding in the automobile sector.

Metals Group Buoyant.

Boosts in the London and domestic scrap copper prices served to keep the metals group buoyant. Increases, however, were mostly of the fractional variety, with one of the leaders, International Nickel, slipping. Anaconda, Kennecott, Cerro de Pasco, and American Smelting worked higher.

Deere was well liked in the farm implements and advanced 2⅛ points on good buying. Similar gains appeared for Allis-Chalmers, International Harvester, J. I. Case, and Oliver Farm Equipment.

In the electric equipments, General Electric met good demand to gain nearly one point. Westinghouse rose 2¼ points. Public utility issues gave ground when selling developed and many leaders eased into the minus column.

Aviation shares closed mixed in a narrow range. Sporadic buying kept Douglas, Boeing, and North American Aviation in the plus column. Glenn Martin and United Aircraft dipped. Oils worked higher for the most part, with fractional increases the rule.

Relatively large gains were made by the chemical shares.

Edison's Issue of Debentures 96% Taken Up

Subscriptions totaling approximately $37,500,000 were received by the Commonwealth Edison company for its 3½ per cent convertible debentures, due 1958, the company stated yesterday. This was 96 per cent of the total of $39,113,600 offered to stockholders through warants. Subscriptions yesterday, the last day that the offer was effective, totaled $8,400,000.

The unsubscribed debentures, amounting to about $1,600,000, will be taken up at par by a group of seventy-seven underwriters headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co. The underwriters are to receive approximately 1.04 per cent as their commission for underwriting the issue and taking up the unsubscribed debentures. This amount added to the expenses in connection with the issue will make the cost of the money to the Edison company approximately 3.63 per cent.

Many Warants Lapse.

The preliminary figures indicated that approximately 320,000 warants were allowed to lapse. As each warant had a market value yesterday of 38 cents, this meant that more than $121,000 was lost to the stockholders.

The debentures, which are convertible into common stock on a basis of four shares for each $100 of debentures, were quoted yesterday at 107½. Proceeds from the sale of the debentures will be used in part to retire other debentures and to pay off bank loans.

The Shell Union Oil corporation has negotiated a deal with life insurance company interests that will give it $25,000,000 on a fifteen year loan. The terms were not disclosed. The company will use the funds for future development of its properties, plant additions, and other corporate purposes.

Week's Offerings Larger.

Security offerings this week showed a substantial gain over the preceding week. A compilation by Poor's Publishing company puts the total at $77,144,700, compared with $8,488,000 in the preceding week, and with $110,000,000 in the like 1937 week.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone company, subsidiary of American Telephone and Telegraph company, yesterday filed a registration statement covering $30,000,000 of first and refunding mortgage 3 per cent bonds, due July 1, 1936. Proceeds will be used to retire other issues and to reimburse the company's treasury for plant improvements.

WORK AND WAGES DROP IN ILLINOIS FOR 8TH MONTH

Employment and wage payments in Illinois declined in May for the eighth consecutive month, the state department of labor reported yesterday. The declines from the preceding month were the largest reported for any month this year except January.

The number of workers employed by the 6,738 firms reporting to the labor department declined 3.2 per cent in May, compared with April, and wages disbursed were off 2.9 per cent. The declines were contrary to the usual season trend. Records for the last fifteen years show that May employment on the average has equaled that of April and wage disbursements usually have increased during the month.

Compared with 1937, the department said, May employment was down 18.3 per cent, and pay rolls were off 24 per cent.

The data used in the department's compilation were for the period April 15 to May 15.

Court Hears Arguments in Timber Company Suit

Arguments for the Resources Corporation International on its motion to dismiss a motion by two stockholders to appoint a receiver for the company were begun yesterday before Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg. The stockholders obtained an injunction from Judge Feinberg tying up five bank accounts pending the disposition of an accounting suit brought by them against the corporation. The company, which was organized in 1931, was to sell timber cutting contracts on 2 million acres of Mexican lands.

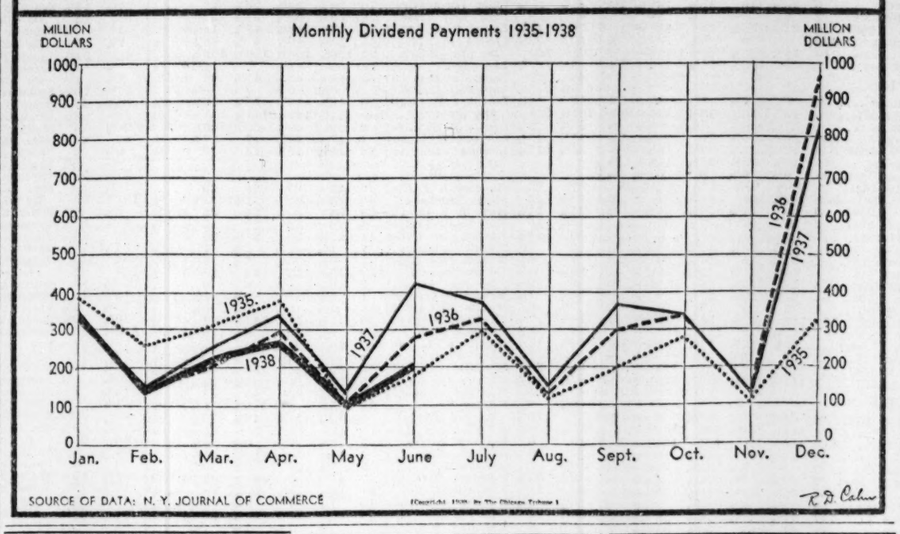
Monthly Dividend Payments by American Corporations



MORE BIG COMPANIES LIST SECURITIES ON CHICAGO EXCHANGE

Four additional companies whose stocks are listed on the New York Stock exchange yesterday accepted the invitation of the Chicago Stock exchange to list their securities without paying the usual listing fee, Arthur M. Betts, chairman, announced.

These were the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, Deere & Co., Acme Steel company, and Wayne Pump company, making a total of ten firms which have decided to list under the plan. Two of these, Container Corporation of America and Pressed Steel Car company, have already been listed.

"Judging from conversations we have had," Betts said, "favorable decisions of corporations of similar caliber are expected shortly."

In a letter to members yesterday, Betts urged that all odd lot orders in issues listed at both New York and Chicago be directed to the Chicago exchange.

Trading in Chicago in the twenty-eight dually listed issues that are on the optional odd lot basis, he pointed out, totaled $800,000 in the three days ended Thursday, and accounted for 14 per cent of the exchange volume.

JUDGE TO RULE JULY 19 ON OIL CONVICTION PLEA

Madison, Wis., June 24.—(AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone said today he would rule July 19 on motions by major oil companies and their officials to set aside a jury verdict of last January which found them guilty of illegally fixing midwestern gasoline prices in 1935 and 1936.

Judge Stone has had the motion under advisement for more than two months. They ask that the defendants either be freed or granted new trials. Sixteen companies and thirty individuals were convicted under the Sherman anti-trust act.

The statutes provide a maximum fine of $5,000 for corporations and a similar fine and a year in prison, or both, for individuals.

Last Parcel for S. Side Housing Project Acquired

Frederick Z. Marx, special attorney for the department of justice, yesterday secured title to the last parcel of real estate needed for the South Park Gardens, a Chicago housing authority project for colored families at 37th street and Cottage Grove avenue. William T. Brown was paid $2,100 for two lots on Eden avenue. The project is waiting action by the legislature to exempt it from taxes before the United States Housing authority will approve it.

Mexican Oil Lands.—7.

Principal recommendations made by the Mexican labor board in its award in the suit brought against foreign owned oil companies by the petroleum workers syndicate—the suit which ultimately resulted in government seizure of the companies' property—not mentioned yesterday were:

The companies were to pay half of the premiums of 4,000 peso life insurance policies on all permanent workers and were to provide pensions.

A forty hour week with pay for fifty-six hours was demanded, with vacations ranging from twenty-one working days to six weeks.

The companies were to contribute a sum equal to 10 per cent of employés wages toward a savings fund and were to furnish complete housing facilities or pay a housing allowance to workers.

To syndicate delegates in their employ the companies were to give free transportation to syndicate conventions and also were to pay full salary to such delegates, plus expenses, while they were attending such meetings.

Other terms included establishment of libraries, gymnasiums, and playgrounds, provision for free offices with electricity, water, telephone, etc., for syndicate locals, and a discount to syndicate members of 10 per cent under retail prices on all products of the companies.

American Car Profits Shrink in Fiscal Year

The abrupt drop in railroad buying in 1938 brought a decline in net income of the American Car and Foundry company for the fiscal year ended April 30, the company's annual report showed yesterday. Net profit amounted to $753,407, or $2.60 a preferred share, compared with $1,210,676, or $4.18 a share, in the preceding year.

Charles J. Hardy.

"Equipment buying, which was in fair volume in the early part of the fiscal year, appreciably lessened as the year advanced and practically ceased during the last quarter, Charles J. Hardy, president, told stockholders. "The reason for this is to be found in the conditions confronting the railroads. Their plight is still deplorable and heroic action is needed if they, and many industries dependent upon them, are to be restored to a state of even moderate prosperity."

Schulte Stores Loses.

Among companies issuing interim statements yesterday, Schulte Retail Stores, Inc., reported a net loss for the five months to May 31. Higher earnings for the twelve months ended May 31 were shown by Central Arizona Light and Power company, Sierra Pacific Power company, and the Portland Gas and Coke company.

National Power and Light company had a moderate decline in earnings for the three months ended April 30, but reported an increase for the twelve months to April 30. For the three months net decreased to $2,590,514 from $2,735,335, making the twelve months' net $10,315,715 against $9,158,286.

CHICAGO DEPARTMENT STORE SALES DECLINE 15½% FROM YEAR AGO

Chicago department store sales in the week ended June 18 were 15½ per cent less than in the corresponding period last year, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported last night. Sales for the seventh reserve district were down 16.4 per cent from last year, principally because of Detroit's showing a 24.8 per cent drop. Milwaukee sales were down 14.4 per cent, Indianapolis stores showed a 7.4 per cent decline, and other cities in the district reported declines of only 1½ per cent.

For the four weeks ended June 18 Chicago department store sales were off 15½ per cent, compared with 19.3 per cent for the district. Other percentage declines in the district for the four weeks: Detroit, 32.7; Milwaukee, 17.3; Indianapolis, 16½; other cities, 8.2.

In the United States as a whole the federal reserve board reported a decline of 10 per cent in department store sales during the week ended June 18 and a decline of 15 per cent for the four weeks ended June 18.

2 CLOSED BANKS REPAY $78,981 TO 6,000 DEPOSITORS

Repayment of $78,981 to the 6,000 depositors of the defunct Kaufman State and Universal State banks was announced yesterday by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett. Each return amounts to 7½ per cent of deposit liability.

Largest of the distributions was that of $54,719 to the 3,500 Universal State depositors who have received 37½ per cent of the money owed them. Two per cent of the current payment represented stock liability collections and 5½ per cent came from ordinary liquidation of assets. In addition to depositor payments, the receivership has disposed of $176,223 of bills owned before the bank closed, and $67,713 in preferred claims.

The Kaufman State payment to 2,500 depositors amounted to $24,262 and lifted returns to 60 per cent. Funds for the payment were obtained in ordinary liquidation.

Former Aid of Sec. Perkins Elected R. C. A. Official

New York, June 24.—(AP)—Edward F. McGrady, former assistant secretary of labor under Secretary Perkins, was elected a vice president of Radio Corporation of America, David Sarnoff, president, announced after a meeting of the board of directors today. McGrady joined R. C. A. in September, 1937, as director of labor relations, a newly created post.

RAIL SHIPMENTS EXPECTED TO DIP 19% IN QUARTER

Midwest Car Needs Put at 685,000.

Shipments by railroads in the district represented by the Mid-West Shippers Advisory board in the third quarter of this year will run about 19 per cent below the volume handled in the third quarter of 1937, the board predicted yesterday on a basis of information supplied by shippers and railroads in the territory.

The board estimated that shippers will need about 685,000 freight cars to take care of their needs during the third quarter. In that period of 1937 846,800 cars were actually loaded. Estimates made by the various shippers' advisory boards are rated among the best business indicators available. Rarely have the predictions been more than 2 or 3 per cent out of line with actual loadings.

Recent Activities Not Considered.

The recent upturn in the stock market and the advances in the prices of some commodities have not yet manifested a trend definite enough to be given much consideration in the third quarter estimates, the board said.

Despite the general decline, a few commodities are expected to show increases over last year. These, all products of farms, include grain, hay and straw, poultry, and dairy products, live stock, and potatoes.

Grain shipments, in gaining an estimated 25 per cent, are expected to be on a more nearly normal basis than a year ago. Although shipments of live stock are expected to show a gain of 30 per cent over the third quarter of last year, the movement is still below what was normal a few years ago.

Factors in Decline.

Factors causing the decline in live stock include diversion of rail trafic to trucks, unsatisfactory prices for live stock, and to some extent the smaller animal population on the farms resulting from reduction programs.

Shipments that are expected to be about even with 1937 third quarter loadings include mill products, sugar syrup and molasses, fertilizer, and canned food products.

The effects of the business recession are shown in the predictions on shipments of manufactured goods, most all of which are expected to make sharp declines compared with last year. The board late yesterday had received no estimate as to automobile and automobile shipments.

Estimated by Commodities.

The following table gives actual car loadings by commodities in the third quarter of 1937, estimated loadings for the third quarter of this year, and percentages of changes:

GRAIN STORAGE CHARGES ARE CUT BY ELEVATORS

Storage rates on grain in state and federally licensed public elevators in Chicago will be reduced one-tenth cent a bushel, effective July 1, it was announced yesterday by Harvey S. Austrian, president of Rosenbaum Bros., Inc.

The new rates will be at the rate of 1/30 cent a bushel a day, compared with the existing rate of 1/20 cent. At the same time the cost of unloading carlots of grain at public elevators will be reduced to 1 cent a bushel, compared with the existing charge of 1¼ cents.

The reduction in the storage rates on grain were made by Chicago elevator interests in an effort to attract cash grain to the local market and put it in a better position to compete with southwestern terminal markets.

Business Books

"American Foreign Relations," by John Mabry Mathews. [D. Appleton-Century company, New York. Price $4.]

The author, a professor of political science at the University of Illinois, discusses the principles and content of American foreign policies, and the organization of the American government for conducting foreign affairs. The book should be interesting reading for the business man who wants the fundamentals of an important subject.

"Annotations on Small Loan Laws," by F. B. Hubachek. [Russell Sage Foundation, New York. Price $3.]

This book is a treatment of judicial decisions involving the validity and interpretation of small loan laws. The author also discusses certain devices often used for evasion of usury laws.

Commodities Mount Again, Led by Metals

Advances in spot prices of lead, zinc, export copper, and steel scrap for the third consecutive day led another broad upswing in commodity markets yesterday. The general level of cash staples advanced sharply and most contracts for future delivery joined in the movement upward.

Lead was jumped 0.15 cent a pound to 4.50 cents, New York, and sellers reported a larger business done at this level than at the 4.35 cent price of Thursday. The 4.50 cent price was the highest since Feb. 10. Spot zinc was boosted yesterday 0.10 cent a pound to 4.50 cents, the highest level since March 9, and the demand for zinc continued firm.

Scrap Copper Advanced.

Customs smelters increased the price of scrap copper ⅛ cent a pound to 7½ cents, and export copper moved ahead to 9.35 cents, or 0.35 above the domestic price. Sales of domestic copper were reported to have equaled the 14,500,000 pounds on Thursday, and trade estimates placed the June volume of sales higher than in any month since last August.

Dow-Jones & Co. reported in a dispatch from Pittsburgh that quotations on No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap had been advanced 50 cents a ton to a $12 to $12.50 range, bringing the gain for the last ten days to $2 a ton.

In metal futures trading, copper contracts closed up 0.05 to 0.08 cent a pound, lead was 0.12 to 0.15 cent higher, and zinc finished unchanged to 0.02 cent higher. Tin forward contracts gained 0.50 to 0.70 cent, with the spot price of tin climbing 0.75 cent to 43 cents a pound.

Other Futures Higher.

Other future contracts which advanced were silk, hides, coffee, cocoa, sugar, and wool tops.

Rubber contracts gained 0.34 to 0.37 cent a pound, with the July contract finishing at 13.96 cents. The price of smoked ribbed spot rubber advanced 0.35 cent to 13.95 cents a pound.

Raw hides at New York finished 0.22 to 0.25 cent higher, and on the Chicago Mercantile exchange gained 0.15 to 0.23 cent a pound. Tanners were reported to have entered the spot hide market yesterday to make sizable purchases, with sales by packers running between 60,000 and 70,000 pounds.

The Dow-Jones index of commodity futures gained 0.47 yesterday to close at 49.17 [1924-'26 average equals 100]. The Associated Press index of 35 weighted wholesale cash staples advanced to 66.54 from 66.04 Thursday.

FREIGHT TRAFIC IS INCREASED BY NEW WHEAT RUN

Almost entirely because of a heavy movement of the new wheat crop, a gain of 1,715 cars, or 0.3 of 1 per cent, in total revenue freight loadings for the week ended June 18 was reported yesterday by the Association of American Railroads.

The only other gains from the week ended June 11 were slight improvements in shipments of coal, coke and forest products.

A total of 553,854 revenue freight cars was handled during the week. This represented a decrease of 197,218 cars, or 26.2 per cent, from loadings in the corresponding week of last year. The percentage drop was the same as that for the week ended June 11.

FLOOD CONTROL BILL HELD BLOW TO STATE RIGHTS

Woodstock, Vt., June 24.—(AP)—George D. Aiken, Republican governor of Vermont, tonight warned that presidential and judicial approval of the federal flood control bill would mean "the necessary step has been taken for a practical abolition of state government."

"The basic issue is neither power production nor flood control, but is one of maintaining a balance of power between state and federal government," he told the fifty-first quarterly meeting of the New England council. "The bill, as passed by congress, provides that the federal government may seize without consent the waters of any state under the pretext of flood control. The backers of this plan to centralize ownership and authority of resources very shrewdly capitalized on the animosity of the people as a whole toward utility companies."

He declared that Vermont would continue to fight "for our existence as a state and for the right of our people to be self-governing."

Quotations Slashed $2.50 to $11 a Ton.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

The sudden action yesterday by United States Steel corporation subsidiaries in cutting steel prices to the 1928 level, followed within a few hours by President Roosevelt's applauding "Big Steel" for that action, appeared last night to provide a major clew to the extraordinary upturn in stock prices which has been in progress since Monday morning.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Bonds.

New York, June 24.—[Special.]—Gains up to 5 points were recorded today by railroad bonds which have been rising steadily since Monday in what traders term one of the best movements in years. Transactions totaled $8,083,000, face value.

Other groups of the bond list failed to follow the lead o fthe carrier obligations, however. Government issues slumped on light demand, closing 1-32d to 15-32ds of a point lower.

The comparative thinness of the federal bond market was reflected by the small turnover of only $285,600, against sales of $549,000 on the preceding day.

The main body of foreign dollar bonds varied only slightly from their previous finals.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks yesterday extended their gains for the fifth consecutive day in the largest turnover of the year. Volume was 52,300 shares, exclusive of Commonwealth Edison rights, compared with 51,700 on Thursday.

Fifty-nine of the 103 issues traded yesterday advanced, eighteen declined, and twenty-six were unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

First National bank shares were the feature of Chicago bank stock trading yesterday for the second consecutive day. The stock spurted another $7 a share, making a total advance of $16 in the last two days. It was quoted yesterday at $190 bid, $194 asked. Continental Illinois National stock held unchanged after advancing earlier in the week. Chicago Title and Trust company stock extended its advance another $1 a share. Harris Trust gained back the $2 lost on Thursday, but City National and Northern Trust lost their respective $2 and $5 gains of Thursday.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Top grades of hogs retained the recent sharp advances yesterday in face of weakness in wholesale pork markets caused by sultry weather and consumer resistance to prices. Lightweights sold up to $9.35, equaling the highest mark since March 25. Best hogs have advanced almost steadily for the last seven weeks.

A 10 to 25 cents slump hit other hogs, however, most extremely heavy butchers and sows closing 25 cents under the preceding session. The break in big weights resulted in the widest range of prices since the middle of January, with the top and average 85 cents apart.

Steady rates prevailed for most other classes of live stock yesterday. Not enough cattle arrived to put prices to a test, however. Only 500 cattle were on the market, and none of choice quality.

Buyers competed briskly for the meager supply of sheep and lambs on sale. Prices were fully steady.

COTTON

Cotton futures advanced .01c to .09c a lb yesterday in the heaviest trading in several weeks. Large amounts of trade buying of July contracts in New York reflected heavy sales of textiles. Reports indicated that as much as 150,000,000 yards of print cloths, sheetings, and other cloth has been sold during the last week. Large industrial users were said to have been in the market yesterday.

Spot cotton closed .05c to .06c higher, with New Orleans, 8.83c; New York, 8.82c; Houston, 8.70c, and Galveston, 8.65c a lb. Prices follow:

MOHR HOTEL FEE REQUESTS ARE CUT TO $73,375

More than $200,000 Had Been Asked of Court.

Special Master in Chancery Jacob I. Grossman yesterday recommended to Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson the payment of $73,375 of fees in connection with the reorganization of the Mohr Hotel company, operators of the Morrison hotel. Requests for fees of more than $200,000 were filed with the court.

The reorganization proceedings, which were instituted June 21, 1934, were completed recently with discharge of the new company from court control.

Asks More for Trustees.

Grossman recommended the payment of $1,600 additional compensation to each of the two trustees, James B. McCahey and Thurlow G. Essington. The trustees previously had been allowed $16,500 each for services up to Dec. 31, 1936. Glenn, Real & Browning, counsel for the trustees, who had received previous compensation of $32,500, asked an additional $10,000, of which Gross recommended $5,650 be granted.

Campbell, Clithero & Fisher, counsel for the company, who had asked $15,270 compensation in addition to $3,075 already received, were awarded $8,470.

Other Fees Are Listed.

Other fees requested and the amounts allowed, in the order named, follow: Bondholders' committee, $3,301, allowed in full; Chapman & Cutler, attorney for committee, $35,450 and $27,050; Shulman, Shulman & Abrams, attorneys for intervening bondholders, $37,515 and $11,153; Scott, MacLeish & Falk, special real estate tax counsel for trustees, $1,500, allowed in full; William J. Froelich, special income tax counsel for trustee, $4,500 and $3,700; Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, mortgage trustee, $300, allowed in full; First National bank, depository for bonds, $17,746 and $10,650.

because of "increased production facilities and greater diversification of products in the Chicago district." The action gives Chicago equal rank with Pittsburgh, which has long been termed the steel capital of America. Hitherto, Chicago prices were $1 to $2 a ton higher for steel products.

Whether the price reductions will be followed by a reduction in the wages of steel workers is a matter for conjecture. Officials of steel companies during the last few months repeatedly have said that prices could not be reduced while wage and other costs continued at the present high levels.

Executives of the Carnegie-Illinois company made no statement on the wage situation. However, John L. Lewis, president of the C. I. O., and his lieutenant, Philip Murray, head of the C. I. O. steel workers' union, have been in New York this week, where the top executives of United States Steel have their offices. United States Steel has an agreement with the C. I. O. union in effect, but it provides that wage and other problems may be brought up for discussion on short notice.

Lewis refused to reply when asked about a possible wage cut yesterday. Murray said earlier this week that a wage reduction was not contemplated so far as the steel workers' union was concerned.

CARTEL EXTENDS QUOTAS.

BRUSSELS, June 24.—(AP)—Representatives of the international steel cartel extended their agreement and quotas to Dec. 31, 1940, today. Present prices are to be maintained "with readjustments rendered necessary by circumstances."

U. S. AGENCY WILL NOT BUY BUTTER IF PRICES HOLD

John Brandt, head of the Dairy Products Marketing association, federally financed agency to stabilize the butter market, announced yesterday in Chicago that the association did not anticipate further buying as long as present prices are maintained. No buying was done by the association in Chicago yesterday.

Butter futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange pushed forward yesterday for gains ranging up to ⅜ cent a pound, and cash quotations gained ¼ to ½ cent a pound. October eggs finished ⅛ cent a dozen higher at 23¾ cents yesterday, and cash eggs were unchanged.

Week's Auto Production Declines to 40,918 Cars

Cuba Authorizes Coinage of 20 Million Silver Pesos

HAVANA, June 24.—(AP)—President Federico Laredo Bru today signed a bill authorizing coinage of 20,000,000 silver pesos. The peso is worth 99.9 cents.

Belden Mfg.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me information on the Belden Manufacturing company, listed on the Chicago board?—C. G.

Answer: The Belden Manufacturing company is engaged in the manufacture of insulated copper wire, cables, and cordage which are used by a wide variety of industries. About 20 per cent of total sales are made to the automobile industry, and the remainder go principally to makers of radio sets, motors, dynamos, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, X-ray apparatus, and other electrical products.

The company was incorporated in Illinois in 1902. Its plants are located in Chicago and at Richmond, Ind. The sales organization is centralized in the Chicago office. Approximately 80 per cent of the company's products are sold direct to manufacturers and the other 20 per cent is distributed through jobbers.

Principal raw materials used are copper, rubber, cotton, silk, and rayon. Fluctuations in the price of copper greatly affect the company's gross profit margin and also affect inventory values.

Belden Manufacturing has suffered greatly from the current business depression, sales in the first quarter of this year dropping to $840,490 from $1,634,135 in the first three months of 1937. The company had a net loss of $53,510 for the quarter, against net income of $154,150, or 69 cents a share, in the first quarter of last year.

Sales during all of 1937 were second only to 1929 sales, but net income fell below 1936, partly the result of inventory losses due to the sharp drop in commodity prices. Earnings in recent years:

1936	5,227,510	506,785	2.71
1935	4,177,821	341,069	1.83
1934	3,592,024	180,835	.97
1933	2,956,922	210,520	1.13
1932	1,997,137	*231,044	*1.24

Capitalization consists solely of 241,547 shares of $10 par capital stock outstanding. The shares were split 10 for 1 in 1936, and the par value reduced from $100.

Four quarterly dividends of 15 cents each and a year-end extra of $1.20 were paid during 1937. A payment of 15 cents was made Feb. 15, 1938, but directors reduced the May 16 dividend to 5 cents.

STUDEBAKER'S SENSATIONAL MONEY SAVING OPPORTUNITY

NO FINANCE CHARGE AND NO INTEREST

FOR EIGHT MONTHS.

There is no catch to this proposition. There is no finance charge and no interest for 8 months of any time payment deal. Only because Studebaker handles all their own finance deals, are they able to offer to their customers such a money-saving opportunity. And remember, the entire deal is in Studebaker's hands from start to finish—no outside finance company to deal with—no embarrassing questions from strangers. It's a secret between you and Studebaker.
